FLIGHT TO FREEDOM HIS FIRST LESSON

LUEBECK, West Germany (Reuter) — A 23-year-old East German aircraft mechanic, who never had a flying lesson, flew himself and his family to West Germany in a single-engined aircraft, police reported Sunday.

The refugee bundled his wife and four-year-old son into the crop-spraying aircraft he used to service and took off Saturday from an East German airfield some 20 miles east of Luebeck, police said.

The plane was reported slightly damaged in what they described as "a bit of a rough touchdown."

MP Recall Within Hours, Rail Strikers Defiant

Times News Services

OTTAWA — Prime Minister Trudeau promised early this afternoon Parliament would be recalled within hours if last-minute attempts to settle the national rail strike don't work.

His announcement came amid indications that striking union members won't obey if Parliament orders them back to work.

"The days of legislating us back to work are over," Marshall Hill, co-chairman of the joint committee of CP Rail and Canadian National Railway workers in Vancouver said.

"That's not the answer anymore."

Nick Zapantis, the other chairman, said the Associated Non-Operating Railway Unions is planning a mass meeting of members at the University of B.C. to discuss any settlement order from Parliament if the cabinet decides on this course of action.

"It is up to the members but I don't think they will go back if they believe the settlement is inferior," Zapantis said. "The only way there can be a settlement is for the government to be generous."

Trudeau's announcement followed a two-hour cabinet meeting.

"The parties still have something on the table," he told reporters, "but I have authority, in consultation with the minister of labor, to call Parliament if it doesn't work out in the next several hours."

Asked whether Parliament would be recalled before the end of the day, he said he had "a bit of flexibility on that but I've a deadine in my own mind and so has (Labor Minister John) Munro."

Trudeau said the question of federal subsidies to enable the 11 railway companies to meet the demands of the 56,000 striking non-operating railway workers was not even considered by the cabinet.

"The question of subsidies is not being discussed by us. It is a matter for the parties to arrive at an arrangement."

He said the government was still hopeful an agreement could be reached but "if this doesn't work, then I will call Parliament."

Trudeau indefinitely postponed his trip to the Arctic, which had been scheduled to begin today.

The government was faced with the last resort of recalling Parliament after the railways failed to reach agreement during the weekend on a basis of reopening negotiations with the strikeing 56,000-member Associated Unions of Non-Operating Railway Employees.

Munro had said earlier he would recommend recall of Parliament if no progress towards talks was made by the end of the week.

This morning Munro also asked union leaders to stand by for him to call them.

About 60 leaders of the non-operating railway workers from across the country were to hold a meeting at mid-morning, but after Munro's call they changed their plans. They now are expected to meet by mid-afternoon.

A union spokesman said there was no progress to report in the stalled contract talks.

The unions rejected company offers Sunday to find a settlement based on conciliation board recommendations.

In a letter to the unions, executives of CN and CP Rail invited union representatives to meet with them to find "a full and final settlement" based on recommendations from Mr. Justice F. Craig Munroe, chairman of the conciliation board.

Mr. Justice Munroe's proposals include pay increases of 17.8 per cent in three stages of a two-year contract.

Richard Smith, the unions' chief negotiator, while rejecting the companies' offers, said the unions were still willing to hold direct negotiations to solve the dispute.

APARTHEID KILLS BOY

Times News Services

JOHANNESBURG — Apartheid claimed a human sacrifice Sunday when a white youth bled to death because the wrong ambulance—labelled for blacks only—arrived at the scene of a traffic accident.

Businessman Mannie Kaufman said a traffic officer refused to allow his son to be taken to hospital in the ambulance. By the time a second ambulance, labelled for whites only, arrived at the scene, it was too late, and the boy died on the way to hospital. Kaufman said doctors told him the boy had bled to death, and had he reached the hospital sooner, he would have had a chance.

"This was tantamount to offering my son as a sacrifice to apartheid."

In Cape Town, apartheid is now embracing dogs and cats. The government has ruled that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals may offer boarding facilities to the pets of whites only while the owners are on holiday.

Long-distance cyclists Tony, Cameron and Richard

By KIT COLLINS
Times Staff

Armed with 30 extra spokes, a couple of extra pedals and 65 pounds of camping gear, every 14-year-old can do it.

Time is a necessity, too — for it took two months, two weeks and two days for Cameron Jackson and Tony Stipkala, both 14, to cycle 3,600 miles from Cornwallis, N.S., to Victoria.

They arrived Saturday.

"We had a mechanical advantage — 10 gears," said Cameron's older brother Richard, 18, who made up the third of the Victoria-bound trio.

There wasn't one complaint of a sore leg muscle.

It wasn't the fastest way to travel 'cross-country, but according to the youths, it's by far the best.

Planning for the trip began last February when the trio learned their fathers, Cpt. W. A. Jackson and Cpt. A. P. Stipkala, both stationed at CFB Cornwallis, had been transferred to Victoria.

If there was a move they wanted to do it their way.

After two weekend practice trips when the list of necessities was chopped to about 65 pounds of gear, the youths set off June 23 astride two wheels each and pedalled all day, most days until they arrived.

Their parents, who travelled by car, beat them to Victoria, but not by much, the boys hastened to point out.

"The only thing we really needed a lot of along the way was spokes — you'd be surprised, every time you hit a rock you break one," said Richard.

The best part of the trip was the scenery; the worst — rain in Northern Ontario; the hardest — the stretch from Cache Creek to Hope, "where the road goes slowly up and slowly down for miles and miles.

"We even didn't mind the Rockies as much as that."

The Prairies were cause for comment, too: "They were boring, we cycled through them at night."

High points were meeting other cycle enthusiasts along the way. "We met Wally Watts, the unicyclist who's going to Halifax from Vancouver.

They met a pedestrian also — Bob McGuiness who's making the cross-country trip.

Asked if she was worried about her son's trip, Mrs. Jackson said not at all. "There wasn't one parental finger in one of the plans.

"I'm sure the best thing about the trip was making it without parents in their hair."

The boys nodded in guarded agreement.

2nd Ship Seized

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Greenpeace Foundation spokesman in Vancouver said today the anti-nuclear protest vessel Spirit of Peace has been arrested near Mururoa Atoll by French military personnel.

Greenpeace spokesman Rod Marining said foundation director Kurt Hown was on board the vessel.

He said the foundation has received word from New Zealand that the Spirit of Peace has been illegally seized in international waters in the Mururoa nuclear test zone. He said the boat was out of radio contact at the time and the fate of the crew is not known.

Marining said that "in view of the way the Greenpeace III crew was treated, we are extremely concerned about the safety of the Spirit of Peace's crew."

He also said that an officer of the Canadian external affairs department arrived in Papeete, Tahiti, Sunday and shortly thereafter, David McTaggart of Vancouver, the skipper of the Greenpeace III, was released from French military hospital. The Canadian skipper had been held under armed guard in Papeete for over a week.

A report from Vancouver eye specialist Dr. Robin McCreery indicated that the condition of McTaggart's right eye is serious and surgery may be required, Marining said. The skipper was injured in a scuffle with French sailors boarding the Greenpeace.

He said that every effort is being made to return the skipper to Vancouver as soon as possible.

Marining said Greenpeace III navigator Nigel Ingram of England will be undergoing extensive medical examination in Vancouver today. He said that an initial examination Saturday revealed that Ingram has sustained some injury to his spine, specifically to the cervical vertabrae.

Ingram said here Friday the vessel was in international waters off Mururoa atoll where the French were preparing a nuclear blast when the sailors seized the ship, McTaggart, Ingram and two women crew members from New Zealand.

Ingram said he was beaten, one of the women said they were both beaten and McTaggart has said sailors beat him with truncheons.

French embassy officials in Ottawa, however, have said McTaggart was not beaten, but injured himself as he tried to throw two French sailors overboard.

U.S. PRIME LOAN RATE RISES AGAIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Three of the United States' bigger banks announced today that they were increasing their prime lending rate to 9¾ per cent from 9½ per cent.

New York's Chase Manhattan Bank, the country's third largest, initiated the move, and then Chicago's Continental Illinois Bank and Trust, the ninth largest, and Franklin National Bank of New York, 20th in size, followed shortly thereafter.

In San Francisco, the Bank of America, the world's biggest commercial bank, said it was delaying a decision whether to increase its prime rate from 9½.

If the rise becomes industry-wide, as most observers expect, it would mark the 15th time this year that American banks have lifted the minimum lending rate they charge their most creditworthy corporate customers.

NOBODY HELPED

TORONTO (CP) — An 18-year-old was raped early Sunday and police said people sat on their front porches as she was dragged 300 yards down a street to a parking lot.

Inspector Gordon Mugford said several cars detoured around the struggling couple and said the police department is shocked that no one offered to help.

The girl was walking home from a bus stop after midnight when she was attacked by a youth who held a knife to her throat. He dragged her into the parking lot behind some apartment buildings, where she was raped.

Supply Roads Cut

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Communist insurgents severed the last supply road into Phnom Penh Sunday in the biggest outbreak of fighting since the end of U.S. bombing 11 days ago.

Government troops claimed 200 of the enemy killed in fighting 17 miles south of the capital.

Even as the insurgents exerted heavy pressure on the capital today a top Cambodian official appealed to Prince Norodom Sihanouk to be a "good prince" and end his fight to regain power.

Field reports said the rebels captured the town of Sethbo, 10 miles south of the capital, severed Highway 4 and surrounded a nearby 122-man government garrison at Phum Sala Krours on the outskirts of the capital.

The highway is Phnom Penh's only overland link with the deepwater port of Kompong Som on Cambodia's southern coast. Since it was cut further south during the weekend, rebels now control it at two points.

Highway 5, the road to the country's rice capital at Battambang, also is under rebel control, and so Phnom Penh's only existing supply line is the Mekong River running southeast into South Vietnam.

The increase of Communist activity followed the claim 24 hours ago by the Cambodian high command of its largest post-bombing victory. In that victory the command said government soldiers artillery and a single T-28 fighter-bomber killed 200 rebel troops in an area 17½ miles south of Phnom Penh on Saturday.

U.K. Embassy Mail Bombed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A letter bomb exploded in the British embassy today, maiming a 51-year-old woman employee who was opening the mail.

Nora Murray, a personal assistant to a senior embassy officer, was taken to George Washington University Hospital where a spokesman said she lost her left hand and her right hand was severely injured. She was described as "in serious condition but satisfactory."

The explosion occurred shortly after 9 a.m. and came on the heels of an intensified terror bomb campaign in Britain by the Irish Republican Army.

Officials said the mail had arrived during the weekend and early today.

The U.S. postal service joined Washington police in investigating the embassy blast, which slightly damaged the sixth floor where it occurred.

Meanwhile, Britain enforced tight security measures today at seaports, rail terminals and public buildings in an effort to halt the IRA bomb campaign.

Police even appealed to holiday picnickers to clean up litter left by their annual three-day August bank holiday weekend for fear it could be used to hide more bombs. They also asked the public to report immediately any parcels or shopping bags left unattended in suspicious circumstances.

NEWS BRIEFS

M-B Workers Out

PORT ALBERNI — Close to 700 workers at the McMillan Bloedel plywood mill here didn't show up for work today in a protest over a company wage rate offer.

Projects Tied Up

CALGARY (CP) — Striking plumbers tied up more than $100 million in building projects today when they set up pickets at six locations around the city and other unions refused to cross lines.

Mission Half Way

HOUSTON (AP) — The Skylab 2 mission today passed the halfway point of its 59-day trek in space with a healthy crew and a smoothly humming space station.

Gunfire Exchanged

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli and Arab forces exchanged fire today along the ceasefire line in the Israeli-occupied Golan Heights of Syria, the military command here announced.

Gustaf Unconscious

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — King Gustaf was reported unconscious and in critical condition today and his chief personal physician said the 90-year-old monarch may have suffered new internal hemorrhaging.

Five Cons Flee

ABBOTSFORD, B.C. (CP) — Five prisoners, including a convicted murderer, escaped from Matsqui medium security prison today by driving a car they stole from the prison auto body shop through the main gate in a fusillade of shotgun blasts. No one was injured in the escape.

COLOMBIA AIR CRASH KILLS 40

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — A Colombian turboprop airliner crashed three minutes after takeoff from El Dorado international airport today and exploded, killing all 40 persons aboard.

The plane crashed into a hillside on the city's outskirts in dense fog. The four-motored craft, a Lockheed Electra, was operated by the Colombian Aerocondor Airline. It was on a flight to the neighboring Dutch island of Curacao.

U.S. 'Hosed' on Air Routes

Times News Services

WASHINGTON — Canada apparently has won its long and bitter battle with the United States for new cross-border air routes and in return has agreed not to end customs pre-clearance.

One authority has been quoted as saying "the U.S. has taken a real hosing."

There has been no official word of a settlement. In fact, talks have been so secret that no Canadian source would even admit they were going on.

However, it is known that officials of the Canadian embassy met here for four days last week with officials of the U.S. state, commerce and transportation departments, preparing the way for the 12th round of formal negotiations scheduled to begin here Sept. 4.

Unofficial reports out of the meetings state that the problem of pre-clearance of passengers may be solved and "indications are we will have a satisfactory route agreement."

The Canadian government had threatened to end pre-clearance — moving U.S.-bound passengers through customs at the point of embarkation — by Sept. 10 unless the two countries reached agreement on new air routes.

At present, pre-clearance is conducted only at Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto and Montreal in Canada, with no such facilities in the U.S.

U.S. officials have been bitter over the Canadian stand on pre-clearance, termination of which, they say, could cost U.S. airlines up to $6 million a year in lost revenue.

So highly is pre-clearance valued in the U.S., that—reports state—U.S. negotiators have been reluctantly willing to trade off air routes to Canadian airlines for an agreement which would expand preclearance to other Canadian cities and set up a similar system in the U.S. for the first time.

Calgary, served primarily by U.S. airlines, may be in line for new all-Canadian service to West Coast U.S. cities, plus routes to the Midwest and New York.

Winnipeg has U.S. service to Minnesota and Chicago, and unofficial reports state she may receive Canadian routes to both areas plus routes to North Dakota.

Still under discussion, U.S. spokesmen state, are routes Toronto-San Francisco, Toronto-Houston-Dallas, Calgary-Dallas-Houston, Toronto-Denver-Las Vegas, Toronto-St. Louis and Montreal-San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Layoffs Mount From Rail Strike

Layoffs began to multiply in Victoria and across Canada today as the effects of the rail strike spread.

In Toronto the president of the Canadian Industrial Traffic League warned that as many as 100,000 workers may be laid off within a week if the strike is not settled quickly.

A. A. Landry said most large manufacturers are already having problems getting supplies and moving the finished products.

Greater Victoria Chamber of Commerce manager Brian Small estimated that 16,000 of this area's 65,000 workers were in vulnerable occupations — although the number of layoffs probably would be far less than that.

Robert Barron, manager of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association's transport department, said in Toronto heavy industry was already in difficulties because of the rail strike.

Joe Goodman, general manager of the Automotive Transport Association, said about 150 trucks were on the roads in Ontario Sulnday, in accordance with the Lord's Day Act which permits Sunday trucking in cases of necessity or mercy.

In Oshawa, General Motors was concerned that it may have to close down its component parts factories, laying off 20,000 workers.

At present it has laid off 8,000 at Oshawa and 1,680 at Ste. Therese, Quebec, because of the strike.

Johnston Terminals Victoria manager Charles Ruttan said the number of workers at his trucking firm had been temporarily reduced from 90 to 60 because of the rail strike and by week's end the number of layoffs could total 70.

Capital Freightways, which employs 25, expected to reduce staff to five or six when present supplies were gone, if the strike is not settled.

A. W. Brent, Victoria manager of The Bay, said department stores have orders for fall merchandise somewhere in the transportation system that are not being delivered.

There was no immediate shortage of goods and no plans to lay off staff but supplies would soon dwindle if the rail strike lasts for an extended period.

Ken Murphy, president of the Greater Victoria Chamber of Commerce, said the situation would get "very grim" in Victoria unless the strike is settled quickly.

He said the chamber favors compulsory arbitration in the transportation industry. He hoped Parliament would end the strike and impose a settlement.

Meanwhile, at Duncan, Buckerfields Ltd. has started to ration the amount of feed it will sell its customers.

LOCAL BUYERS GRAB OGDEN POINT GRAIN

Victoria Elevator Ltd. is releasing about 4,500 bushels of Ogden Point grain to local buyers instead of exporting it as planned.

Export price is $5 per bushel and domestic price about $3.80.

Borden Mercantile Co. Ltd. bought 400 bushels of lowest quality wheat at $6.06 per bushel and was considering further orders but said the price was unfairly high.

Buckerfields Ltd. also expressed interest in buying wheat. Local supplies are almost gone because of the rail strike.

ways replied Sunday there was "little purpose in further negotiations" because of the unions' "rigid and unchanging position."

Wages remain the major obstacle to settlement in the dispute which began July 26 with the staging of regional, rotating walkouts.

The unions, citing inflation and rising food prices, want a 10.8 per cent pay increase, or a 38-cent hourly increase, in each year of a two-year contract.

Non-ops, who include clerks, signalmen, porters, freight handlers and others, currently earn an average hourly wage of $3.54.

The last public offer by the 11 railways was a seven per cent pay increase in the first year of a two-year contract with 6.5 per cent in the second year.

You don't tell jokes about people who are opening their homes and cupboards for you, who are organizing dances for the adults and variety shows for the kids.

If there's one thing the tourists will remember about their forced stay in this rocky little community, it will be the hospitality of the people.

There were 1,500 vacationers in the town Sunday night, helpless victims of the rail strike that has cut ferry service between Newfoundland and the mainland. Many of them expressed surprise and gratitude at the efforts made to make their stay comfortable and enjoyable as they waited for ferries to get them back to homes and jobs.

People have opened their homes and invited tourists to stay. The local Lions Club has transformed a community centre into a temporary hostel.

The local detachment of six RCMP officers, two auxiliary policemen and civilian volunteers worked to find adequate camping sites for families with tents.

On the road to the ferry dock is a line of cars three miles long, but nobody is being forced to sleep in their vehicles.

The Lions Club has sponsored a giant kitchen to feed anyone who is hungry. They also have organized dances and entertainment in the community hall.

B.C. Housing 'Bad to Worse'

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) — Premier Dave Barrett conceded today that the housing situation has gone from "bad to terrible" in British Columbia during his New Democratic Party administration's first year in office, "and is going to get worse."

The premier said in a telephone interview from Victoria with radio station CKNW that his government plans to make some definite moves in the field of housing in his 1974-75 budget next spring. Barrett did not elaborate.

Meanwhile, the provincial government has announced its intention to open up more provincial land for housing development, this time up to 35 lots in Williams Lake, through a land-lease program.

Minister responsible for housing, Lorne Nicolson, made the announcement today. Fifty-three of the lots are being readied for leasing this fall.

Under the land-lease program, lots will be leased to individuals for a period of 60 years. Costs of servicing the lots are to be borne by the provincial government.

The land being freed for housing development was acquired from the B.C. Railway through the Housing Incentive Fund Act, Nicolson said.

Nicolson said similar land-lease programs for provincial crown land are taking place in Chetwynd, Squamish, Kamloops and a number of other interior cities.

Jobs, Incomes Booming: King

Employment opportunities in B.C. are on the way up with the province enjoying a good year in 1973, Labor Minister Bill King said today.

In the annual Labor Day message from the minister of labor, King said average weekly earnings, rate of productivity and employment rates have all gone up from 1972 levels.

The average B.C. worker received $178.75 per week in figures for up to May of 1973, King said, an increase of 10.8 per cent or $17.47 for May of 1972.

Average earnings in B.C. continued to be the highest in Canada. The average Canadian wage and salary earner received $160.32 per week in May of this year.

King said the average monthly total of persons employed stood at 926,000 in the first seven months of 1973. This was an increase of 5.6 per cent or 49,000 persons over the same period of 1972, he said.

A record high level for the provincial labor force was reached in July of this year, with 1,045,000 persons employed, he said.

The labor minister said 1973 has been a year of "intensive study and analysis of existing legislation and departmental functions."

"On the basis of representations which have been made, significant improvements are planned for the session commencing Sept. 13,00 he said.

the weather

Blue River recorded more than four fifths of an inch of rain in the six-hour period ending at 11 p.m. Sunday in thundershowers which developed in the wake of a weak Pacific cold front. Skies were generally clear over the interior of the Province early this morning but showers lingered in the Williams Lake area. Patchy cloudiness persisted along the inner south coast while the north coast was mainly cloudy in advance of the next Pacific disturbance. This system will reach the northern mainland this evening and it will weaken as it crosses the south coast and Cariboo early Tuesday. Scattered showers will mark the passage of this front while partial clearing will occur in its wake. The next system in the series will spread rain over the north coast Tuesday evening.

Layoffs Mount From Rail Strike

Layoffs began to multiply in Victoria and across Canada today as the effects of the rail strike spread.

In Toronto the president of the Canadian Industrial Traffic League warned that as many as 100,000 workers may be laid off within a week if the strike is not settled quickly.

A. A. Landry said most large manufacturers are already having problems getting supplies and moving the finished products.

Greater Victoria Chamber of Commerce manager Brian Small estimated that 16,000 of this area's 65,000 workers were in vulnerable occupations — although the number of layoffs probably would be far less than that.

Robert Barron, manager of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association's transport department, said in Toronto heavy industry was already in difficulties because of the rail strike.

Joe Goodman, general manager of the Automotive Transport Association, said about 150 trucks were on the roads in Ontario Sulnday, in accordance with the Lord's Day Act which permits Sunday trucking in cases of necessity or mercy.

In Oshawa, General Motors was concerned that it may have to close down its component parts factories, laying off 20,000 workers.

At present it has laid off 8,000 at Oshawa and 1,680 at Ste. Therese, Quebec, because of the strike.

Johnston Terminals Victoria manager Charles Ruttan said the number of workers at his trucking firm had been temporarily reduced from 90 to 60 because of the rail strike and by week's end the number of layoffs could total 70.

Capital Freightways, which employs 25, expected to reduce staff to five or six when present supplies were gone, if the strike is not settled,

A. W. Brent, Victoria manager of The Bay, said department stores have orders for fall merchandise somewhere in the transportation system that are not being delivered.

There was no immediate shortage of goods and no plans to lay off staff but supplies would soon dwindle if the rail strike lasts for an extended period.

Ken Murphy, president of the Greater Victoria Chamber of Commerce, said the situation would get "very grim" in Victoria unless the strike is settled quickly.

He said the chamber favors compulsory arbitration in the transportation industry. He hoped Parliament would end the strike and impose a settlement.

Meanwhile, at Duncan, Buckerfields Ltd. has started to ration the amount of feed it will sell its customers.

LOCAL BUYERS GRAB OGDEN POINT GRAIN

Victoria Elevator Ltd. is releasing about 4,500 bushels of Ogden Point grain to local buyers instead of exporting it as planned.

Export price is $5 per bushel and domestic price about $3.80.

Borden Mercantile Co. Ltd. bought 400 bushels of lowest quality wheat at $6.06 per bushel and was considering further orders but said the price was unfairly high.

Buckerfields Ltd. also expressed interest in buying wheat. Local supplies are almost gone because of the rail strike.

B.C. Housing 'Bad to Worse'

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) — Premier Dave Barrett conceded today that the housing situation has gone from "bad to terrible" in British Columbia during his New Democratic Party administration's first year in office, "and is going to get worse."

The premier said in a telephone interview from Victoria with radio station CKNW that his government plans to make some definite moves in the field of housing in his 1974-75 budget next spring. Barrett did not elaborate.

Meanwhile, the provincial government has announced its intention to open up more provincial land for housing development, this time up to 35 lots in Williams Lake, through a land-lease program.

Minister responsible for housing, Lorne Nicolson, made the announcement today. Fifty-three of the lots are being readied for leasing this fall.

Under the land-lease program, lots will be leased to individuals for a period of 60 years. Costs of servicing the lots are to be borne by the provincial government.

The land being freed for housing development was acquired from the B.C. Railway through the Housing Incentive Fund Act, Nicolson said.

Nicolson said similar land-lease programs for provincial crown land are taking place in Chetwynd, Squamish, Kamloops and a number of other interior cities.

Jobs, Incomes Booming: King

Employment opportunities in B.C. are on the way up with the province enjoying a good year in 1973, Labor Minister Bill King said today.

In the annual Labor Day message from the minister of labor, King said average weekly earnings, rate of productivity and employment rates have all gone up from 1972 levels.

The average B.C. worker received $178.75 per week in figures for up to May of 1973, King said, an increase of 10.8 per cent or $17.47 for May of 1972.

Average earnings in B.C. continued to be the highest in Canada. The average Canadian wage and salary earner received $160.32 per week in May of this year.

King said the average monthly total of persons employed stood at 926,000 in the first seven months of 1973. This was an increase of 5.6 per cent or 49,000 persons over the same period of 1972, he said.

A record high level for the provincial labor force was reached in July of this year, with 1,045,000 persons employed, he said.

The labor minister said 1973 has been a year of "intensive study and analysis of existing legislation and departmental functions."

"On the basis of representations which have been made, significant improvements are planned for the session commencing Sept. 13,00 he said.

ways replied Sunday there was "little purpose in further negotiations" because of the unions' "rigid and unchanging position."

Wages remain the major obstacle to settlement in the dispute which began July 26 with the staging of regional, rotating walkouts.

The unions, citing inflation and rising food prices, want a 10.8 per cent pay increase, or a 38-cent hourly increase, in each year of a two-year contract.

Non-ops, who include clerks, signalmen, porters, freight handlers and others, currently earn an average hourly wage of $3.54.

The last public offer by the 11 railways was a seven per cent pay increase in the first year of a two-year contract with 6.5 per cent in the second year.

You don't tell jokes about people who are opening their homes and cupboards for you, who are organizing dances for the adults and variety shows for the kids.

If there's one thing the tourists will remember about their forced stay in this rocky little community, it will be the hospitality of the people.

There were 1,500 vacationers in the town Sunday night, helpless victims of the rail strike that has cut ferry service between Newfoundland and the mainland. Many of them expressed surprise and gratitude at the efforts made to make their stay comfortable and enjoyable as they waited for ferries to get them back to homes and jobs.

People have opened their homes and invited tourists to stay. The local Lions Club has transformed a community centre into a temporary hostel.

The local detachment of six RCMP officers, two auxiliary policemen and civilian volunteers worked to find adequate camping sites for families with tents.

On the road to the ferry dock is a line of cars three miles long, but nobody is being forced to sleep in their vehicles.

The Lions Club has sponsored a giant kitchen to feed anyone who is hungry. They also have organized dances and entertainment in the community hall.

the weather

Blue River recorded more than four fifths of an inch of rain in the six-hour period ending at 11 p.m. Sunday in thundershowers which developed in the wake of a weak Pacific cold front. Skies were generally clear over the interior of the Province early this morning but showers lingered in the Williams Lake area. Patchy cloudiness persisted along the inner south coast while the north coast was mainly cloudy in advance of the next Pacific disturbance. This system will reach the northern mainland this evening and it will weaken as it crosses the south coast and Cariboo early Tuesday. Scattered showers will mark the passage of this front while partial clearing will occur in its wake. The next system in the series will spread rain over the north coast Tuesday evening.

GUNMAN FOILS GASSING PLAN

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Police today abandoned a plan to use knockout gas against a gunman and his convict companion barricaded since Friday in a 40 by 10-foot bank vault with four hostages when the desperado told them the hostages would all hang if gas was pumped into the vault.

Stockholm Police Chief Kurt Lindroth said he had made arrangements to pump gas through three holes in the two-foot-thick roof of the vault but "postponed" the action when the hostages — one male and three female bank employees in their 20s — "begged us to save their lives. They were in utter despair."

Confused reports from the bank Saturday when police broke through to the vault led Stockholm officials to believe the gunman had been captured.

The gunman was identified as Jan-Erik Olsson, 32, and his convict friend as Clark Olofsson, 26, both with long criminal records. Olsson told Lindroth he had tied a noose around the four hostages' necks in such a way that they would be strangled as soon as the gas made them unconscious.

"It's hard to believe there are such beasts among us," Lindroth said. Inmates of the Tillberga Prison sent a cable to the Swedish Broadcasting Corp. today expressing "our disgust with this hideous crime."

Olsson received half of the $750,000 he demanded in ransom money. But Carl Lidbom, one of Olof Palme's cabinet ministers, said Olsson burned the money in the vault this morning in a "meaningless demonstration."

Police removed the Ford Mustang, which had been parked outside the bank to be used as a getaway car. This indicated that authorities no longer contemplated the possibility of giving in to the gunman's demand that he be given safe conduct.

The bank drama was quickly becoming a major political issue and Palme, who faces crucial elections Sept. 16, and his Minister of Justice Lennart Geijer have personally supervised the police action. Regardless of the outcome, political observers said law and order was bound to become a major election issue.

B.C. Liberals Urge Cuts In House Building Taxes

VANCOUVER (CP) — Major changes to Canadian tax law, including the removal of both the federal and provincial sales tax on building materials, have been proposed by the British Columbia Liberal Party.

Among the resolutions approved were those calling for the removal of the 11 per cent federal sales tax on building material, the 5 per cent provincial sales tax on building material and removal of the 5 per cent sales tax on production machinery and consumable supplies.

The party rank-and-file also proposed tax relief for the country's aged by declaration of a property tax moratorium for all old-age pensioners.

Under this proposed moratorium scheme, which would be financed by the provincial government, no taxes would be paid on property owned by pensioners until such time as title was transferred.

In the area of the individual and government, the convention endorsed resolutions which would require that the parole board consult a sentencing judge before deciding on an application for parole and that "the sentencing judge's opinion be given strong consideration."

They also voted to request the federal government to undertake a study to determine whether a permanent voter registration system could be established for municipal, provincial and federal elections.

In a speech to the annual convention Basford said he had detected a "feeling of despair and despondency" among some of the 350 delegates.

The federal minister said there is no reason for the party to feel this way, and he blamed the Liberal's poor showing in the last federal election in B.C. on the party's own failure to work hard enough to get its candidates elected.

Federally, the Liberals dropped from 15 members before the Oct. 30, 1972 election to only four seats.

The three-day convention ended Sunday.

Liberal Leader David Anderson says Alberta oil monty and Los Angeles television ads won't do the trick for Conservative candidate Derril Warren in the Sept. 7 Okanagan South byelection.

Thieu Slate Wins

SAIGON (Reuter) — Two pro-government slates won a landslide victory Sunday for the administration in South Vietnam's Senate elections, based on full provision returns.

Informed sources said the slate of President Nguyen Van Thieu's Democratic party received more than five million votes. The slate of his foreign minister, Tran Van Lam, came second with more than 4.5 million votes.

The victory gives the administration 31 new seats in the 60-seat Senate and reduces the opposition vote to an ineffective minority of less than 15 seats.

The pro-government slates were expected to win most of the contested seats. Thieu currently controls about half of the other 30 seats.

The other two slates, the Rice Stalk and the Buffalo, each received less than one million votes.

Port Alberni Man on Bail

A Port Alberni man was charged in provincial court today with assault causing bodily harm after a young woman was attacked in a Century Inn beer parlor by a man armed with a broken beer glass.

Allen C. Louie, 22, was remanded to the afternoon session for election.

The woman, Dorothy Wilson, underwent emergency surgery for face cuts after the incident. She is in good condition today at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Louie was released on a $500 recognizance bond.

Running Under Handicaps

If an epidemic were to hit 56,000 railway workers in Canada and halt the nation's passenger and freight services it would be viewed as a national disaster. Immediate steps would be taken to ensure that service was restored as quickly as possible, and also that the emergency situation would never arise again.

The fact that the complete collapse of railway services in Canada was the result of an organized strike rather than an accidental onslaught of disease does not mean that the two requirements should not still be met: immediate restoration of services, and measures to ensure that the disruption of Canada's rail lifelines will not recur.

It is intolerable that a country with so many problems arising from uncontrollable causes should be periodically hamstrung by the actions of organized groups using the strike weapon to obtain advantages which approved, open, democratic negotiation did not quickly win for them. Within a matter of a few weeks the country has been subjected to planned break-downs in services, whether localized or widespread, affecting railways, air transportation, telegraphs, ferries, telephone service — not to mention other strikes in private industry.

The public services are essential. They involve the livelihoods of thousands of Canadians beyond those directly involved in the walkouts. Strikes in these areas can cause losses which will never be made up — losses which in many cases far exceed anything the strike will gain for the workers. The need for governmental action to control the holy right of persons in essential work to hold communities or the whole nation to ransom — for it is no less than that — is obvious.

Community life requires individuals to relinquish some rights for the common good. It is an anachronism that the ability to halt vital public services is still viewed as something the public should not control through law. Strikes or lockouts are no more acceptable than that litigants should shoot out their differences in the streets instead of resorting to impartial courts for redress.

The increasing frequency and severity of strikes in important areas is bringing this concept home. Even Transport Minister Strachan, a member of the NDP government and a career man in organized labor, said at the conclusion of the recent ferry strike that he would perhaps have to reassess his stand on the right of workers in essential services to strike. Mr. George Meany, head of the AFL-CIO organization, has said the strike weapon is outmoded under modern conditions.

The world today is in a highly competitive international struggle to produce and to sell in order to improve the standard of living of the people. Some countries are making giant strides in this regard. Countries which continue to fumble their opportunities through bad organization and chaotic production conditions are destined to fall behind — and Canada at present is such a country.

We cannot long wait to establish a situation in which workers, with adequate guarantees of fairness and justice, will not halt work while annual or biennial negotiations for wages and working conditions are carried on. Otherwise they, and the nation, will win a larger and larger share of less and less.

Red or Blue for Central Saanich?

Central Saanich residents appear divided on whether or not they should maintain their own municipal police force. Earlier this year 800 ratepayers signed a petition in favor of keeping the local force. Now another group has surfaced, which apparently favors bringing in the RCMP, and has asked council to hold a referendum on the issue at the forthcoming November election.

Life being what it is, economics may be the determining factor as to whether Central Saanich's finest wears blue or red. But there are human aspects of the problem as well. The RCMP is a federal force, ultimately responsible to Ottawa. Its officers are subject to transfer, a factor that would not affect a municipal force. And continuity in policing a modern community is important.

An officer familiar with the subtleties of his own bailiwick is in a better position to make the quick judgments required of any police officer. Nor should it be forgotten that a municipal police force is ultimately responsible to the police commission or other local authority, not to Ottawa. On the other side of the badge the RCMP has proved to be an efficient, well trained force in many B.C. communities. It appeals to cost-conscious municipalities in that it represents a pre-packaged police parcel that can be purchased by signing on the dotted line.

Besides weighing these factors, Central Saanich might consider the future amalgamation of local police forces. Hackles rise in the four core municipalities and the Saanich peninsula at the thought of eventual union, yet it is probably inevitable and the tradition of separate police forces would probably be one of the first institutions to succumb. A Central Saanich municipal force would no doubt become part of the amalgamated force.

At this point such an argument is speculative but Central Saanich residents and council should seriously consider the alternatives before committing themselves.

Clearing a Path to Peace

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — UN Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim set out yesterday on a peace mission to the Middle East, stopping first in Geneva to confer with his Mideast mediator, Gunnar Jarring, and then proceeding to Syria, Lebanon, Israel, Egypt and Jordan.

The trip is described as an exercise in fact-finding. No major breakthroughs are expected en route, nor does the Secretary-General carry in his briefcase a dramatic new peace plan.

Yet UN diplomats are pinning a surprising degree of hope on the mission — in part, perhaps, because it is the only effort of its kind in progress but also, more importantly because the time may just possibly be ripe for an early end to the Arab-Israel deadlock.

Fall Election

Israel faces a parliamentary election this fall — a time when any government sensitive to criticism may hesitate to make concessions to an adversary. Once the election is over, however, a whole range of influences will be free to work for peace.

For example:

- The Soviet-American detente. Moscow's interest in improving relations with the United States gives the Kremlin a motive to help remove sources of East-West strain — of which the Middle East is unquestionably first. The Soviet Union has privately acknowledged this interest.
- Soviet-Arab strain. In the year since Russian "advisers" were ousted from Egypt in July 1972, it has become less profitable for the Kremlin to perpetuate Arab-Israeli tensions. Mideast upheaval no longer locks Egypt in a Soviet embrace, nor significantly enhances Kremlin influence elsewhere in the area.

Moreover, Moscow has an interest of its own in reopening the Suez Canal: namely, readier movement of the Soviet Navy into the Indian Ocean. Suez reopening would require at least an interim Mideast accord.

- The military balance. From Israel's point of view, the balance of power is highly favorable; no better relative posture is likely to be attainable in the forseeable future. This means maximum strength at the bargaining table.

In post-Nixon years, with a less pro-Israeli man quite possibly in the White House and American opinion increasingly concerned about supplies of Arab oil, Israeli military dominance could begin to erode.

- Arab political stability. In the Mideast, the word "stability" is relative; but by comparison with other periods, key Arab governments are stable. They are capable of making peace. Indeed, some of them clearly wish to do so.

KURT WALDHEIM
. . . others failed

Palestinian guerrilla bands, which in the past have always been able to veto peace moves, are still active, but less potent. They no longer hold Arab leaders totally hostage to their extremism. Public opinion — even within the Arab world —has begun to turn against them.

This situation could always change. Extremist leaders (such as Muammar Quaddafi of Libya) are trying to unite the Arabs in a belligerent course. Massive defence expenditures amidst grinding poverty, as in Egypt, have explosive potential. The present opportunity for peace could thus be lost.

It therefore follows, in the UN's view, that this is the time to act. The Arabs, it is being pointed out, may never again be at once so amenable to a peace settlement, so capable of resistilng extremist sabotage, and so relatively weak—militarily and diplomatically.

All these considerations have been pressed upon Israel by Washington and other western capitals in recent weeks and months. The argument has been made that this is the time for Israel to make a political gesture of the kind that only she — because of her relative strength — is in a position to make.

The principal thing western capitals want Israel to do is to agree that a return to the frontiers of June 5, 1967, just prior to the six-day war, is at least one possible outcome of a peace negotiation. Tel Aviv has appeared to rule out completely such a withdrawal; and in these circumstances, the Arabs will not negotiate.

Israel has resisted this combination of persuasion and pressure. She has insisted that what Foreign Minister Abba Eban calls "attrition" of the Arab position will continue, and that time is therefore on Israel's side.

Bargaining Peak

Waldheim goes to the Mideast hoping to succeed where Washington, London and others have failed. It will be his thesis, in effect, that Israel has reached a peak in her relative bargaining power, and that further delay will produce a downward slide.

Shortly after his return to New York, the 1973 UN General Assembly will bring at least 80-odd foreign ministers, including those of Israel and key Arab states, to UN headquarters. Their presence would make possible high-level action to break the long Arab-Israel deadlock — if Waldheim can prepare the way.

It is, therefore, a situation in which fact-finding and low-key persuasion by the UN secretary-general—might profoundly influence the course of world events.

". . . and as the sun sank slowly in the west . . . bringing to a close our fourth glorious day on Vancouver Island . . ."

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

Appreciation

May I through your columns express appreciation and congratulations to the hundreds of Greater Victoria, Sidney and Saanich Peninsula residents who acted so promptly and enthusiastically in recent days during the interruption of the regular British Columbia Ferry service.

As many visitors to Vancouver Island indicated, this was an example of the finest type of community response in an emergency situation and I am sure many residents abandoned their own plans in order to assist those people attempting to leave Vancouver Island.

The ferry strike will go into the history books as a glaring example of this government's indifference and inability to cope with a very real crisis and I feel that the Minister of Transport and the Premier must accept full responsibility for permitting labor-management relations to reach such an impossible position.

Again, to your readers, so many of whom responded quickly and positively in assisting our stranded visitors, my very sincere thanks.—Hugh A. Curtis, MLA, Saanich and the Islands.

UFOs

I have been commissioned to write another volume dealing with Unidentified Flying Objects and would like to hear from any of your readers who have witnessed same, giving full details and dates.

Any newspaper clippings and journals dealing with sightings, etc., they might care to forward would be most welcome, also the loan of authentic photos or negatives.—Alderman Michael Hervey, JP. FIAL. MBE., 5 Dick Street, Henley, N.S.W. 2111, Australia.

Permanent Pollution

Re A Moratorium on Nuclear Power Construction — Or Else.

Edward Teller warns us: — "With great numbers of simians monkeying around with things they do not fully understand, sooner or later a fool will prove greater than the proof, even in a fool-proof system."

Further it is written: "Americans, as a nation, no longer feel that we can produce and use energy with total disregard for its effects on the environment." At long last they have realized these facts and are doing something positive and effective about it: in a word — moratorium.

It does not seem possible — with so many glaring incidents to the contrary — that our "experts", the above-mentioned simians, are not aware of the hazards incorporated in the 'splitting' of the atom of uranium, which is a universal law of three main items, namely, creation of:

1) tremendous heat — of which 70 per cent is wasted;

2) creation of several neutrons (bullets, which cause further chain-reaction or splitting).

3) creation of several deadly radioactive by-products, the most deadly and long-lasting being plutonium, a man-made substance with a half-life of 24,000 years — and a possible lethal-life of 240,000 years.

This waste is the key to the objections of sane citizens and the burden of proof does not lie with us but with those advocating 14 nuclear reactors for the Atlantic Provinces by 2000 A.D., and 123 for Canada by that same date.

The burden of proof also lies with these nuclear-advocates to sweep away their arrogant presumption that the future unborn generations for the next quarter of a million years will not mind being the perpetual-guardians of this plutonium-waste — which must be encased in stainless steel containers, re-encased in thick concrete, enclosed in a reinforced wooden coffin and buried in a geologically secure location out of reach of now and future water tables.

All this for what? So that we condemn our country, Canada, to be the hewers of wood and the drawers of water — forever . . . so that we can export power? So that some damn fool may save personal energy by using an electric toothbrush?

We see around us our ecology being destroyed by common, non-permanent pollution. Instead of adding the "permanent-pollution" of nuclear power, let us join quickly in a moratorium halting all further nuclear plant plans and construction till the hazards have been eliminated.—J. A. Macdonald, Box 1717, Dalhousie, N.B.

Tourist Gratitude

We would like to express our grateful appreciation to the people of Victoria who were so helpful and wonderful during our waiting period in line for the ferry to Port Angeles. We can't say enough to express our thanks to the Victoria policemen, to the people who offered their homes to those of us with little children, to the waitresses and restaurant owners who went out of their way to accommodate us at odd hours, and to all the others who expressed their concern for our wellbeing. Many Victoria residents expressed the thought that the strike might affect their business by making the tourists angry but we were so favorably impressed with the friendliness and helpfulness of these people that we have decided to return again much sooner than we would have ordinarily.—Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Holt, 21254 15th Ave. South, Seattle, Wash.

High Costs

Much has been said and written by all media about the high cost of food. But man doesn't live by bread alone. Among his basic necessities, clothing and shelter must be included, the last being perhaps the most important.

So why not talk about rent "hikes", "justified" by landlords with higher costs of maintenance, staff wages, taxes and so on.

Some apartment owners have exercised a responsible restraint, others, however, have joined the high prices bandwagon and as the labor minister of B.C. pointed out in the recent settlement of the ferry strike, "held a gun" to the tenants' heads, banking on the assumption that most people will (regardless of hardships) accept the hike rather than call the movers at $20 or $22 per hour.

To end on a happy note: the federal government will give people on fixed income a raise of approximately $5.32. Notice: this will come from Ottawa, not from our provincial government.

Happy fishing, Chairman Barrett.—A Victoria Tenant.

A Little Action

With the cost of living spiralling unabated, the three-ring circus in Ottawa continues with the three main performers still stumbling around, stammering confusingly, to the amusement of the large corporations.

Not too many months ago, the P.C.'s roared very emphatically that if the government in power gave any tax concessions (from 49 to 40 per cent) to these corporations that the government would fall. How passively the roaring lion has turned into a meek little lamb and has gone along with the government in passing this hand-out-legislation.

Doesn't it seem strange that our representatives in Ottawa continue to give these corporations more profits (Ottawa calls it incentives!) so that they can continue on with their automation creating more unemployment and that, we the taxpayers, are paying to put ourselves out of work! How ironic! Of course everyone realizes that the Grits and the Tories depend upon big business to keep their slush fund filled to overflowing, so how can we expect the government in power and the opposition to do anything detrimental to these conglomerates which would stop them from making huge profits.

With the war in Vietnam only a token war now (or is it peace?), oil products should be in abundance, but with the gas shortage scare created by the foreign-owned oil companies in their greed for more profits these products continue to climb in price, ignored by the Provincial Energy Board; and the federal government, whose only concern it seems to be is setting up commisssions to investigate commissions already set up to investigate something or other.

Where is it all going to end? Our government continues to say, "We are studying it, or investigating it." Why waste time, can't they see? Do they not know the tax yoke is getting tighter, the "dollar" is shrinking quickly, while the price of meat along with every other product climbs steadily upwards.

Isn't it about time our elected representatives started to earn the high wages that they are getting? Let them get off their posteriors and put a little action to their words and give their overworked jaws a rest. After all we, the working class, have to "earn our money".—Tom Gaffney, 3937 St. Peter's Rd.

News Report

Your issue of Aug. 20 carried the report of the freeing, in the immediate future, of some 300 political prisoners. Quote—"Some of whom had been tortured and some of whom had never been charged with a crime, let alone brought to trial"—unquote. Your report further stated that civil liberties would be restored.

For a moment, in my foolishness, I thought that this report referred to Northern Ireland. There, over 500 men and women, many of whom were tortured and none of whom has ever been charged or tried, are commencing their third year of imprisonment under apalling conditions.

It would seem, however, that it is better to live under armed dictatorship in Greece than under Commonwealth of Nations democracy in British occupied North-East Ireland.—Kevin Cahill, 9276 Ardmore Dr., Sidney.

Happiness

Good ol' Jack Scott has hit the nail on the head once more with his column "Gift of Happiness".

Happiness, he said, when it comes into your life as a surprise bonus, unexpectedly, is a gift beyond price.

Happiness is made of self-centred, highly personal things that may take place at any moment though never through anticipation.

When you least expect it, when you're most in need of it, the chances are good that there's going to be some cockeyed, unlikely, unpremeditated change in your fortunes that will be fortifying.

I'll remember Jack's priceless words, when I win that Irish Sweepstake. Being a Scot myself, maybe I'll give him a wee bite, although personally after twenty years I believe anticipation is far greater than realization. — Little Hope.

60 YEARS AGO

From the Times of August 27, 1913

OTTAWA — The question has been asked frequently whether the order of Colonel Sam Hughes, minister of militia, forbidding canteens in the military camps of the country would apply at the Dominion Rifle Association meet where several hundred militamen will be gathered. In the past there has been no law against hard drinks, and after Colonel Hughes active campaign this year, many wonder if his attitude towards drink would have any effect on the association. However, it is pointed out that the organization has no connection with the department of militia. Although Colonel Hughes is an honorary officer, his position is similar to what it would be if he were chosen military honorary officer of any athletic organization.

15 Years Later The Spirit of Che Has Left Cuba

Good old days: youth celebrates the 1967 anniversary of the revolution

By NIGEL HAWKES
London Observer

The death this month of Fulgencio Batista, who ruled Cuba for over 25 years, was hardly noticed in Havana. The official newspaper, Granma, took three days to mention it at all, and then took a deep breath and buried the story in two short paragraphs on the back page.

Cuban reluctance to make the most of Batista's death was not just good manners. It was a symptom of something else — the growing fossilisation of a revolution now in its 15th year. The old swashbuckling days after Fidel Castro led his rebel army down from the hills and kicked Batista out have gone for ever; now the Cubans have revolution by committee, in the Eastern European mould.

What has gone from the Cuban revolution is the spirit of Che Guevara, a man who would have hated the bureaucracy which is now an everyday fact of life in Havana. During a speech in his days as Minister of Industry, Guevara mentioned that production of toothpaste was up by 20 per cent. The crowd cheered. "But we all know that it goes solid in the tube within a week," he shouted back. "So why cheer?"

Lack of Initiative

There are few in Havana today honest enough to make that retort. The Party loyalists are now in charge, and Che's remark would probably qualify as anti-revolutionary activity.

The changes are made evident to a visiting correspondent in a variety of ways — interviews which are mysteriously cancelled, or promised and never arranged, telephones lines which click ominously as you talk, the paralysing lack of initiative from anybody but those at the very top. When you meet survivors from the Sierra they are the same confident, good-natured men who marched into Havana in an atmosphere of wild joy 15 years ago. But it is getting harder to see them: Castro himself is unapproachable except to his old friends, and even the lesser lights rarely talk to journalists.

The Spirit Is Gone

One correspondent who has been Havana almost a year has yet to meet a single senior Cuban official, except by accident at receptions. My own request to interview Melba Hernandez, a revolutionary who has been with Castro since the very beginning and who now holds a position of moderate importance, was mulled over for several days while encouraging noises were made.

It was "about to be fixed up," there was "a slight delay." It never happened.

The growing institutionalisation of the revolution was evident in Castro's speech at this year's celebration of July 26, the day in 1953 on which he lead an abortive attack on the Moncada Barracks in Santiago. "Men die, but the Party is immortal" Castro said. "In the uncertain times of the July 26, and in the early years of the revolution, individuals played a decisive role, a role now carried by the Party." The official eulogies for Walter Ulbricht were almost embarrassing in their fulsomeness.

If the revolution has finally settled down, then it may prove a less exciting but more comfortable ride for the average Cuban. There is much talk in Havana today of "costing" —of looking carefully at projects and deciding whether they justify their expenditure. This is anathema to the spirit of 1959, and perhaps to that of Fidel himself.

Despite the new accountancy, there are still plans afoot in Cuba with the ring of grand folly. At some time in the future, it has been decided, all secondary schooling shall take place in boarding schools in the country, where the pupils can spend half the day working in the fields and the other half at their lessons. Each school will be co-educational, and will have 500 pupils, drawn from the cities as well as from the countryside. Their agricultural work will eventually make the schools self-supporting. By this September, 100 such schools will be operating — but if the target of all secondary schooling is to be reached, it will be necessary to build 2,000 such schools by 1980. Each one costs $1 million to build, and the building industry is already unable to build the houses Cubans need.

Diet of Statistics

Meanwhile the economic situation is gradually improving. Rations are small, the food is generally awful, but Cubans are adequately if unexcitedly fed. Public transport still relies heavily on the British Leyland buses imported in the 60s, though there are now other varieties to be seen, and the Cubans themselves have started building their own small buses on a Soviet chassis. The medical services, greatly expanded in the early years of the revolution, reach everybody — though they may have to stand in line for a couple of days unless their ailment is serious.

The general level of education is higher than it was in the days of Batista, though my own experiences outside Havana make me doubt the Cuban claim to have abolished illiteracy completely. But both medicine and education still have to achieve in quality what they have achieved in quantity; there are still too many 15-year-olds teaching classes hardly any younger than themselves.

The official newspapers dish out statistics as a staple. Consumer goods went up by 18 per cent last year, food production by 10 per cent, and absenteeism fell to less than 8 per cent overall. Not all such figures are entirely believable, but I think that the broad direction in which they are pointing is the truth. Things are getting a little better for Cubans, even if it is only those in important official or Party posts who can expect to be rewarded with one of the thousands of Alfa Romeos which the government has imported.

But for all the improvements, Cubans live in a state which has become ominously totalitarian. Complicated changes in the legal system are soon to be introduced, but the law will remain, in essence, what the government says it is. I asked a senior official responsible for law reform what exactly was meant by "anti-revolutionary activity" — a crime which carries a prison sentence of up to 30 years, or death. "It is any activity intended to undermine the State," was the only reply I could get.

In such circumstances there is no open opposition to the present regime. and it is impossible to find out how many there are in Cuban jails. It is not possible even to establish whether the increase in political prisoners (admitted in Havana) makes up for the decline in conventional crime which the Cubans claim has happened since the revolution.

One thing is certain: no guerrilla mob is going to sweep down from the hills and take Fidel Castro by surprise. With an army of 150,000 or more, greatly improved communications and a street-by-street intelligence service provided by the "Committees for the Defence of the Revolution" there is no chance of effective opposition.

MEASURE OF THE REVOLUTION

By LAWRENCE STERN
Washington Post

When the Cubans speak of "the Revolution," it is with a meaning that is almost incomprehensible to an American. It is the central social reality, the primary political reference point of Cuban life. It is celebrated in official rhetoric, five-storey-high posters, films, schools, factories, the media and neighborhood political meetings.

Cuba in 1973 still knows the rigors of revolutionary austerity. Basic consumer goods—food, clothing, gasoline—are still rationed. But there is widespread talk, even in the secure privacy of friends' homes, of an easing in the shortages of daily necessities that have been the revolution's hallmark.

After 14 years of anguished trial and error the Cuban revolution seems to have anchored itself securely in the lives of the country's 8.5 million people. The Cubans define its achievements by the new schools, roads, housing projects and hospitals which have been sprung up at a rate that has established Cuba's pre-eminence in Latin America for delivery of social services on a mass basis. The revolution is measured also by the disappearance of polio, diphtheria and malaria.

Investment in the social sector has been the chief domestic priority and selling point of the revolutionary regime that inherited 15,000 beggars, 20,000 prostitutes, 700,000 unemployed, 900,000 illiterates and a nearly 50 per cent permanent truancy rate for the primary school age population (6 to 14 years of age).

It is now the revolution's boast that nearly 100 per cent of primary school age children are in classes, that illiteracy was cut to below 4 per cent in a year, that unemployment no longer exists and that beggars and prostitutes have disappeared.

THE JEAN EROSION RACE

RUSSELL BAKER

A New York department store is selling well-worn blue jeans for $15 a pair, about $6 or $7 more than the price of new, unworn blue jeans. Here is wealth to stagger the mind of Croesus.

A nation so rich it will pay others to wear out its pants for it.

Why? Looking poor is high fashion among the rich this year. College men of the 1940's sought to look shabbily elegant; their sons want elegant shabbiness. They will pay and pay and pay. Whatever it costs. To look poor.

Should a man be obliged to wear out his own pants?

Certainly not.

If a man be in college he already has worked enough. Integral calculus to be mastered, the parsing of Livy, learning scientific names of being animalculus, how to write graffiti revolutionary in Babylonic cuneiform.

It would be too much.
On top of everything else.
To ask that man.
To wear out his own pants.

Secondly, wearing brand new unworn-out blue jeans might be embarrassing to anyone, in college or out, who has social position on his mind. If, for instance, Jim Jones aims to look the very paragon of poverty when he steps out, he certainly doesn't want to expose himself as a man who can afford new pants.

If on the other hand, Jones is a swell (likes to be seen tooling around the fraternity house in a Maserati, and so on) he doesn't want friends thinking he can't afford to pay people to wear out his pants for him.

Third: one has a glimpse of possible national economic recovery lurking in high markup used pants.

New jobs for people willing to work at wearing out jeans. New construction opportunities in the need for vast pants-wearing mills where the laborers will have to be watched by bosses highly skilled preventing loafing on the wearing.

A brand new union. The Amalgamated Brotherhood of New Pants Softeners, Faders and Frazzlers. It will have to hold conventions in Florida. A boom to the subtropical tourist-squeezing industry. It will also offer new infiltration opportunities for the Mafia. A boon to gorillas.

And what about those new psychological testing laboratories that will spring into existence? A vast multinational pants-wearing corporation cannot afford to hire just anybody to wear out blue jeans. Applicants must be culled as carefully as black astronauts. Is he over-qualified, has he an unhealthy relationship with his mother, is he not only emotionally but also temperamentally suited to wear out pants?

This thing could be tremendous. Not the greatest thing since creation admittedly, but big, very big. Think of the personnel men coming off the unemployment rolls.

"What makes you think you can be a pants-wearer-outer, Tracy, just because you've got 52 years on the police force behind you?"

All applicants will need two letters of reference, of course.

These will have to be filed.

File-clerk employment on the upswing.

A bull market in stationery and ink as letter-of-reference production hits an all-time high. Demand for more secretaries to type the rising tide of letters of reference driving secretarial salaries higher than a rich kid with his first pair of worn-out blue jeans.

On second thought, why not the greatest thing since creation? Look at quality control. Rich people laying out heavy cash for shabby pants want those pants to look shabby all over. None of your unfaded patches of new blue left on the thigh seams.

America's colleges will have to grind outmore and more quality-control experts. Ph.D.'s in jeans erosion. Research fellows in the frayed fly.

Frantic research to develop instant worn-out pants in an aerosol can.

America faces the challenge. President Nixon on TV. Flag behind him. Pat. Abe Lincoln in bronze. Can U.S. beat godless Communism to discovery the secret of the atomic pants erosion bomb?

Government would have to step in, naturally. Take control. Crash project. Everything top secret. New jobs for armies of bureaucrats, thousands of specially trained "top secret" stampers, security police to watch for leaks. A multi-billion dollar boost in the budget. Never mind. No cost too high.

Unless America wins the race for poor pants, becomes No. 1 in used jeans, the lower halves of all the rich kids in America will end up in foreign fabric. America, after struggling for so long to win the hearts and minds of free men everywhere, will end by losing the bottoms of her own children to alien textiles.

Prayers, Hymns, Shouts Fail to Revive Dead Diabetic Lad

BARSTOW, Calif. (UPI) — Faith healing and an attempt to exorcise "demons" failed Sunday to revive the dead diabetic son of a devout religious couple who threw out the 11-year-old boy's vital supply of insulin a week ago.

Just before a prayer meeting at a funeral home in this desert community, the boy's father, Lawrence Parker, said sternly;

"There won't be any funeral. No, we're not making plans for any because my son, Wesley, is going to come out of that coffin this afternoon."

Nearly 200 parishioners and sightseers scrambled for seats in the small O'Donnell funeral home chapel where the boy's parents led a swaying, mournful, hymn-singing service while the body lay at the head of the throng enlosed in an open pine casket.

Prayers, hymns and shouted exhortations continued for more than two hours in the small, hot chapel while the dead youngster lay with folded arms over his favorite brown sweater.

Parker, his wife and scores of fellow church goers thrashed their arms overhead, commanding the boy to raise from the dead, and at one point the perspiring father ordered everyone out of the chapel who didn't believe Wesley would be resurrected.

The diabetic youngster died a painful, lingering death Wednesday, just two days after his supply of life-sustaining insulin was discarded and the boy was treated by a faith healer at the family's Assembly of God church.

The case is being reviewed for possible criminal complaints, said San Bernardino county authorities. "The reports are being sent to the district attorney's office for review," said Barstow police detective Ron Paddack.

At first the Parker family refused to allow county authorities to conduct an autopsy on their son's body because they believed the boy would be revived. An autopsy was performed, however, on Friday.

The story surrounding the six-member Parker family began last Sunday when they thrust their son forward to be treated by a man from the congregation who said he has conquered his own disease through faith.

"We believe in healing by faith," said Parker, 34, an unemployed NASA tracking station technician and a lifelong member of his religious sect. The couple also has two daughters, 8 and 10, and a 2-year-old son.

Music Fest Tasty

By AUDREY JOHNSON
Times Staff

Call it schmaltz.

Call it outrageously romantic, dated, syrupy.

A whole evening with the popular lyrical emanations of Vienna composers — Strauss, Lehar, Romberg, Benatzky, Kreisler — it sounds a bit much in prospect.

But as staged and performed at McPherson Playhouse, Sunday, it invoked only pleasure and considerable admiration for the young artists responsible for its concept and production.

Solos and choruses from musicals and operettas with the backing of an excellent string ensemble and including piano and organ, comprised most of the program.

It was staged with a simple black-white-silver setting that conveyed a sense of raanticism and was pleasingly costumed with interesting variation, by Maurice Turcotte.

The chorus consisting of seven young men and women, most possessing solo quality, was altogether delightful. They danced and moved smoothly through numbers tastefully choreographed by Gail MacDonald and Corinne Eckert.

Soloists, particularly the full, gleaming soprano of Ruth Champion and Vancouver violinist John Matthews were fine attributes to the show.

Less experienced, but showing quality and excellent promise were tenor Randy Fisher and baritone Brian Benn.

But a dominating factor in the over-all success was provided by the conductor, well-known Victoria flutist and recorder player, James Kennedy, who revealed style, firmness and genuine musical insight in his direction of chorus and orchestra.

Network Hunts Hoaxer

DENVER (UPI) — Authorities and private citizens are monitoring a complex radio network hoping to pinpoint the location of a man broadcasting threats against President Nixon and Vice President Spriro Agnew.

Officials believe the man earlier this month sent New Mexico officers on a futile chase in search of a boy named Larry who, according to broadcasts, said he was trapped in a wrecked truck and that his father had been killed or severely injured.

New Mexico officials launched a search for the boy which cost at least $20,000 and thousands of man-hours.

Saturday, a transmission heard in Denver took credit for the New Mexico hoax. Two other tranmissions threatened the lives of Nixon and Agnew. The calls were filled with profanity.

"This guy has got to be a psycho," said Robert Vetter, a service station owner who first monitored the calls.

"He's smart," Vetter said. "He always uses the 'skip pattern' for a coverup."

The skip pattern is a period during the afternoon when weather conditions create a garble effect on the citizens broadcast band.

"I'm sure we'll catch this nut sooner or later," Vetter said. "It's only a matter of time."

U.S. Firms Ignoring Sanctions

WASHINGTON (Reuter) — United States firms are doing "business as usual" with Rhodesia in possible violation of United Nations sanctions and of U.S. law, a Carnegie endowment report said Saturday.

The 28-page report said U.S. airlines, car rental firms, credit-card companies, travel firms and others, may all have broken the law in their business dealings with Rhodesia.

Among those named are Pan-American World Airways, Trans World Airlines and the car firms of Hertz and Avis.

White-ruled, apartheid-practising Rhodesia, which unilaterally declared its independence from Britain in 1965, is subject to mandatory sanctions voted by the UN Security Council five years ago.

The sanctions are backed in the U.S. by presidential executive orders which provide for fines of up to $10,000 and up to 10 years in prison for violators.

The report is the first of a series by the special Rhodesia project of the Carnegie endowment for international peace and understanding.

State department officials confirmed that the Federal Aviation Administration had been asked to investigate possible violation of U.S. laws and that other agencies concerned had been informed of the report's charges.

The report said that both Pan-American and TWA issued tickets for connecting flights into and from Rhodesia on South African Airways, Air Rhodesia or Air Malawi, transferring payment to the connecting airlines in apparent violation of government regulations.

Justice for the Children

VANCOUVER (CP) — Justice for the children, not for their divorcing parents, should be the first concern of a divorce court judge, a B.C. supreme court judge said Saturday.

But the traditional adversary system, in which parents and their lawyers are all too often pitted against each other in a struggle for custody of the children, may not be suited to achieving that aim, Mr. Justice Thomas R. Berger suggested.

Mr. Justice Berger addressed a luncheon during a day of studies in family law, presented by the standing committee on continuing education of the Canadian Bar Association.

The association's annual meeting and convention begins Monday and continues until Thursday.

"The court's function is not to do justice between the parents, but to do justice for the child," Mr. Justice Berger told about 100 lawyers who took part in the family law studies program. "Unfortunately the law of custody is viewed as a form of litigation, determining which parent has the right of custody."

One of the shortcomings of the present system, he suggested, is that the children themselves are not represented in court.

"I suggest we consider (divorce) from the point of view of the rights of children. Consideration should be given by the legal profession to the whole question of the protection of children.

"We should establish (legal) machinery to make the welfare of children the paramount concern."

ANNOUNCING YOUR NEWLY APPOINTED DEALER OF MICHELIN 'X' STEEL-BELTED RADIAL TIRES:

PLIMLEY British Car Centre Ltd.

1010 YATES
Dealer Licence No. D1323
PARTS 383-1106
SERVICE 382-9121

Whatever make car you drive — from a full-size North American model to a sub-compact import, your new Michelin dealer is fully equipped to fit your car with the precise size and type of tire it requires.

He and his staff are prepared to explain the construction and discuss the advantages of radials over bias-belted and bias-ply conventional tires. They are prepared, too, to demonstrate how and why Michelin 'X' radials represent the maximum in tire value for your tire dollar.

If you consider that safety, when measured in shorter stopping distances, greater puncture resistance, improved steering control and firmer, more stable contact between car and road — under all driving conditions, is important, ask how these performance qualities are built into Michelin radials. If gasoline economy — when measured in more miles from the same kind and amount of gas you're now using is the kind of "return" on your tire investment you would like to have, ask for an explanation of Michelin's radial/steel-belted construction which makes fuel saving a reality. Finally, investigate the kind of tread life you can expect. For a biased estimate ask your friends what they've been getting on their Michelins; for a more conservative estimate, ask your dealer. Either way, you will be satisfied that you can expect many thousands of trouble-free, worry-free miles.

Before you buy your next set of replacement tires, or your next new car, make a point of discussing Michelin 'X' with your new dealer. Trust him to serve you with confidence. We do.

Milk Going Up Two Cents

The price of milk to the consumer is expected to increase by two cents per quart in the first week of September,agriculture Minister Dave Stupich said today.

"This increase is necessary to enable dairy producers to cover substantial increases in the cost of milk production," Stupich said this morning.

Stupich said despite several increases in the price of milk already imposed this year, "producers are not receiving enough to encourage them to produce enough milk to feed our growing needs."

On of the main reasons for this latest increase is the soaring cost of alfalfa hay, which accounted for about 80 per cent of the over-all increase in the price set for fluid milk sold to the processor.

The wholesale price to producers for milk for the fluid market is set each month by the B.C. Milk Board according to a formula set out in the B.C. Milk Industry Act.

The formula, Stupich said, takes into account economic factors, price levels and changes in the cost of production of milk.

Included in the calculation are wholesale prices, consumer prices, average weekly wages and salaries for the province, the price of alfalfa hay and dairy feed, provincial farm wages and the index of price of farm inputs.

He said indications are that when August figures are added to the total, 1973 production will fall below that of 1972 at the same stage.

Milk consumption, however, has continued to increase, the minister said.

"If this trend is not reversed, the question will not be one of concern about the rising cost of mily to the consumer, but rather will sufficent milk be available at any price?" Stupich said.

Stupich said milk for manu*facturing into products such* as ice cream, cottage cheese, yogurt and cheddar cheese is in "acute shortage" in the province.

This class of milk is priced on a federal basis, he said. As a result, producers have received an increase in price for manufacturing milk this year but the price received is still substantially less than the basic costs of producing such milk, Stupich said.

"None of this increase has been available for farmers to increase their labor return in order to help farm families keep pace with their rising cost of living," Stupich said.

Indian Women Lose Battle for Status

OTTAWA (CP) — The struggle for equal rights for women suffered a setback today when the Supreme Court of Canada ruled that native women who marry non-Indians lose their Indian status.

In a 5-to-4 decision the court rejected arguments that because Indian women are treated differently than men, a section of the Indian Act dealing with status should be declared inoperative.

Under the section, Indian women are struck from the Indian rolls after a mixed marriage. Indian men however retain their Indian status after such marriages.

Mr. Justice Roland Ritchie, writing the majority reasons, said the Bill of Rights cannot amend or alter the British North America Act, in effect the Canadian constitution.

The BNA Act gave Parliament the exclusive right to legislate for Indians and with it went the right to establish qualifications required for Indian status, he said.

"To suggest that the provi*sisions of the Bill of Rights* have the effect of making the whole Indian Act inoperative as discriminatory is to assert that the Bill has rendered Parliament powerless to exercise the authority entrusted to it under the constitution," said Judge Ritchie.

He said an earlier decision of the Supreme Court striking down sections of the Indian Act dealing with liquor was based on the fact that Indians were denied equality before the law—that they were subject to harsher punishment than non-Indians.

This did not apply in the ap*peals now before the court,* he declared.

As a result of the judgment, lower court decisions which reinstated the Indian status of Yvonne Bedard and Jeannette Lavell were reversed.

Both had married non-Indians and were notified by the Indian affairs department they were no longer consid*ered Indians under the Indian* Act.

Stupich Appoints Three Directors

Appointed effective Sept. 1: I. C. Carne, director of general services, R. J. Miller, director of special services; and R. L. Wilkinson, director of production and marketing services.

*Stupich said the three ap*pointments are to "key positions."

Until their recent promotions, the three new directors held various positions within the agriculture department.

Carne has been crop insurance administrator since 1970, Miller has been head of the engineering branch since 1967, and Wilkinson was appointed director of agricultural development and extension in 1971.

Stupich said the three new directors will help decide departmental policy as members of the senior executive group.

Positions left vacant by the promotions will be filled in a recruitment program to start immediately.

A fourth senior director position, that of director of policy planning and development, had not yet been filled.

PROGRAM TAKES AIM AT HUNT VIOLATIONS

The Vancouver Island region of the B.C. Fish and Wildlife Branch has launched a program to curb hunting violations.

Regional director Desmond Haddleton of Nanaimo says as many as 10 regular and auxiliary conservation officers will zero in on a single sub-district for three days and nights to check as many hunters as possible.

They will also conduct night patrols to prevent pitlamping of deer.

The special season for hunting of deer by long bow only began Saturday and will continue until Sept. 7.

Haddleton says the move is necessary because of an expected onslaught of hunters due to higher meat prices.

"The program means some areas will be a little short of coverage while we're conducting a blitz in another area," he says, "but the over-all effect will be much greater surveillance."

The season for buck hunting will be from Sept. 8 to Dec. 2 and for antlerless deer, Nov. 10 to 18.

RESCUE TOW REQUIRES 22 HOURS

The coast guard cutter Rider carried out a 22-hour rescue tow on the weekend off the northern tip of Vancouver Island.

She answered a call for help from the fish boat Vera Jane, helpless in the water 20 miles southwest of Triangle Island with a broken propeller shaft.

The rider towed her to Bull Harbor, arriving there Saturday.

The incident was one of 32 marine incidents handled by the Pacific Rescue Co-ordination Centre at CFB Esquimalt this weekend.

How to set your mind at ease about your hemorrhoids.

How to set your mind at ease about your hemorrhoids.
When you have hemorrhoids, what you don't know can hurt you, and worry you. And keep you from seeing your doctor. When, he's the one person who can help you the most. To take hemorrhoids out of the mystery category, here are some things it may help you to know.

What hemorrhoids are.
Hemorrhoids are veins which become swollen and twisted like varicose veins in the legs. They can be painful, itchy and embarrassing. But they're not generally considered dangerous.

What causes hemorrhoids?

7 tips for the hemorrhoid sufferer.
The makers of Anusol Plus have spent years of research on methods of treating hemorrhoids. Here are 7 tips to help your condition.

1. Follow a bland diet. Eat lots of fresh fruit and vegetables. Drink plenty of water; steer clear of spicy foods.
2. Avoid harsh laxatives. For constipation, use a mild laxative such as Agarol.
3. Get plenty of exercise.
4. Keep the affected area clean and dry. Wash with fresh cotton and warm water. Pat dry.
5. To ease the pain, sponge with hot water, then cold.
6. Use a reliable hemorrhoid medication. Besides providing relief from pain, a good medication will also curb infection and inflammation—thus giving your hemorrhoids a chance to heal. New Anusol Plus does all of these things and more. Available in new cream form as well as suppositories, it contains a new anaesthetic ingredient to quickly relieve hemorrhoid pain. And it's silky smooth. So it goes on easily. Even on areas that are tender and inflamed.
7. If your hemorrhoids become a worry, see your doctor. He can help to set your mind at ease. And read the free, helpful booklet that comes with new Anusol Plus. Available at pharmacies only, it's a hemorrhoid medi*cation that sets your* pain at ease.

TIME CLOCKS COMPUTERIZED

TORONTO (CP) — With numerous companies changing to flexible working hours for employees these days, the one draw-back of the scheme—keeping track of work hours—has been solved.

The answer lies in an automatic time recording system; a small computer which records and keeps track of the week's work-hour count.

The computer works much the same way as a punch-in time clock and employees familiar with that system have little difficulty adapting to the Flextime device.

Rider said in an interview people are "scared skinny of time clocks." The new computer is not, however, a "control device," he said, rather a "personal accounting device."

He said the computer is ideal for the white-collar worker, the salaried clerk or the typist "with the dull humdrum job."

It can also be adapted to the assembly line.

Once the employees are able to adapt working hours, "they become more conscientious," Rider said.

Productivity increases while one-day absenteeism goes down, many personnel experts have agreed.

Already the company has such clients as the federal department of corporate and consumer affairs, Equitable Life and Metropolitan Trust.

By mid-summer, 14 companies in Ontario and Quebec and two government departments have been sold on the idea.

Flextime is a subsidiary of the German company J. Hengstler K. G. which installed the first system in a German automotive plant in 1969. Today the system is being used by more than 1,000 European companies employing about one million workers.

The concept of flexible working hours is, therefore, here to stay, Rider said.

It also alleviates rush-hour travel and unburdens public-transit systems.

"In 10 years," he said, "half the labor force in Canada will be on flexible hours."

Indifferent Toronto Market

Declines outnumbered advances 192 to 133 and 258 issues were unchanged.

Construction and materials and chemicals sectors of the industrial index's 17 subgroups led the 13 declining sectors.

WCI Canada dropped 1¾ to 15¼, Dupont 1 to $29, Keeprite B ¾ to $9, Inglis ⅝ to $15⅛ and Canada Cement ⅜ to $13⅞.

Computel gained ¾ to $10, Canadian Interurban 65 cents to $3.90, Provincial Bank ½ to $15½, Reichhold ½ to $17¼ and Fairview ½ to $18½.

Pine Point Mines was off ½ to $34, Teck B 15 cents to $3.80 and Mindamar 15 cents to $4.75. United Siscoe rose 45 cents to $6.50 and Granduc 25 cents to $3.90.

Canadian Superior Oil was up 1 to $55 and Scurry Rainbow ⅜ to $21. Ranger dropped ¾ to $33 and Pan Ocean ¼ to $16.

New York

Brokers said the latest rise in the prime rate to 9¾ per cent Monday was having little effect on market gains.

Montreal

Prices were mixed in light trading on the Montreal stock market.

Combined volume on the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges at 1 p.m. was 495,600 shares, compared with 469,400 shares at the same time Friday.

On the Montreal Stock Exchange, General Motors Corp. rose 1¼ to $64½, Fairview Corp. ½ to $18½, Pan Ocean Oil ½ to $16⅛ and Denison Mines ¼ to $33¼, while Abitibi Paper declined ¼ to $11¾ and Chrysler ¼ to $24¾.

On the Canadian Stock Exchange, Troilus Mines was unchanged at 29 cents a share on a volume of 33,000 shares traded.

Mines Pace B.C. Market

On Wednesday or Thursday the Vancouver Stock Exchange will trade its 60 millionth share, making August the busiest trading period in 14 months.

By mid-morning today, more than 51 million shares had been traded so far in August, more than in any full month since March.

The market recovery was paced by the mining board where eight issues traded more than 200,000 shares last week.

The glamor stock during August was Silver Standard, which is reporting results of drilling for copper on its Minto, Yukon, property.

Last week Silver Standard traded 488,055 shares and rose 84 cents to $2.74.

So far this month, Silver Standard has gone from $1.08 to $2.74 (today's opening price), a jump of $1.66 per share.

If past experience is any guide (it isn't) the more than doubling of the price is a familiar pattern.

In 1972, Silver Standard shares moved from 60 cents to $1.65, in 1971 they went from 90 cents to $2.05 and in 1970 they jumped from $1.06 to $2.32.

In each case they settled back. However, past performance of a stock is no firm indication of a present trend. About the only thing that is clear is if you bought Silver Standard on Aug. 1 and sold today you would be in good shape.

At its present pace, the Vancouver Stock Exchange is heading for its busiest trading period since June, 1972.

June, 1972	82 million
July	52 million
August	52 million
September	57 million
October	54 million
November	58 million
December	46 million
January, 1973	58 million
February	57 million
March	57 million
April	44 million
May	43 million
June	51 million
July	42 million

For what it's worth, here are the latest assay reports on drilling by Silver Standard Hole 22, 90 feet of 2.75 per cent copper; hole 23, 108 feet of 3.14 per cent copper; hole 24, 211 feet of copper traces; hole 25, still drilling at 400 feet; hole 26, to be drilled 600 feet west of hole 25.

It should be noted that the price has already moved up on the basis of results so far and any further increase would have to be based on the expectations of significant new finds.

Top trader on the exchange last week, in terms of volume, was Northair Mines, which rose 7 cents to $1.21 on 693,000 shares.

Teck Corporation has agreed to buy 100,000 shares of Northair at $1.25 and is granted first refusal on future financing.

Second highest trader in volume last week was Royal Agassiz which moved 574,000 shares and closed at 80 cents.

However, 500,000 of the shares seemed to have been picked off by a single customer. On Tuesday night Bouchard and Co. said they would sell 500,000 at a minimum price of 75 cents as agent for Royal Agassiz.

When the market opened on Wednesday 547,000 shares traded in the first three hours.

Silver Standard, at 488,055 shares, was the third heaviest trader in volume.

Others, in order, were:

Bathurst Norse which traded 426,900 and fell 35 cents to $1.02;

Spartan which traded 278,450 and was unchanged at 21 cents;

Casino which traded 204,800 and was unchanged at 85 cents.

All eight issues are on the main mining board. The interim list was quiet, except for Cutlass Exploration which traded 289,500 shares and rose 5 cents to 38 cents.

The oils also were quiet with the exception of Seneca which fell 1 cent to $2.35 on 329,976 shares.

There was no unusual volume in the Vancouver industrial list.

Paper Shortage Leads Business to Slowdown

NEW YORK (AP) — Shortages of paper are causing increasing problems in the supply and availability of newspapers and such basic items as business forms, corrugated boxes, waxed paper and paper bags.

Much of the attention has focused on newspapers, some of which have run low on newsprint because of paper mill and railway strikes in Canada. But increasingly tight situations also are being reported in a wide variety of other paper products.

A Los Angeles maker of bags and wrapping paper can buy only 60 to 70 per cent of the paper it needs. A Bridgeport, Conn., grocery store says it is running out of paper bags. Gulf Oil Corp. says it finds suppliers are reluctant to bid on large orders of business forms.

COMPUTERS FEEL PINCH

In Washington, D.C., where paperwork is a legendary part of government, the General Services Administration reports that paper inventories are short millions of pounds. The shortage hasn't affected government operations, but an emergency procurement system based on national security priorities has been invoked "seven or eight times" to supply paper to the department of defence, the Central Intelligence Agency and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

New York's First National City Bank reports that the price of cardboard boxes has risen 20 per cent since January. Toronto-based Moore Business Forms, the continent's largest producer of business forms, says computer print-out paper, which represents nearly a quarter of the industry's volume, costs 20 to 35 per cent more.

Eastman Kodak, whose photographic paper and film is made from wood pulp, says prices are up 25 per cent from a year ago.

A spokesman at New Hampshire's Rumford Press says: "However serious you think the situation is, multiply by five."

The reasons cited for the paper shortages are many and complex. A principal consideration, observers say, is that new paper mills are costly and take two to four years to build. Several years ago, there was a glut of paper, prices were low and there was little incentive to build new plants.

Then came the business boom of the early 1970s, at the same time as governments were moving toward stricter pollution control. Industry officials say that over a billion dollars, approximately half of new capital investment, went into pollution control, cutting into funds for expansion.

MILLS NEED CAPITAL

Mills are reported working at full capacity, but industry officials say they have been hampered by economic controls, labor problems, bad weather in timber country, power cutbacks and a lack of investment capital.

"The return on investment has not been sufficient to attract a large amount of commitment to build new capacity," said Edwin Locke, president of the American Paper Institute.

$ EXCHANGE

In Victoria today, purchase of U.S. funds in terms of Canadian dollar was .9980 by the Royal Bank at .9990 cheques and .9880 silver. Selling rates were 1.0095 for cheques and 1.0115 for cash.

MONTREAL (CP)—U.S. dollar in terms of Canadian funds at noon Monday was up 3-50 at $1.00 23-50. Pound sterling was up 17-50 at $2.47 39-100.

In New York, the Canadian dollar was down 3-50 at $0.99 27-50. Pound sterling was up 1-5 at $2.46¼.

CITY MAN ROAD VICTIM

A Victoria man was killed early Sunday in a two-car collision on Sooke Road, RCMP said today.

Police identified the man as John O'Connor, 57, of 3620 Park Drive.

O'Connor was driving alone 14 miles west of Victoria when he collided head-on with a car occupied by William and Renora McQuillin, 2730 Hamilton.

The McQuillans were treated for minor injuries at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

'SOUPED' SOAP BOX MAY HAVE COST $10,000

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI) — A spokesman for the Boulder Country district attorney's office says the car that won the 1972 Soap Box Derby cost between $10,000 and $20,000 to build.

Asst. Dist. Atty. William Wise said he would not disclose his sources yet. He said part of the cost included shipping the car to the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena to run wind tunnel tests on it.

Another factor in the cost, Wise said, was the time technicians spent advising the builder. The car was built at the Lange Ski Boot Co. in Boulder.

The 1972 derby was won by Robert Lange Jr., 15. His cousin, James Gronen, 14, won the 1973 derby crown but was later disqualified for having an electromatnetic system in his racer.

The magnetic system, which gave Gronen's car an added push at the starting line, caused the youth to forefeit the $7,500 first-place scholarship.

National Soap Box Derby Association rules prevent entrants from spending more than $40 on parts to build their racers. Wise said he supposed expenses for wind tunnel test could be considered "advice and counsel."

★ ★ ★

the spirit of the Soap BP

"But do you think that's in the spirit of the Soap Box Derby?" he said.

Wise said he expected to see the 1972 derby-winning car when Robert Lange Sr., his son and his newphew returned to Boulder today.

Lange's racer, which technically became the property of the NSBDA after he won the title, was returned to him for use in displays and promotional events.

Noel Michell, chairman of the Akron, Ohio, derby said it probably was a mistake to have returned the car to the youth. It was Mitchell who discovered the magnetic system in Gronen's racer.

★ ★ ★

Boulder Derby officials said they would wait to speak with Gronen before deciding if he would forfeit $100 won in the local derby.

"We want to hear his side of the story," said Boulder Derby chairman Jack Tracy. "He's already been tried and convicted in the papers."

Key Allende Foes Jailed

SANTIAGO (WP) — Chilean police Sunday arrested Robert Thieme, a key figure in the right-wing movement that has opposed President Salvador Allende and which is held responsible for much of the recent terrorist violence in the country.

Thieme and six other members of his "Fatherland and Freedom" organization were arrested as they met at a fashionable restaurant in a Santiago suburb. They offered no resistance.

Police Chief Alfredo Joignant told newsmen that with Thieme's arrest "we have accounted for nearly all recent terrorist acts." It was not believed, however, that "Fatherland and Freedom" was crippled because of Thieme's arrest. The founder and real leader of the movement, Pablo Rodriguez, is alive and active in Ecuador.

In an interview just before his arrest, Thieme vowed to overthrow the government of Allende, a Marxist.

"If we have to burn this country to save it from the enemy, then we'll do that. We are determined to fight to the death," he said.

At first sight, Thieme seems more an executive than a terrorist. At 30, he is curt, efficient, impeccably dressed in grey. His young friends are attractive and stylish, sometimes they whisper in Spanish, sometimes in German. Chile's "beautiful people," one would have thought.

But, with dozens of blown up bridges, trucks, houses and electrical installations under their belt, Thieme and his group obviously mean business. Their "enemy" is Salvador Allende, and their business is "to overthrow him."

Son of German immigrants and owner of a furniture factory, Thieme is also secretary general of the "Fatherland and Freedom" nationalist front, a movement designed "to save Chile from the Marxists."

His opponents call him a Fascist, a neo-Fascist or even a Nazi, terms to which Thieme strongly objects. "We are purely nationalists," says Thieme, we draw our inspiration from our own national heroes. You cannot compare Hitler's Germany or Mussolini's Italy with Chile today."

If anything, Thieme will compare his movement to the Spanish Falange. "There are obvious similarities," he admits, "both in our doctrine and in our plan of action. But if fighting Marxism makes me a Fascist, well, of course, then I'm a Fascist."

"Fatherland and Freedom," its members report, was founded three years ago, "the day the Marxists came to power."

CHINESE CROP MAY BE BUMPER

WASHINGTON (WP) — China's spring grain harvest has been good if not excellent, according to preliminary reports compiled by the economic research service of the department of agriculture.

This spring there were indications that China faced a continuation of the drought that sharply reduced the late-season harvest last year. For all of 1972, grain production was down about 4 per cent, or 10 million tons.

Two analysts for the department's economic research service ascribe China's success with the early harvest to good weather, increased acreage and improved agricultural technology.

Airport Arms Up Alarmingly

WASHINGTON (WP) — At airline terminals across the U.S., the metal detectors and probing hands of security officials are exposing what appears to be an increasing boldness of passengers and visitors — carrying weapons.

More than twice as many guns, explosive devices and other weapons were detected on airline passengers or in their luggage or on airport visitors, between April and June than in the preceding three months, accordilng to Federal Aviation Administration statistics.

In June alone, 145 guns, 91 explosive devices, 2,037 knives and 3,197 other dangerous weapons were detected during pre-boarding screening in U.S. airports. The explosives included boxes of ammunition, blasting caps, grenade fuses and flare pens.

The same month, 322 passengers were denied boarding, an increase of 50 over the previous month. Of these, 291 were arrested.

Authorities have no clear explanation for the increasing number of incidents. Some attribute it to better search procedures, others fear it may mean the country in general is becoming more violent. There is no indication whether the statistics reveal a dangerous trend or a temporary situation.

The arrests ranged from interfering with flight crew members to attempting to carry dynamite aboard a plane, and there appeared to be little relationship betrween the rate of such incidents to the size of the airport.

The relatively small airport at Jackson, Miss., had five times as many concealed weapons arrests as the sprawling John F. Kennedy International Airport in New York, and 10 times as many as Philadelphia, St. Louis and Neward, N.J.

The Tampa-St. Petersburg airport led the nation in concealed weapons arrests, according to the FAA figures, a phenomenon the airport manager was unable to explain. Twenty-five persons were arrested there for carrying guns in the first half of this year.

The FAA reported San Francisco had 19 such arrests; Los Angeles had 17; Atlanta, Chicago and New Orleans, eight each; Cleveland, Dallas, San Diego and San Antonio, seven each; and Washington, Philadelphia, Portland and St. Louis, two each.

Between April and June, 11,828 guns, explosive devices or other dangerous weapons were confiscated at the nation's airports, as compared to 4,916 for the first three months of this year.

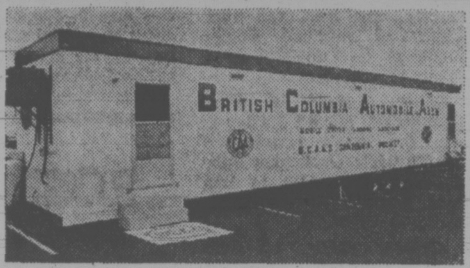
The number of guns detected during the latter three-month period decreased from 504 to 390, but the number of explosive devices increased from 30 to 181 and the number of knives found rose from 2,430 to 5,022. The number of other weapons soared from 1,952 to 6,235.

An FAA official said the "other" weapons category included chemical mace, meat cleavers, axes, chains, crowbars, machetes and swords, a speargun, blowguns, straight razors and ice-picks.

James M. Yohe, deputy director of the FAA's office of air transportation security, attributed the second-quarter increases in confiscated weapons to improvements in screening procedures by airline security officials.

DRIVER EDUCATION THE BEST INSURANCE OF ALL

BCAA DRIVER TRAINING AVAILABLE TO EVERYONE

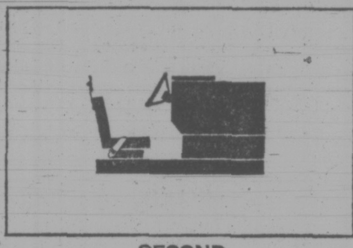


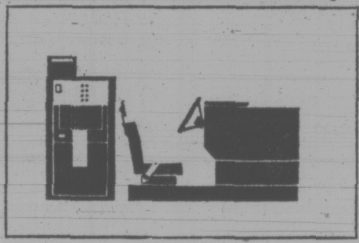
The BCAA Mobile Units contain twelve Simulator Cars together with complete wide screen projection facilities and recording and evaluation equipment.

HOW THE BCAA DRIVER TRAINING COURSE WORKS

FIRST

First is the Simulator Car. This car has everything you would expect to find in an automobile simulator — all the essential elements and controls found in a conventional automobile. Included are — both automatic and manual shift levers — simulated brake pedal 'feel' — clutch 'engagement point' — motor and traffic noise — everything to create the sensation of actual driving.



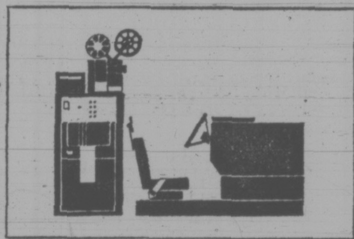


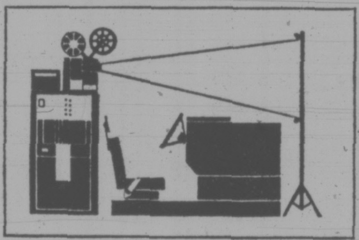
SECOND

Next is the recorder. This will print a continuous permanent record of individual driver actions, correct or incorrect. It tells when and where errors are made, and the degree of error. In addition the Instant Recorder gives immediate indication of a student's performance.

THIRD

We add a projector with special lens for projection on a wide screen. Also a full colour film library, so processed that it provides full vision of oncoming traffic patterns as well as traffic approaching from the rear and the sides. Sound is also added so that the student driver not only sees realism, but hears it as well with the reproduction of ordinary traffic noises.





FOURTH

To complete the filmed roadway, we have a daylight type wide screen. The realistic full colour films projected on this screen — plus the true traffic sounds — create the impression the student driver is actually driving a conventional car 'on the road.' The combination of wide screen and wide angle lens gives a panoramic view which very closely approaches the field of vision of the human eye.

FIFTH

Finally we have perhaps the most important element — the Instructor. Instructors in charge of the BCAA Mobile Driver Training Units are thoroughly trained and experienced in the use of the electronic equipment, and in evaluating the recorded information. They are fully competent to provide sound training which will result in safer drivers.

Bates Win Opener

HULL, Que. — Victoria Bate Construction broke loose for two runs in the bottom of the final inning to edge Quebec 2-1 Sunday in the opening round of the Canadian senior "A" men's softball championships.

Playing-manager Joe Patterson regarded it as a "big win" since Quebec had been regarded as one of the favorites to top its section in the modified round-robin tournament.

Bates, who face Prince Edward Island on Tuesday, are bracketed in a section along with Quebec, P.E.I., Saskatchewan, Northwest Territories, Manitoba and Nova Scotia.

The top two teams in each division after round-robin play meet in the semi-finals to determine next Saturday's finalists.

Also recording victories Sunday were Richmond Hill Dynes of Ontario, who won the world championship in Manila last year; the host Hull Volants, Newfoundland and the Northwest Territories.

N.W.T. surprised P.E.I. 4-1; Newfoundland upset Alberta 8-5, Hull clipped New Brunswick 3-1 and the Dynes, with a crowd of more than 6,000 watching, romped to an 11-1 victory over Yukon behind Wally Dick's one-hit pitching.

Victoria's last-inning comeback provided the fans with the most entertaining action.

Quebec grabbed a 1-0 lead when Gilbert Cheronner doubled to score Marcel Schreyer in the second inning. That stood up until the seventh.

Patterson, entering the game as a pinch-runner, scored the tying run on outfielder Bill Shortt's single. Shortt then scored the winning run when second baseman Carl Walker connected for a single.

Stan Kern and Barry Bock, picked up from New Westminister Burden's Royals, combined to hold Quebec to three hits. Kern struck out six and Bock three.

Meraloma defender pursues Dolphin quarterback Ron Taylor

Dolphins Laced 72-0

Dolphins, who had their first two scheduled home games postponed, finally got onto the field at Royal Athletic Park Sunday night and then were handed their biggest drubbing in the club's three-year history.

Powerful Vancouver Meralomas carved out a 43-0 halftime lead and then coasted to a 72-0 victory for their fourth straight win in the B.C. Big Four Junior Football League.

Worst defeats before that for the Dolphins were 61-6 last year at Vancouver and 57-14 in their inaugural season — both to the Meralomas.

Meralomas, who have now scored 177 points in four games, were far sharper and speedier all round than their sluggish opponents and got some great passing from quarterback Dan Smith and excellent pass-receiving from former Dolphin Rick Price and Les Weiss, who scored four touchdowns each.

Dolphins, whose only other league game so far this season resulted in a 49-14 loss to Burnaby Spartans, upset the Meralomas 33-27 in a preseason exhibition game but they never looked like doing it again Sunday night.

The first-half statistics told the story. Meralomas picked up 161 yards along the ground and 228 through the air in recording 16 first downs. Dolphine managed a meagre 21 yards, including nine through one pass completion, while failing to pick up a first down.

Things never improved in the second half. Victoria quarterback Ron Taylor, constantly harried by a hard-charging Meraloma defensive unit, had difficulty finding receivers. Dolphins' blocking was ineffective and the offensive line lacked penetration.

Andy Perry and Lee Chan also scored majors for the Vancouver club while Ed Thomas booted eight converts. Victoria also conceded two singles.

There was greater respectability in Sunday's other game at North Vancouver's Kinsmen Park where the Blue Bombers were edged 10-6 by North Shore Cougars.

Gary Steinbart threw a 70-yard touchdown pass to Shane Ivancoe for the winning points. Don Langford kicked the convert and also booted a 39-yard field goal. Tom Watson scored Bombers' touchdown.

Okker, Goolagong Sweep Canadian Tennis Finals

Okker flogged a tired Orantes 6-3, 6-2, 6-1 Sunday to win the men's crown and $15,000 while Goolagong overcame a slow start to best Mrs. Masthoff 7-6, 6-4 on Saturday to win $4,500.

Orantes, playing his sixth tournament final in seven weeks, was weakening when he started to go for drop shots in the first set.

"I thought that may be a sign that he was tiring already," said the Dutchman who returned to the circuit after a two-week busman's holiday of clinics in the Caribbean. "Drop shots are easy shots and don't take much out of you."

DIDN'T FEEL WELL

Orantes, who won $8,000, said he didn't feel well at breakfast Sunday and drank too much water during the match.

"I felt like I was going to bring up. I was just tired and I felt so bad that I tried to stay back. And when I did rush the net, that's what he likes."

The match was played in 85-degree heat and high humidity. Both men play a game that involves a lot of running and it boiled down to who would weaken first.

Goolagong, appearing in her third Open final in as many years and the defending champion, fell behind 5-1 in the opening set but staved off three set points and ran up 11 points in a row at one stage of her comeback.

The Australian said the deficit didn't disturb her, and she was able to fashion her turnabout on missed forehand volleys by the six-time German national champion.

"I just start to push harder and concentrate more on what I'm doing," Goolagong said. "It's more of a challenge and I get my back up and try my hardest.

"I never think I'm going to lose it and that's why I usually do catch up."

Goolagong increased her bank account by another $500 Sunday when she teamed with Peggy Michel of Pacific Pallisades, Calif., to defeat Mrs. Masthoff and Martina Navratilova of Czechoslovakia in the doubles final.

Rod Laver and Ken Rosewall, veteran Australians who were knocked out in the third round of the singles, won the doubles and $4,000 Sunday with a 7-5, 7-6 win over countrymen John Newcombe and Owen Davidson.

Okker reached the singles final by cooling the hot racket of Colombian Ivan Molina 6-3, 6-7, 6-1 in another match Saturday that required a lot of running.

Orantes, who had beaten Okker in their only previous meeting, reached the final, with only the loss of a set in five previous matches, by trimming Cliff Drysdale 6-4, 6-4.

ROSE HEADS CLASS

KINGSTON, Ont. — Tony Rose, a 17-year-old from the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, Sunday took top honors in the OK Dinghy class at the Canadian Olympic Training Regatta.

Brian Palfreeman of Beloeil, Que., with his wife Madaline as crew, won the Tornado class — recently admitted to Olympic competition — and John Windsor of North Vancouver took the Fireball race but U.S. sailors dominated other categories.

The event, being staged on waters expected to be the site of the yachting segment of the 1976 Summer Olympics, has drawn 409 sailors from 20 countries.

BRADSHAW TAKES TITLE

Bradshaw tripped Dave Becker of Vancouver 6-1, 6-3, as Canadian boys won two of the four categories in singles play and two of the three doubles events.

Canadian girls failed to cash in on singles glory but managed to win one and share one out of three doubles events.

Robert Gordon upset top-seeded Richard Lewis 6-2, 6-1 in the all-Toronto 12-and-under boys' singles final.

Vancouverites Joe Bradanec and John Picken won the 16-and-under doubles crown with a 6-2, 6-2 decision over Steve Rogul of Toronto and Bill Bartlett of Honolulu.

William Geddes and Steve Volrich, also from Vancouver, topped Tom Hackenberg and Mike Dolkin of Kalamazoo, Mich., 7-5, 6-3 to take the 14-and-under doubles title.

Susan Dale and Susan Gillespie, both of Toronto, shared the girls' 14-and-under doubles victory while Marjorie Blackwood of Ottawa partnered Nuala Dwyer of England to a win in the 18-and-under doubles final.

Firsts for Schroeder, Greene In Golf's Unique Double Bill

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Obscure John Schroeder, a career struggler, pulled one of the major suprises of the season when he turned back greying De Witt Weaver 2-up for the title of the United States Professional Match Play golf championship Sunday.

Schroeder, who scored his first victory in five years on the pro tour, upset Lee Trevino 1-up in the morning to gain his place in the final against Weaver, winner of the inaugural Championship in 1971.

Weaver moved into the final with another major form reversal, a 1-up triumph over British Open champion Tom Weiskopf.

The 27-year-old Schroeder, son of former tennis great Ted Schroeder, collected $40,000 from the total purse of $150,000. That compared with the $9,016 he had won earlier this year.

WINS PLAYOFF

In the companion half of golf's only doubleheader, the $100,000 Open that was played concurrently on the same 6,786-yard MacGregor Downs Country Club course, journeyman Bert Greene dropped a six-foot birdie putt on the fifth hole of sudden death playoff to beat veteran Miller Barber.

It was the first American triumph in seven years on the tour for Greene.

The 42-yar-old Barber holed a 30-foot birdie putt on the 72nd hole for a 67 and tied Greene at the end of regulation at 278, six-under-par. Greene had a last round 70.

Weiskopf, winner of the British Open and four other titles in a summer streak, let Weaver take a 1-up advantage when he missed the green and bogeyed the 17th hole.

Then, on the 18th Weiskopf conceded a two-foot downhill putt, Weaver halved the hole and won the match.

"It was an easy putt," he said of the one he conceded to close out the match. "I'd had a poor effort — didn't play well at all — and I thought he could make it, and, well, that's it."

Trevino, who eliminated defending champion Jack Nicklaus 4 and 3 in Saturday's quarter-finals, dodged any questions after his loss. He took only 22 seconds to storm from the final green to the clubhouse, change shoes and hop into a waiting car.

He and Schroeder were even going to the 18th. Schroeder put his second shot eight feet from the flag and Trevino flew his over the green and into the bunker. He came out close to the cup, but Schroeder made the birdie putt and Trevino hustled off.

In the Schroeder-Weaver final, Weaver took a 2-up advantage after eight holes, but Schroeder won three of the next four and established a 1-up lead.

The key, Weaver said, was on the 11th.

"I had a 10-foot putt and missed. He had a 20-foot putt and made it. It was a swing I didn't expect," he said.

Schroeder took the lead on the next hole when Weaver shanked into the water, went 2-up with a 15-foot birdie putt on the 15th, lost the 17th to Weaver's scrambling par, then nailed it down when Weaver bogeyed the 18th after a poor sand shot.

Long Putt Gives Sandra Second Win

DENVER (AP) — Sandra Palmer sank a 20-foot birdie putt on the 18th green Sunday to score a one-stroke victory in a women's Open golf tournament and earn the $4,500 top prize.

It was her second straight win on the Ladies' Professional Golf Association tour.

Miss Palmer's closing round three-under-par 68 gave her a 54-hole total of 210. Second was Betty Burfeindt at 211 and third, another stroke back, was Mary Mills, who had led the first two rounds.

Tied for fourth at 213 were Jane Blalock, who shot a 69 Sunday, and Judy Rankin, who shot a par 71. In sixth place at 214 was Sandra Post of Oakville, Ont., also with a par 71 Sunday.

UVIC CREW TRAILS

MOSCOW — The Netherlands edged East Germany to claim the coxed fours title in the European women's rowing championships while Canada, represented by a University of Victoria crew, finished 10th and last.

Vancouver Repeats

RICHMOND HILL, Ont. — British Columbia retained the Canadian senior women's fastball championships here Sunday with a 7-1 victory over Fort Erie, Ont.

The Vancouver team, last year's national champions, advanced to the championship game with a 5-0 triumph over Saskatchewan while Fort Erie won its semi-final over Richmond Hill 7-1.

Vancouver defeated Saskatoon 3-0 Saturday to win a playoff berth. It was Vancouver's fifth win in the A division round-robin.

Evert Girls Help U.S. Retain Cup

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Teenager Jeanne Evert teamed with Patti Hogan to defeat Britain's Lesley Charles and Lindsey Beaven 6-2, 4-6, 8-6 Sunday to help the United States win the Wightman Cup tennis competition 5-2.

Earlier in the day, Jeanne's older sister, Chris, clinched the championship at Longwood with a 6-3, 6-0 victory over Veronica Burton.

Playing captain Virginia Wade notched Great Britain's second match victory by defeating Miss Hogan 6-2, 6-2 after the U.S. team had nailed down the Wightman championship a fifth consecutive year.

Fans Jeer Alouettes In Defeat by Riders

MONTREAL (CP) — The Alouettes did nothing to enhance their image with Canadian Football League fans in this city Saturday night as they were manhandled by the aroused Ottawa Rough Riders.

The Rough Riders won the Eastern Conference game 30-3 to snap a four-game losing streak. At the same time, the Alouettes, who had won their first two starts of the year, dropped their second game in a row.

The Rough Riders made the Alouettes look sick before a home crowd of 27,205, many of whom left before the final gun had sounded. Many of them also jeered and hooted before departing.

Quarterback Jerry Keeling, given good pass protection, fired a pair of touchdown passes to Rhome Nixon and one to Hugh Oldham. Gerry Organ kicked three field goals and converted all three TDs.

Montreal's lone scoring play was a 12-yard field goal by Don Sweet in the first quarter. The Als managed a net offence of only 43 yards as quarterback Jimmy Jones was thrown for losses amounting to 90 yards.

Ottawa tied the score at 2:22 of the second quarter on Organ's first field goal from 24 yards out and took the lead with 29 seconds remaining in the half when Keeling hit Nixon in the end zone from the Montreal 34.

The Riders took advantage of Ron Perowne's fumble off Dick Adams punt to add their second TD in the third quarter on Keeling's four-yard toss to Nixon.

Two field goals by Organ and a fourth-quarter touchdown pass to Oldham from Keeling from the Montreal 37 completed the rout.

"It was an over all poor performance," said Montreal coach Marv Levy. "We gave up the ball too early and too frequently. I don't think you can single out one thing."

"It's a grave injustice to say that Jimmy Jones played badly. They all played badly.

"I don't blame the fans for treating us the way they did."

"At least there's a sliver of daylight at the end of the tunnel," he said.

With 10 days off before their meeting with British Columbia Lions in Ottawa on Sept. 5, Gotta hopes the layoff will give running back Art Cantrelle time to recover from an ankle injury suffered in the first half.

Another Taiwan No-Hit Win

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Tainan City, Taiwan, won the Little League world series Saturday on its third straight no-hitter, beating Tucson, Ariz. 12-0.

Huang Ching-Huy, who pitched a perfect game in the opener of the eight-team series, struck out 16 batters, walked one and another player reached base on an infield error.

Tucson southpaw Mike Fimbers held Taiwan scoreless for the first three innings, but yielded three in the fourth on a home run, an error, a single, a wild pitch and two passed balls.

Fimbers, who had suffered an attack of asthma, was lifted in the fifth and replaced by Mike Martinez, who gave up nine runs in the last two innings on six hits.

Second-baseman Scheng Pai-Sheng, Taiwan's leading batter in the series, was four-for-four with a double and a home run. Haung and centrefielder Kuo-Wen-Li also hit roundtrippers, giving Taiwan an even dozen in its three games. It was the fifth batting mark shattered by the team. Taiwan's 57 runs in games against Tucson, Bitburg Germany AFB and Tampa, Fla., broke the old series record of 34 set in 1962.

The Taiwan players were booed as they took the field, a result of their overwhelming performances the first two games. They were expected to run away with the game against Tucson.

But Fimbers' sharply dropping curve confused the Taiwan batters for the first time in the series. Until the fielding errors of the fourth, it was anybody's game.

Volunteer Little League officials from throughout the U.S. began complaining in mid-week about Tawian's domination of the Little League. Taiwan won the senior league world series, for 13 to 15-year-old boys, in Gary, Ind., last week.

TWO VICTORIANS ON NATIONALS

GEORGE BRICE
. . . winning pitcher

(Times News Services)

EDMUNDSTON, N.B. — Two Victorians, George Brice and Mike Finlayson, a pair of righthanders, have been named to the 20-member Canadian baseball team which will compete in the Intercontinental Cup tournament in Rome Sept. 1-10.

Six players were named from the B.C. squad which Sunday defeated Manitoba 10-7 to retain the Canadian senior men's baseball championship.

Brice was the winning pitcher as B.C. scored six runs in the first inning, two in the second and two in the seventh. It was Brice's second win of the tournament.

In semi-final play, B.C. defeated Nova Scotia 4-3 and Manitoba edged Saskatchewan 4-2.

Finlayson and Mitchell were the pitchers who combined in the final game to pitch B.C. to the recent Canada Games championship. Finlayson has been playing in Vancouver this year.

Andre Pratt of Montreal is team manager.

The club will practice in Montreal this week before leaving for Rome.

A Losing Habit

By The Associated Press

Chicago Bears handed the Bills their fourth straight loss Sunday, a 13-10 defeat in a controversy-filled National Football League exhibition game that ended with two players slugging it out while time ran out.

In Sunday's other exhibition games, New York Giants beat Pittsburgh Steelers 29-24, San Francisco Giants punished Denver Broncos 43-7 and Green Bay Packers tripped Kansas City Chiefs 21-16.

On Saturday, St. Louis Cardinals edged New York Jets 13-10, New England Patriots pounded New Orleans Saints 31-6, Minnesota Vikings trounced Oakland Raiders 34-10, San Diego Chargers defeated Philadelphia Eagles 24-17, Washington Redskins stopped Baltimore Colts 20-3 and Cleveland Browns trimmed Atlanta Falcons 20-17.

CLOCK BREAKS DOWN

The field officials had to keep time with stopwatches in the second half after the stadium clock at Buffalo's Rich Stadium stopped working.

Buffalo was driving toward the Chicago goal line when J. D. Hill caught a long pass, then began mixing it up with his tackler, Allan Ellis, as the officials allowed time to run out.

Buffalo fans, who have suffered through six seasons in which the Bills have won only 17 games, took out some of their frustrations on the Bears, pelting them with paper cups, beer and sandwiches.

TWO-WAY THREAT

San Francisco scored two touchdowns before Denver completed an offensive play and led 40-0 at one point. MacArthur Lant ran for one touchdown and passed for another for the Packers.

Jim Bakken kicked a 54-yard field goal with one second to play to give the Cardinals their win. Jim Plunkett threw two touchdown passes for the Patriots.

Charley Taylor caught two touchdown passes for the Redskins, while rookie Chuck Foreman scored two touchdowns on the ground for the Vikings.

San Diego blew a 17-0 lead, then won on John Sykes' three-yard touchdown plunge with 32 seconds to play. Quarterbacks Mike Phipps and Brian Sipe accounted for Cleveland touchdowns, Phipps on the ground and Sipe passing.

LIANELLI CLUB ROMPS OVER ALBERTA REPS

Regarded as possibly the strongest club team in the world, Llanelli crushed Alberta Reps 58-9 in an exhibition game.

Andy Hill raced over for five tries for the Welshmen. Hill, who scored 300 points for his club last season, opened the scoring and later got four tries in a row.

Scrum-half Dave Slater, formerly of Victoria and now living in Calgary, scored the only try against Llanelli and fullback Jim Hamilton got the other points with a conversion and a drop goal.

Llanelli meets the Victoria Rugby Union President's XV at 6:30 Tuesday night at Royal Athletic Park and plays the Victoria Crimson Tide Reps at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at Centennial Stadium.

Donohue Extends Victory Streak

ELKHART LAKE, Wis. (AP) — Mark Donohue shrugged off 95-degree heat Sunday at Road America for a convincing victory and his third consecutive Canadian-American Challenge Cup sports car series triumph.

Donohue, who set a track record of 122.053 miles an hour on the winding, four-mile course in Saturday's qualifying, set the pace for the day by winning Sunday's 100-mile qualifying heat by 23 seconds.

Then he made his series domination even more evident in a 100-mile championship heat, lapping all but the second- and third-place cars in his turbocharged Porsche to finish a comfortable 29 seconds ahead of Jody Scheckter's turbo-Porsche.

George Follmer, the defending champion in the series, was third, also in a turbo-Porsche.

Donohue averaged 114.021 m.p.h. in the championship race, leading all the way. He won $5,000 in the qualifying heat, then added $10,000 in the championship.

With three races remaining in the series, Donohue has 79 points to 47 for Follmer. Scheckter moved past Charlie Kempt into third place with 39 points. Kemp has 30.

Donohue has qualified fastest in all five Can-Am series races this season, and won at Watkins Glen and Mid-Ohio before Road America.

Marg Boosts Tour Take

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Defending-champion Margaret Court of Australia defeated sixth-seeded Julie Heldman of London 6-3, 6-2 in the finals of the $30,000 women's pro tennis grasscourt championship.

For Mrs. Court, the victory meant $7,000, increasing her tour earnings for the year to $96,675.

Francoise Durr of France and Betty Stove of the Netherlands played superior tactical tennis to defeat Janet Newberry of La Jolla, Calif., and Pam Teegarden of Los Angeles 6-4, 6-3 for the $2,000 doubles title.

Late Birdies Rescue Title for Panasiuk

BILL WAKEHAM

By IAN MacLAINE

BURLINGTON, Ont. (CP) — Bob Panasiuk and Phil Giroux played the script the same Sunday as they did a year ago, but they're hoping that when they team up again in November for the World Cup golf championships, in Spain things will be different.

Panasiuk, the defending champion, won the Canadian Golfers' Association championship Sunday with a two-stroke victory over Giroux.

Panasiuk, a 32-year-old from Windsor, Ont., toured Burlington Golf and Country Club's 6,375-yard layout Sunday in 69— two under par—and finished with a 72-hole score of 272.

The victory in the $25,000 tournament was worth $5,000 and the Labatt's Cup while Giroux, from Montreal's Municipal Golf Club, had to settle for second prize money of $3,500 for the second year in a row.

The 37-year-old Montrealer actually held the lead in the final round and shared it after 15 holes. Then Panasiuk fired birdies on 16 and 17 while Giroux parred the rest of the way.

Both players, in a post-tournament interview, said they don't want the same experience in World Cup competition they did in Australia after finishing one-two in the championship last year.

Panasiuk said other players who attended the World Cup matches had matching outfits while he and Giroux "had nothing."

"We felt kind of scrubbish coming from Canada, one of the world's top countries, and not having outfits to match. I felt we should look like a team from an important country, which we are."

Veteran Moe Norman of Gilford, Ont., shared third place Sunday with Toronto's Gary Pitchford. Both players earned $2,000.

Grouped at 280, worth $1,000 apiece, were Bob Rose of Copetown, Ont., Lew Taylor of Ile Bizard, Que., and Bill Wakeham from Cowichan Station, B.C.

Wakeham, firing his second successive two-under-par 69 round after opening with a 70 and 72, had a chance to finish higher but took a bogey four on the closing hole after sinking birdie putts on the previous two holes.

Al Kennedy of Richmond tied for 14th with a 284 total and won $425 but other B.C. golfers didn't fare as well.

Victoria's John Morgan fired 68-75-74 and then withdrew while Bob Cox of Vancouver scored 71-73-74-73—291 and Ron Willey of Vancouver carded 72-73-75-75—295.

Yanks Survive British Charge

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The United States weathered a fabulous comeback by Britain to regain the Walker Cup Saturday in the 24th international matches for one of amateur golf's most prized trophies.

With Vinny Giles, Dan Edwards, Martin West, Mark Pfeil and Gary Koch coming back in strong fashion, the U.S. won the two-day event 14-10.

After winning three foursome matches and taking the other alternate shot encounter for a 10-6 lead in the morning, the Americans had to do everything but call out the Marines in the head-to-head singles wrapup.

The British, who managed only one of a possible eight points in the foursomes in two days, won five singles matches Friday and needed to do even better to retain the cup, which they won for only the second time in the biennial competition at St. Andrews two years ago.

However, the British, who enjoyed a holiday bash after winning 13-11 in 1971, accepted the challenge.

In six of the eight matches, they led after nine holes. They were tied in the other two, and even the most ardent U.S. team followers were concerned.

Injury Hits Calgary Ace

CALGARY — Calgary Stampeders are sweating out an injury to John Helton which may or may not keep him out of action.

The big tackle, kingpin of the Calgary defence, suffered strained knee ligaments in Wednesday's Western Football Conference game against Edmonton Stampeders. Coach Jim Duncan says it's a hopeful sign that no fluid has built up but Helton is a doubtful starter in next Tuesday's game against B.C. Lions.

Shaw Steers Castaways To Third Spot

Shaw hit a crisp 71 runs not out, helped Castaways to a seven-wicket victory over Incogs and steered the club into third place in the Victoria and District Cricket Association's final standings.

Opening bat Dave Clarke made 23 runs and captain Dave Auld hit 13 not out as Castaways reached 111 for the loss of three wickets after dismissing Incogs for 110. Jim Wenman took three wickets for 36 runs in leading the Incogs attack.

Scott Taylor made 24 runs and Mike Elcock had 18 for Incogs, who fell before the bowling of Nick Walton (six for 44), Alan Rees (three for 31) and Mark Hillis (one for nine).

Before Sunday's game, Castaways were in fifth place in the six-team league but shot past both Oak Bay and Alcos by gaining the maximum nine points — five points for the win and four bonus points.

The bonus points system, introduced this year, actually made the difference of finishing third instead of second for Castaways, who edged Incogs by two in points but had three fewer bonus points and were shaded by one point overall.

Albion finished the season undefeated Saturday by beating Oak Bay by 32 runs at Beacon Hill Park.

Gordie McDonald made 22 runs and Mal Shanks hit 17 as Albion reached 80 all out. Eric Richards took five for 14 for Oak Bay and Ken Aziz had four for 41.

Alec Porter, the association's top bowler, then took his total for the season to 82 wickets by taking six for 18 as Albion dismissed Oak Bay for 48. Richards made 18 and Peter Downes 10.

At Windsor Park Saturday, Cowichan, the defending champion, scored a 25-run victory over Alcos but still finished the season in last place.

Tim Lord scored 66 to help Cowichan declare at 159 for nine. Mike Dodd (two for 16) and Trevor Bagot (two for 17) were the most effective Alcos bowlers.

Lord then took four for 39 and Jan Aten finished with three for 25 as Cowichan got Alcos out for 134. Peter Nation scored 40 and John Campbell had 25.

CLIPPER POST FOR BRISCOE

Bob Briscoe, who coached Victoria Cougars for a segment of the last Western Canada Junior League season, was named coach of Nanaimo Clippers on Saturday.

Clippers, the Victoria farm club in the tier-two B.C. Junior League, are scheduled to open training camp with the Cougars on Sept. 17 in Memorial Arena.

Seaboard Builds Three-Game Lead

Seaboard Construction appeared to be leaving little to chance Sunday on the way to building a 3-0 lead in the best-of-seven Stuffy McGinnis Men's Softball League playoff final series.

Seaboard blanked Century Inn 4-0 in the afternoon contest and then humbled their Innkeepers 10-0 in the night encounter.

Barry Wilkin struck out six batters, allowed no bases on balls and scattered seven hits to pick up the first victory while Glen Bullen threw a three-hitter in the second game, striking out six and yielding no walks.

Scott Sinclair set the pace for Seaboard batters in the afternoon with a single that drove in two runs in the first inning. He also scored in the fifth.

—Glen Kilduff, Mike Taaffe and Bullen each drove in two runs during Seaboard's 13-hit attack in the night game. Kilduff finished with two hits in four trips to the plate and scored twice.

Bowling Plans Altered

Vancouver Island Ladies' Lawn Bowling Association officials have announced a change in time and site for the Champion of Champions tournament.

Originally scheduled for Thursday and Friday on Oak Bay greens, the round-robin battle among singles champions from each club will take place Sept. 6 and 7 at Burnside.

In a recent inter-club competition, Art Shaw and Cec Sarles of Lake Hill nipped Bert Bennett and Jean Chandler of Burnside 15-14 to win the Dogwood Trophy mixed Scotch doubles tourney at Lake Hill.

Bakers Knot Series With Late Charge

Lacrosse fans could be expecting another thriller at Memorial Arena Wednesday night.

An 11-9 score in the first game last Wednesday and then a 10-8 decision Saturday have left the best-of-seven Pacific Junior "A" Lacrosse League playoff final knotted at 1-1.

Richmond Roadrunners won the series opener in Victoria and looked like making it 2-0 at Richmond Saturday night. They led 6-4 after two periods and stretched that to 7-4 early in the final period.

But Victoria McDonald's Bread, winner of the league title, came back strongly in the last five minutes to snatch victory, with Mike Yager scoring both the tying goal and the winner.

Nearly 2,000 fans crammed into the 1,600-seat Richmond Arena to watch some tight-checking lacrosse as the teams battled to a 1-1 deadlock in the first period.

As well as Yager, Jim Lynch, Jerry Kustaski and Dan Green all scored two goals each for McDonalds. Other Victoria scorers were Jeevan Dillon and Rick Sage.

League scoring champion Bob Tasker and Ricco Belluscі were the only Roadrunners to get two goals against John Hamilton, who had another outstanding game in goal for Victoria. He finished with 43 saves, including 16 in a busy third period.

Other Richmond goals were scored by Brian Tasker, Doug May, Ed Ashcroft and Harvey Olsen.

Fourth game of the series is set for here Friday night and then it's back to Victoria next Sunday if a fifth game is required.

Vancouver Girl Earns Junior-Olympic Award

MONTREAL — Maureen Crowley of Vancouver was picked as the outstanding female athlete Sunday after competition in the two-day inaugural national junior Olympic track and field championships.

Miss Crowley's selection followed a victory in the 800 metres with an impressive time of 2:05-1 minutes.

Mary Nash of Toronto was named the outstanding male athlete after anchoring the Optimists from Scarborough to a Canadian junior record in the 4 x 100 metre relay as well as picking up individual gold medals in the 100 and 200 metres.

Randy Makolosky of Calgary ran the men's 800 metres in 1:48.9, paring 2.8 seconds off the previous record; Bishop Dolegiewicz of Toronto heaved the shot 17.18 metres, more than half a metre further than the previous standard of 16.56; and Ann Mackie of Calgary ran the 400 metres in 54.0 seconds, 3-10ths of a second better than the old record.

The Ontario women's "A" team also set a record in the 4 x 100 relay, slicing 2-10ths of a second off the previous junior mark of 46.8 seconds.

Victoria athletes among the 385 competitors from all 10 provinces picked up three third places.

Lorna McHattie finished third in the women's shot put, Brian Hawksworth was third in the 400-metre men's hurdles and Jill Pelland placed third in the distaff 100-metre hurdles.

Joanne Calverley of Nanaimo was third in the women's discus and fourth in the shot.

Prince George Wins

PRINCE GEORGE — Prince George Oldstylers edged New Westminster Blues 11-10 Sunday to capture the British Columbia senior "B" lacrosse championship and earn a trip to Halifax and the Canadian finals starting Sept. 5.

NOTICE OF INDUSTRIAL ROAD CLOSURE – NITINAT LAKE

The road to the North side of Nitinat Lake will be closed August 27th through to September 7th inclusive to permit repairs of the Little Nitinat Bridge. It is suggested that persons wishing to go into the Nitinat area use the launch at the M & B Campsite or at the North end of Nitinat Lake.

B.C.F.P. regrets this closure during prime recreation time, however these repairs must be carried out during a non-operating period and when streamflow is low in accordance with instructions of local Fisheries and Wildlife Officers.

Payola May Top 1950s Scandal

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A federal investigation of possible kickbacks and tax violations in the multi-million-dollar United Sates record industry may bite even deeper than the payola scandal of the 1950s, sources say.

A grand jury was formed in June to take evidence about alleged underworld connections and financial mismanagement among executives at Columbia Records.

The grand jury investigation is being handled with rigid secrecy. But recent courtroom manoeuvres and comments by industry sources, indicate it is wide and deep.

Among the recent events are:

— The reported issuance of subpoenas to at least eight major record companies — Columbia, Atlantic, Elektra, Warner Bros., Stax, Chess Janus, London and Bell.

— The issuance of subpoenas to at least 20 New York City and New Jersey radio stations, many of which specialize in rock-music programming.

— The revelation at a court hearing that Stax Records of Memphis, a leading soul-music label, lost $406,000 in 1971 because of an alleged scheme in which two vice-presidents were involved.

— The indication that at least four assistant U.S. attorneys are devoting full time to the investigation and that a task force of Internal Revenue Service agents is studying subpoenaed documents, including personnel files of radio station employees and voluminous files of record-company dealings with distributors and radio stations.

"It seems to be a much more systematic approach than was taken in the 1950s payola investigation," an industry observer said.

Officials have been playing down one aspect of the inquiry: the possible links between the organized crime and the record industry.

Early in the investigation, one government source described a possible pattern in which mob families were moving into the record industry and taking over control of temperamental rock artists to keep them in line.

Since then, officials have made it clear that the justice department's organized crime experts are no longer involved in the investigation.

Payola is a general term to describe payments, by record companies either in cash or merchandise, to radio staions or record companies in return for the playing or buying of the company's records.

IRS auditors are believed looking for unusual or large cash transactions that may be evidence of payola.

NUDISTS SKIN MAYOR

ERDEVEN, France (AP) — Mayor Jean Lorgeoux and his entire municipal council resigned Satruday after a futile battle to keep nudists away from the town.

When a band of nudists showed up near this sunswept little town early in July, Lorgeoux first tried gentle persuasion to get them to move elsewhere. They ignored him, and set up fences and signs reading "Nudist camp, stay out."

The mayor then sent the police to throw the nudists off the spit of sand where they had settled, but that tactic also failed.

A provincial official mediated the dispute, and the nudists agreed to cover the lower part of their bodies. But Lorgeoux still wasn't satisfied, and sent men to block access to the camp by digging trenches. As fast as the men dug, the nudists threw the earth back in.

Finally the mayor switched to mechanized warfare, sending farmers on tractors to force the nudists out. But after a few scuffles, the tractors withdrew.

Lorgeoux and the council then resigned.

Levesque Claims Misquote

MONTREAL (CP) — Rene Levesque, Parti Quebecois leader, said Sunday a statement he made in Toronto last week concerning the death of Pierre Laporte, former Quebec labor minister, was misinterpreted in published reports.

Levesque said he told a communications conference in Toronto that "with all the underhanded bribes concerning the events of that October which have come to light after three years, one wonders whether there was not a sort of psychological exchange of the life of Mr. Pierre Laporte for that of British diplomat, Mr. James Cross."

Reports of Levesque's remarks were heavily criticized Friday by Quebec Premier Robert Bourassa, who said they "revealed unbelievable cynicism and were absolutely unworthy of a responsible man in public office."

Laporte, who was abducted Oct. 1970, was found strangled in the trunk of a car a week later. Paul Rose is serving two concurrent life terms for Laporte.
the kidnapping and murder of Laporte.

Francis Simard is serving a life term for the murder and Bernard Lortie is serving 20 years for the kidnapping.

Cross, who was kidnapped Oct. 5, 1970, was freed Dec. 3 and his kidnappers flown to Cuba, a condition of the kidnap victim's release.

Camera Clue Led to Ore

PORT ELIZABETH (AP) — Photographic clues from a United States satellite circling the earth are reported to have led to the discovery of large deposits of uranium in South Africa's Cape province.

American and South African mining companies are prospecting and taking up options on farms all over the area.

Two American mining companies, Union Carbide and Utah Mining, have started prospecting while three other companies, U.S. Steel and Newmont and Rand Mines of South Africa, are seeking options.

Men in Delivery Rooms —It's Not for Cowards

Jonathan Franklin, our peerless news editor, is the third friend of mine who has had a baby in the last month and, of course, I rejoice with him that it is one of the better kind, a girl who's been given the lovely name of Thia. Otherwise the whole performance leaves me cold.

By "having a baby" I mean that Jonathan and my other two friends actually went into the delivery rooms with their wives, watched the whole event and even, I gather, participated to some extent, though how I'd rather not know.

This is, of course, A Thing To Do these days. In an Esquire article called "Men Don't Know Nuthin' 'Bout Birthin' Babies" which I'll be quoting, I fancy, rather a lot, Barbara Grizzuti Harrison observes, "Having a baby now has become a family affair, like going to Yosemite. The man who once paced the corridors is likely to be inside the delivery room taking home movies. Men now want to be part of the mysterious inner-sanctum action. They want to 'share the experience' . . . They want to be able to say — and they do say — 'We gave birth.'"

But not this man, I hasten to say. This man wants to be bellied up to a bar in some dark saloon, drinking doubles waiting for the phone to ring, while his wife is going through that business.

The odds, I grant you, are long — you might even say ridiculous—that I will be playing that role again, but if I ever do I want to have a baby the way I've had three of them, the way my father did and the way his father did, well removed from the action, well fortified with grain spirits. I have been altogether happy meeting my daughters for the first time when they were in nice little cribs, behind glass, decorated with pink ribbons (I never got a blue) and that's as close as I want to be until they come home.

If this is selfish or cowardly, then so be it, but I don't happen to think that it's either. Mrs. Harrison, herself, admits that the presence of her husband at the birth of her first child, from the moment her contractions began at five minute intervals, made no difference, either way. "To be honest," she writes, "his endearments and reassurances had become exquisitely irrelevant."

That is my first rationale. I do not want to be in the way or to inhibit her in any fashion and if I just happened to be one of those men who faint dead away, a common occurrence, I'd be simply compounding her difficulties.

My second rationale is that I just don't believe this was meant to be a function of marital togetherness or that, by merely being an observer, a man is really sharing the miracle.

Again, Mrs. Harrison puts it as no man could.

"But—and may God, if she is a feminist, forgive me—I think that bred in the bone and marrow of a woman is a still, deep knowledge that giving birth is, like dying, an experience that one does not ever truly 'share'," she writes. "A man may be there — a woman who loves a man may be happy to have him there — but his consciousness is a separate consciousness. Birth does not take place in the mind. The arena for the act of birth is a woman's body, and no man can fully comprehend or share it."

This is not to say, mind you, that that coward hiding in the bar is unaware of the agony and the ecstasy of the experience or that he believes that the birth of a baby is managed with the ease of a flower bursting in bloom.

He knows full well that his wife is enduring pain. His thoughts, his heart go out to her as he keeps his traditional, ineffectual vigil. If he believed for a moment that he could ease her hurting by being there he would be there. It is a respect for her privacy, for that close relationship between doctor and patient, and, most of all, the knowledge that there's not a dam'd thing he can do to make it any easier, that determines his role.

If it has worked for Jonathan and Haleen and those other couples I'm happy for them, but for me, well, I'd rather be some place, any place, else. Phone me when it's over.

Piling Up Wharf Interest

Piling up for some later action are these boys who attracted passersby on an Inner Harbor wharf. They are grabbing pile worms which, dangling on the end of a hook, may net the youngster and his family a cod or bass supper.

HALL-MARK OF GRATITUDE DURING FERRYLESS TIME

Provincial secretary Ernie Hall has sent thank-you letters to the mayors of Victoria, Sidney and Nanaimo for the efforts of those municipalities during the ferry strike last week which left thousands of tourists on Vancouver Island longer than planned.

Hall said provision of refreshments, toilet facilities, sleeping accommodations and dances was appreciated by the government.

Also singled out for praise were service clubs and organizations such as the Victoria YM-YWCA, the RCMP and provincial civil defence.

"The friendly, helpful attitude of the residents of the areas affected, acting both officially and privately, will, I am sure, result in many of the visitors returning to vacation here in future years,"

Trash Fire Razes Acres In Langford

Langford firemen spent a total of six hours battling two bush fires Sunday which razed about two acres of land.

Sparks from a pile of burning garbage at a lot of the 800-block Walfred ignited a stump pile and set numerous spot fires. The fires burned four hours before 18 firemen were able to gain control.

Later the same day 22 men worked two hours extinquishing a number of burning trees on an uncleared lot at 523 Trenor in the Phelps subdivision.

A bulldozer was used to push some felled logs from a hilltop into a gulley where they were sprayed with water and bordered by a ditch.

Camosun Costs May Shoot Up By One-Third

A 32 per cent jump in operating costs is predicted in 1974-75 budget estimates, to be put before Camosun College council tonight.

An operating budget of $5.5 million will be presented to the council by finance committee chairman Walter Donald.

The college's operating budget for 1973-74 was $4.1 million.

The estimates attribute the increased cost to normal inflation and growth (12 per cent), new programs and planning (8 per cent), and improved services (12 per cent).

Comosun bursar P. D. Winram said the estimated rise in the operating budget is roughly the same as this year.

Sixty per cent of the budget is provided by the provincial government, with the remaining 40 per cent by tuition fees and money from the Greater Victoria School District through local taxes.

The proposed operating budget would send the Greater Victoria school mill rate up .09 mills, compared with a .12 mill increase this year.

An $884,340 capital budget for 1974-5 will also be presented to the college council.

Biggest single item in the budget is $153,300 for equipment for the college's nautical training school, which it hopes to expand considerably.

A sum of $98,000 is allocated for buying and installing portable buildings on the Lansdowne campus to house health core, visual arts and other programs.

The college hopes to buy surplus portable buildings from the school board, said Winram.

Part of the capital budget is allocated to expanding and equipping the college library and making it a media centre as well, complete with audio-visual equipment.

LIFE SKILL COACHES

A proposed four-month course to train Indians to work on social problems in Indian communities will be presented to Camosun College Council tonight for approval.

The course, if approved, will be the first of its kind in British Columbia and will become part of the college's native Indian program.

It is one of new program proposals for 1973-74 to be submitted to the council.

The new program would train Indian "life skills coaches" who will work on reserves and in urban areas to help their own people make the transition into urban life more effectively.

It is an offshoot of a life skills course for Indian students at Camosun, teaching problem solving and communication skills, which started in 1972-73.

A survey of those taking the course showed 85 per cent found it helpful in solving personal and family problems and in adjusting to the non-Indian urban community.

Well over half the students said they wished there were life skills programs for Indians living on reserves, according to the survey.

Terry McNamara, life skills coach at Camosun, will be attending a five-week training session for life skills coach trainers this fall in Prince Albert, Sask.

Another program proposal for the college is to establish a new curriculum core in social services, with a one-year social worker assistant program to begin in 1974-75 as the first part of the core.

A two-year teacher assistant program is proposed.

Also proposed are:

—A public administration course to train people for the civil service.

—An insurance management course to train insurance technologists.

—A tourism and travel course to train tourist counsellors or travel agents for private industry or government agencies.

—The second year of the hotel-motel administration course (first year is already offered).

—A two-year biomedical electronics course to train people to aid professionals in medical and related fields in design, maintenance and operation of electronic devices used in diagnosis and therapy.

—A two-year respiratory technology course to train people to aid professionals in diagnosis, treatment and care of patients with respiratory ailments, and to maintain the needed equipment.

—A one-year visual arts course.

—A short (about two months) program to train ward aides for extended care and private hospitals.

MOTHER, SON HURT IN BIKE-CAR CRASH

A Saanich woman and her four-year-old son were taken to Victoria General Hospital in critical condition Sunday with injuries suffered in a bike-truck accident near Maddock Avenue West and Tillicum.

Police said Cheryl Jean Sullivan, 23, of 388 Davida, was riding a bicycle with her son, Sean Edward, on the bar when they collided at 11:45 a.m. with a pickup truck driven by Ian Paul Gallipo, 384 Gorge Road West.

Police said the pair were taken off the critical list today with the mother in poor condition and the son fair.

Gallipo was unharmed, said police.

Pollen Scolds Tourist Bureau Quitters

By PAUL MOSS
Times Staff

The decision to kill the Greater Victoria Visitors and Convention Bureau at the end of the current tourist season was a "completely irrational action" designed to "embarrass" Victoria city council, says Mayor Peter Pollen.

Pollen rebukes the bureau's directors — in a statement circulated to aldermen — for taking that decision last spring in spite of the city's "most generous support and continued leadership" with regard to the bureau and its activities.

The directors, he says, "in what would appear to be a moment of impulse and pique, vigorously solicited proxy votes throughout the membership of the visitors' bureau with a view to forcing the bureau into liquidation.

"It would appear the purpose of this completely irrational action by the directors of the bureau was to embarrass the council of the city of Victoria in spite of the fact they had never appeared before council for an in-depth discussion with regard to the situation as they saw it."

Elsewhere in his two-page statement, the mayor reminds the tourists industry that city taxpayers have already paid for and are continuing to support major beautification and improvement projects that benefit the industry itself as well as the citizens generally.

Closure Done 'To Embarrass'

And he invites the help of the industry's "more enlightened and responsible elements" in ensuring the continuation of thhe visitors' bureau.

Pollen's memorandum recalls that council decided last year to place the city's financial contribution to the bureau on a "more formal and disciplined basis."

The decision was that in 1973 the city would provide $2 for every $1 collected by the bureau from its membership of tourist-oriented businesses; and that in subsequent years the city's support would be on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

Then, after producing his "impulse and pique" comment, the mayor goes on to point out (as he did at last week's meeting of council-in-committee) that the bureau has been operating this year "almost entirely supported by the taxpayer of the city of Victoria, with literally no financial contribution whatsoever from its membership."

He stresses it is important to recognize the city is already paying "an inordinate amount of its tax revenue into the betterment or enhancement of the environmental aspects of the city, for not only its citizens but its very important tourist industry."

Among examples of city financial involvement in such projects he mentions $60,000 as Victoria's share of the lower Causeway now under construction; $300,000 for acquisition of the Ocean Cement site at the Inner Harbor; and "in excess of $200,000" for current negotiations to purchase the Imperial Oil gas station adjacent to the visitors' bureau.

Revive Bureau, Industry Asked

"Perhaps the small group of most short-sighted industry spokesmen would also appreciate the fact the city of Victoria in the last two years has added more parks to its parks system than have been added since the turn of the century—yes, the turn of the centruy."

Inviting industry help in keeping the bureau alive, Pollen's statement concludes:

"The council of the city of Victoria will continue to match the contributions of the membership of the Victoria visitors' bureau dollar for dollar.

"We fell this is most fair and equitable, particularly for a bureau that is primarily—and this should be strongly emphasized and recognized—for the dissemination of specific tourist information for hotel accommodation, commercial recreation facilities and, in a more general area, the dissemination of information of interest to the tourist.

"The bureau must surely be recognized primarily as a cooperative advertising vehicle for the tourist industry in the area."

Winning Ways Wanted

"I'm confident that somewhere in the Victoria area there is a young woman with the qualifications to place her in the finals of our national young career woman contest next year."

In those words Suzanne Dearman, president of Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club, made it clear her club is out to find a winner.

Mrs. Dearman explains that the young career woman contest has been a project of Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs for several years.

"We've been whole-heartedly in favor of it, but until now we have not entered a contestant."

This time around, she says, "we are in it right up to the finishing line."

First step will be to sponsor a young career woman contest in this area during Business Women's Week (another project of Canadian Federation of BPW Clubs) November 4 to 10.

Through Mrs. Dearman, the club has already sent letters of invitation to 15 organizations (most of them women's groups) asking that the name (or names) of eligible young women be submitted on or before September 30.

A panel of impartial judges will meet and talk to the contestants. Final decision will be made from these interviews, also from personal fact sheets the young women will be asked to fill in and through a seminar during Business Women's Week, in which they will participate.

"Then comes the really exciting part," Mrs. Dearman says.

Winner of the Victoria area contest will compete with young career women chosen in other areas of Vancouver Island, at a one-day regional meeting at Duncan, next spring.

If successful she then competes with finalists from five other regions in British Colulmnbia at a provincial BPW conference in Prince George during the holiday weekend in May, 1974.

The provincial winner will be a guest at the national BPW biennial convention in Vancouver, July 20 to 25, 1974, where she will compete with candidates from other provinces for national recognition.

"We expect to bring home that crown," Mrs. Dearman tells you.

Asked about the underlying purpose of the contest she is quick to say "it's to give recognition to young women who have accepted responsibility in their vocations and in their communities."

Then she added "we hope it will also make the Victoria area more aware of their outstanding women."

Mrs. Dearman, herself the office manager of Victoria Wholesale Grocers Ltd., firmly believes that young women should be encouraged to prepare well "for responsible business and professional opportunities in today's world."

Business Women's Week, sponsored nationally by Canadian Federation of BPW Clubs since 1955, directs attention of the Canadian public to the contribution all women in business and the professions are making to the economic, political, social, cultural and spiritual life of the country.

In recognition of the many outstanding young women now entering these various fields, the federation decided to focus attention on this age group by sponsoring the national contest.

"We believe such an experience, shared with other young women will broaden viewpoints and create a desire for greater achievement in their chosen careers," the local president says.

Of course, as she also points out, the Victoria area contest must depend on the degree of co-operation from organizations that have been contacted.

That will not be known, in full, until deadline date for entries—September 30.

Flash! Be sure and see the Marine Biology Module on display until Friday this week in the back-to-school section, third floor of The Bay.

It was researched and assembled by the provincial museum and is sponsored by the federal and provincial governments, the fisheries association of British Columbia and The Bay.

Designed to teach school children something of marine biology in its various forms, the module will travel throughout school districts in th province during the fall and winter season.

A start will be made, early in September, in the Quesnel district where there is no sea or shoreline.

News of Pregnancy Travelled Too Fast

DEAR ABBY: I am so angry I want to scream. I'm expecting my first baby after wanting one for five years. I am only six weeks along, so naturally we haven't told anyone yet. Not even our parents.

Yesterday I attended a church luncheon. Afterwards, the chairman stood up and said, "The floral centerpiece is for one of our members who is expecting her first baby after wanting one for so long!" Then she looked right at me.

Abby, I must have turned the color of a tomato. Then all the buzzing and chattering started. My mother and mother-in-law were both there looking surprised and hurt. I was so upset I wanted to run.

Neither my husband nor I told a soul, but yesterday he did bring home a used crib, and somebody must have seen him carry it into the house.

Why do people have to be so nosy? Now it's going to seem like such a long pregnancy. I can just hear them asking me the last two months, "Are YOU still walking around?"

At the bottom of your column it says, "You'll feel better if you get it off your chest." Thanks for listening. — Burning

DEAR BURNING: And you'll feel better when you get it off. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: I am a married woman who has been deeply involved with a married man for four years. He has children and so have I.

I divorced my husband thinking he would divorce his wife and marry me. I can't honestly say that he promised to divorce his wife, but he said so many things like: "If we were both free, I would marry you in a minute," and: "I have never loved anyone the way I love you." I took it to mean he would divorce his wife and marry me. I was wrong.

My husband never suspected a thing until I made a full confession. Now that he knows the truth he will have nothing to do with me. Was I foolish? — Virgo.

DEAR VIRGO: You were. Your mistake was taking pillow talk seriously. Actually, it's nothing more than a lot of horsefeathers.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 69-year-old man. I buried my wife five years ago. We had a good life together, but I think it is time now for me to get interested in some of the nice ladies who have been so kind to me these past five years.

My problem is that I have been paying $13 a year for the upkeep on my wife's plot. It's not the money that bothers me, it is the yearly reminder of my wife that keeps me from getting interested in another woman.

What do you suggest? — Not Free Yet.

DEAR NOT: Inquire about the possibility of paying for the maintenance of the plot for the duration of your lifetime. I'm sure it can be arranged.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

Forecast for Tuesday, August 28
By SYDNEY OMARR

ARIES (March 21 - April 19): Reach beyond what appears to be a limitation. Don't let others tell you what is possible, impossible. Form your own opinions after giving full play to intellectual curiosity. Means ask questions in sharp, concise manner.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20): Friendship and money don't make best mixture at this time. Know it and act accordingly. Promises come free-and-easy. Fulfilling them is another story. Member of opposite sex expresses confusion. Maintain your own balance.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): Study Taurus message. What appeared to be solid legal commitment could be something else. Know it and do some investigating. Virgo person could play prominent role. Be perceptive. Take nothing for granted. Find reasons for recent actions.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Home, domestic situation—these dominate. Family member needs face-saving device. Know it and act in mature manner. Relatives descend. Be gracious. Nerves need control—and so does your diet. Check with physician about less carbohydrates and more protein!

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22): See through sham. Paying "make believe" is fun if you are a child. But you could get out on a limb dealing only with fantasy. If you persist in seeing through haze of wishful thinking, you will pay the price.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Cycle remains at point where you can dance to your own tune. Capricorn, Cancer persons are in picture. Legal matters, money in escrow—these also are featured. Highlight practical approach. Businesslike procedure is a necessity.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Finish rather than begin—get better distribution. You have right to correct past mistakes. Those who act as though their feelings are crushed should be ignored. Aries plays key role. Get behind scenes and at the truth.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): Friends may be confused. Know it and rely on your own information. Be independent. Stick to your style. Leo, Aquarius persons are drawn to you. Check proposition having to do with oil. Get expert counsel but arrive at your decision based on personal judgment.

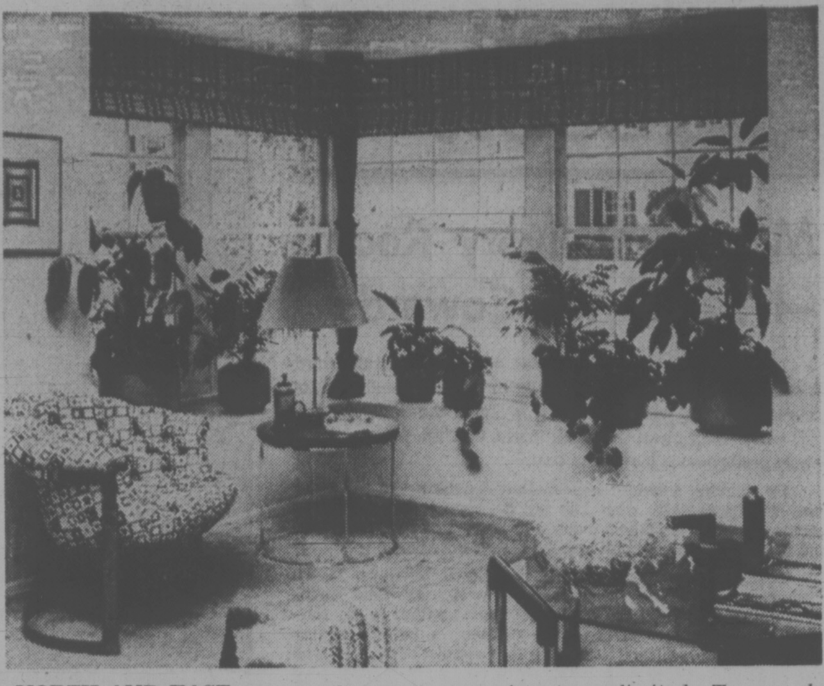
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Teach, learn—heed one who offers spiritual counsel. You gain insights which have been elusive. You know where you are going and why. Aquarian is involved. Rise above the petty. Meditation now is of special importance.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Give yourself room for expansion. You need not settle for pigeonhole. You have right to your own niche. Know it and let others realize you are aware. Sagittarius, Gemini and Aries play significant roles.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Check for legal loopholes. Promises made to mate or partner may be different than you expect. Probe beneath surface indications. One who seems "out of place" could become valuable ally if you are receptive.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Maintain low profile. Play waiting game. Don't push or insist. By letting others have their say, you build bridge of goodwill. One in authority does have plans for you. But you will have to be patient. Gemini, Virgo persons are likely to be in picutre.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are creative, perceptive, argumentative, considered impossible to "label." You are a natural rebel. You refuse to be painted into any corner. You draw to you many born under Leo and Aquarius. In October, you could be taking surprise journey. Social contacts improve and you are due for happier days.



NORTH AND EAST exposure seems better for most indoor plants because direct exposure to the sun is either non-existent or limited. Too much sun will burn the leaves and dry out the soil.

Plants In Out of the Rain

By PAULINE GRAVES

Maybe the increase in apartment and condominium living has done it, or perhaps it is our newly found interest in ecology, but whatever the cause, the beauty and appeal of indoor plants has been re-discovered. Their greenery and graceful lines soften man-made structures as nothing else can. And those people who have moved from houses into multiple dwellings replace the gardens they left behind with assorted pots and plants in varying shapes and sizes, usually indoors.

The handsome corner window shown here has great architectural interest and is one of those very special details that sets a house apart. In effect, the many-paned windows are in an 18-inch deep recess which gives the illusion of thick walls. And this depth, under the windows, provides a natural plant display area. The plants thrive in the light, and the room benefits from their presence.

Architecturally, however, the corner stands on its own good design. A turned post, stained dark to contrast with the light wall colors, is the focal point and gives substance to all of the glass around it. And when interest in indoor plants subsides, the wide ledge can support colorful pillows, books and decoratives, or just left plain.

Note that the plants benefit from being grouped together, rather than being placed at equal intervals, which becomes spotty. Not only does a grouping look better, but plants grow better because of increased humidity.

Stripping clocks can be tricky. The safest way to insure maximum protection of the clock's works is to remove them entirely. Most clocks are attached to their casings by a few screws that can be removed for easy dismantling.

Veneer finishes are another difficult problem when removing built-up varnishes. Most solid wood furniture can take a washing down with water. A veneer finish is a thin layer of wood, 1-16 inch thick, glued to the surface of wood. It has a more exotic grain, usually covering an inferior wood grain.

If too much water is used, the glue under the veneer will dissolve and veneer will lift up. The best rule to follow is to remove the stripper with as little water as possible. Damp-sponge clean. Should the veneer lift up when refinishing a piece, lay a heavy weight on the buckled surface for at least twelve hours or until the glue underneath dries.

Inlay wood designs were very common on pieces in the 1920s and 1930s. A good inlay does not require as much care as a veneer finish. For poorly executed inlays, where the edge of the inlay does not flush exactly with the wood, refinish as you would a veneer finish.

Stains are very versatile. When wood is completely free of old varnish, stains, shellac, paint or waxes, the natural woods vary very little in color. There is no rule that says you cannot stain an oak grain table with a walnut stain.

Several people have asked if there are schools in their vicinity that teach furniture refinishing. If you have already looked in the classified telephone directory and haven't had any success, call your local high school and talk to the shop teacher. He may have a lead to any courses available in your community. Also check to see if there are any cabinetmakers in your town.

NEEDLEPOINT BASKETS

I was very interested in the craft idea of the woman who needlepointed flowers and butterflies on porch screening. I also have found an unusual way of apply the basic needlepoint stitch.

I buy tightly woven baskets ranging in size and design. I use a large needle and a heavyweight yarn to work in and out through the woven straw, just as if it were a quick point (large weave) backing. I draw my designs on the basket surface with felt markers. For baskets with the sttraw showing through, try embroidery.

CANCELLED STAMPS

In a past column, a reader asked if there were any craft items that could be made from cancelled stamps. For those craft-oriented individuals who save more stamps then they can use, here's a suggestion from Mrs. A. MacDonnell, who writes:

Cancelled stamps may be sent, and are deeply appreciated by the Scarboro Foreign Missions, 2685 Kingston Road, Scarboro, Ontario.

Canadians spend about $40 million a year on vitamin and mineral products. If you follow Canada's Food Guide these vital nutrients will be supplied by your daily diet.

The Health Protection's Branch No. 23, "To Supplement Or Not" tells you who needs additional vitamins and minerals. For instance, women who are pregnant or nursing a baby and some sick people with poor appetites may do. So may those whose diet cnsists mainly of hot dogs, hamburgers, french fries and soft drinks.

Even though most manufacturers make sure their products maintain the potency indicated on the label until several months after the stated expiry date, the leaflet recommends that you check this date whenever you buy a vitamin supplement.

You will also learn the food sources and the functions of the essential vitamins and minerals. For instance, Vitamin K, contained in green and yellow vegetables, regulates the normal clotting of blood. And pantothenic acid, present in liver, kidney, egg yolk, nuts and legumes, controls your energy metabolism.

Mint Gives Zest To Drab Protein

By HILDA BEASTALL

Using old fashioned mint in new ways, you find new flavors developing in foods we now enjoy for their protein values but which by themselves may lack the zest of meat.

Brown rice, lentils, soybeans are examples of fine foods improved by flavoring with mint.

Mint has too long been limited to a sauce for lamb and a sprig or two cooked with new potatoes and peas. Since it brings out the basic flavors of food without masking them, it is also capable of being successfully used with many vegetables and fruits and the dishes you prepare from these foods.

As with all berbs, use mint sparingly when first experimenting. The aroma while heating is appetizing — the fresh mint fragrance. When served, the mintiness has blended with the basic food, adding richness of flavor in much the same way as does garlic when used with the touch of a master.

Use mint in fresh green salads. Chop one or two leaves finely, add to sour-cream, yogurt or mayonnaise dressings and spoon over green salads such as green or red cabbage, lettuce, endive or mixtures of these. Cooked green beans, peas and summer squash regain flavor when served cold for salads if you add a simple dressing such as these.

When fruits such as applesauce, pineapple or pear are added to these salads as garnishes, a spoonful of yogurt or cottage cheese sprinkled with chopped mint leaves adds a delicate flavor. We find less need for sugar, salt and pepper when enjoying these dressings with raw or cooked foods.

Soups, either entirely homemade, or from canned or dried mixes, receive a boost when sprinkled with crumbled dry mint leaves in winter or freshly chopped leaves as soon as available in spring.

New to many will be a soup made from the tuberous roots of Jerusalem artichokes (easy to grow in any good soil), cooked with several uncut cloves of garlic and a teaspoon of lemon juice, a sprinkling of chopped mint and a little salt. Serve hot in winter, or chilled if you like.

From the north of England comes a Mint Pasty which ranks with our relish dishes or party snacks.

Combine 1 c. currants, ¼ c. brown sugar, 2 tsp. fresh mint finely chpped, 1 tbsp. soft margarine. Spread mixture on thin layer of uncooked pastry, cover with another layer of pastry, bake in hot ven until lightly browned. Cut at once into sizes and shapes desired.

Small pinwheels are even easier to make by spreading the same mixture on one pastry layer and rolling up like a jelly roll. Slice either before or after baking to a light brown.

Mint is easy to grow in an apartment balcony tub or in a corner of the vegetable garden. The grey leaved, woolly mint gives the best results. Fresh, home dried for winter, or purchased in a glass jar, mint is worth exploring in food combinations other than those found in orthodox cookbooks.

U.K. Specialists Added to List Of Converts to Acupuncture

LONDON (Reuter) — A dramatic demonstration of the power of acupuncture as pain-killer has added four British medical experts to the converts to the ancient Chinese medical art.

Significantly, the four are all specialists in the mechanisms and treatment of pain. And their "guinea-pig" patients — at least six of whom reported lasting relief after treatment with the needles — had been suffering severe and intractable pain for which drugs held no answer.

She later reported to the Centre for Pain Relief at Liverpool's Walton Hospital with agonizing pains in the left shoulder, armpit and wall of the chest. Orthodox treatment afforded only short-term relief: 3½ days at the most.

"Two days later," her doctors reported, "she telephoned to say that pain relief was total. Six weeks later she is still vastly improved."

Two doctors at the pain relief centre, Sampson Lipton and John Miles, along with doctors David Bowsher and James Mumford, of Liverpool University's neurobiology laboratory, described a series of startling acupuncture treatments.

Joining them in their report to the medical magazine, The Lancet, was the man who actually performed the treatments, London specialist Dr. Felix Mann. He was practising acupuncture long before the current boom and is president of the Medical Acupuncture Society.

In all, the doctors reported, 18 patients — "well documented cases of intractable pain, resistant to orthodox procedures" —were treated by acupuncture at Walton Hospital.

Ten experienced relief ranging from partial to total. Eight "found either no relief or suggested very slight improvement that might have been merely encouragement to the doctors."

For one unfortunate patient, acupuncture brought on a recurrence of tennis-elbow pain which she had not felt for 18 months, but it disappeared over the next two weeks.

The four Liverpool doctors confessed this was their first exposure to acupuncture and "if we had thought about it at all, it was with that degree of scepticism which only orthodox medicine is capable of exhibiting towards practices unhallowed by the approval of medical tradition."

Now, they add cautiously, "We are convinced of the efficacy of acupuncture in relieving pain in the cases we have described."

Mann has meanwhile moved on to more exciting possibilities. He is using a modified acupuncture technique to treat patients dying from cancer whose pain cannot be entirely controlled by drugs.

He reports encouraging results so far, with considerable pain relief for periods of between three and 72 hours. But these are not enough to make it a practical therapeutic procedure he reports, and he is seeking to improve the technique.

Victorian Scores A First

PRINCE RUPERT (CP) — A former typist for the federal department of manpower and immigration has become British Columbia's first female immigration counsellor.

Her first summer job, in 1968, was as a typist for the Kingsgate immigration branch near Creston, in the southern B.C. Interior.

Later this summer she was upgraded to a junior immigration officer.

"They didn't know what else to call us—we were university students working for the summer and there wasn't really a classification for us."

After graduation, Helen started with the immigration division at Kingsgate as a permanent employee, the first woman immigration counsellor in B.C., and one of the youngest persons to work in the department.

She says she has little trouble with persons she would not let enter Canada.

"A man takes no from a woman more easily than from a man," she said. "He doesn't know how to react when a woman immigration officer says no and just drives off."

At the Prince Rupert branch, one of 16 immigration offices in B.C., Helen finds she is doing less counselling and more enforcing of immigration regulations since changes were intoduced last November.

The officer conducts formal hearings related to cases where the applicant failed to meet regulations which would determine whether he or she should be admitted to Canada, and under what status.

Helen says the best thing about her job is meeting the public. On one of her early routine visits to nearby Kitimat, she saw 60 persons in one day.

What does she like least? Maybe its the paper work which seems to be increasing.

ECM Is Sharpening Teeth For Equal Pay Legislation

BRUSSELS (CP) — The possibility of international court action against member states of the European Common Market has been broached here as part of a new move by the economic community's policy-planning commission to ensure equal pay for women.

"Although undeniable progress has been made, the situation is still far from satisfactory," says the commission in a report on equality of pay in the Common Market as between men and women.

"It therefore becomes essential that now . . . a decisive impetus should be given in the search for a complete solution to this problem."

Many advocates of women's rights in western Europe would merely say, "It's about time," to this statement.

They cite the alleged contrast between actual practice on equal pay and the principle set out in Article 119 of the treaty establishing the Common Market more than 815 years ago.

That article said each member state should "ensure and subsequently maintain the application of the principle of equal remuneration for equal work as between men and women workers."

A woman contributor to Agenor, an English-language left-wing magazine published in Brussels, recently surveyed the whole scene of women's employment rights in western Europe and roundly complained:

"Government and trade unions — being male-dominated — are as riddled with sexist prejudice as employers and procrastinate or ignore the problem accordingly."

Yet, despite charges that it too is a standard example of anti-feminine discrimination, the Common Market commission now has given every sign that it means business in the pay-equality field — even to the point of action in the European court of justice.

The commission says that "it will start proceedings against certain member states which have not yet complied with the formal and direct obligations imposed on them by Article 119."

In the first instance, this may mean action against Luxembourg and another country usually considered a model of reformism, Holland.

Under Common Market rules, the procedure is that Luxembourg and Holland if cited, would be summoned to explain to the commission why they are reported lagging behind in enabling women to assert their equal-pay rights by legal means if such citizens consider themselves wronged in this respect.

If the commission is unsatisfied with the replies, the Dutch and Luxembourg governments might find themselves sued by the Common Market authorities in the European court.

The unofficial market feeling is that the very process of being summoned to explain themselves before the commission or the court would be enough to embarrass the alleged delinquent states into abiding by the treaty clause they would be charged with violating.

Otherwise, the pressure of community-wide public opinion would be a big factor in bringing them to heel.

Beyond that, the court of justice — itself situated in Luxembourg and part of the Common Market array of institutions — would seemingly have little sanction to apply against a state persisting in violation of the founding treaty, except possibly action such as special import taxes levied on the offender by fellow members of the community.

The commission report concedes that the right to equal wages, of sufficient and general scope, doesn't yet exist in some of the Common Market states.

"Direct discrimination, even if it is rare, can be found to occur," the report continues, "and a large number of doubts still exist about the correct application of job classification systems and even on the question of whether these systems conform with the principles of Article 119."

The Brussels commission also confirms that "women continue to occupy the lowest posts in the hierarchy and the great majority of the female work force still is concentrated in low-wage branches — in spite of the technological changes which have increased the interchangeability of men and women as regards positions at work."

The report's comments cover only the six original members of the European community. But the commission will soon be preparing something similar on newly-entered Britain, Ireland and Denmark.

Among other things, the Common Market commission wants national authorities in the enlarged community to establish effective sanctions against any disregard for the principle of equal wages for equal work.

HE TALKS TO RUGS

TORONTO (CP) — Stephan Stephanian has this thing about carpets — they talk to him.

No ordinary carpet repairer, Stephan treats his carpets like patients. Restoring their full colors and beauty is nothing less than fine art to this Armenian-born craftsman.

The handwoven carpet has always held the status of fine art in Europe and the East and now that Canadians are beginning to collect such carpets, Stephan can continue his family's trade into a third generation.

At 56, he recalls his first major restoration job as a 16-year-old apprentice in his father's store in Holland.

"The carpet was a beautiful Meshed — very fine," he said.

"A big corner had been lost. My job was to replace it and match it to the rest of the carpet. It took seven weeks and I worked eight to 10 hours every day."

The art lies in matching the dyes, some of which are more than 100 years old. As the dyes cannot be suitably found today, Stephan makes his own, from vegetable essences.

When he is asked how much time it might take for a repair, which can cost as much as $600, Stephan answers: "One day and 40 years' experience."

Psychiatric Patients Tutored

DARTMOUTH, N.S. (CP) — The Nova Scotia hospital here has undertaken a new program of continuing education for young people receiving psyhciatric treatment at the hospital.

The program, conducted by three specialist teachers, is patterned after the open-classroom structure used in special education.

Donald Lynch, chairman of the hospital's board of management, says that in some ways the program is similar to the little red schoolhouse of pioneer days when a teacher had to deal with varied abilities and achievement levels of students.

Lynch says the hospital hopes to work towards integrating the educative and therapeutic roles while continuing to follow as closely as possible the provincial school curriculum.

The objective is to provide a continuing education for patients who will return to public schools after being discharged; to help those who have dropped out of school before admission, and the recognition, diagnosis and treatment of disabled children.

Wingspan Flies In With Track Record

Times News Services

Wingspan, a grandson of the mighty Ribot, survived a tremendous challenge in the stretch run and a foul claim in the stewards' room to chalk up a record-setting triumph in the 44th running of the Canadian Derby Saturday at Calgary.

Wingspan shaved four-fifths of a second off the track record for one and three-eighths miles as he covered the distance in 2:20 2-5 to edge Alberta-bred Grandin Park by a neck.

Five lengths back in third place was Merging Fire.

Frank Inda, who was aboard Grandin Park, lodged an unsuccessful claim of foul against the winner, claiming he was bumped twice coming into the stretch.

In Vancouver Saturday, Petite Prize and Euclidean staged front-running gallops to win the two divisions of the B.C. Futurity.

Ridden by Basil Frazier, Petite Prize made her first start an impressive one as she went the six and one-half furlongs in 1:18 3-5 and beat Avec Plaisir by four lengths in the first division.

Euclidean needed little urging from jockey Jesus Munoz as he breezed to a seven-length triumph in 1:19. Second in the field of 11 two-year-olds in the second division was Solar Breeze.

Silver Mallet equalled the track record in Seattle Sunday as he won the Longacres Mile by a neck in a stretch duel with Cataha Prince.

Earning $30,250 for his owner, Washington lumberman Maurice Hitchcock, the five-year-old gelding responded to the urging of jockey Larry Pierce to run the mile in 1:34, matching the mark set in the same race last year by Red Wind.

Reluctant Lord was third before 14,547 fans, who wagered a track-record $1.2 million.

On other United States tracks Saturday, Gusty O'Shay, who was running in $5,000 claiming races in May, won the 69th running of the $75,000 Hopeful at Saratoga track in New York.

It was the first stakes victory for the chestnut gelding, which finished a half-length in front of Take By Storm.

Pacing Mark Equalled

Times News Services

Armbro Nadir paced the mile in 1:56 1-5, equalling the world record on a 5-8-mile track set in 1966 by Romeo Hanover.

Rob Ron Ritzar finished second, a length behind the winner while the favorite, Ricci Reenie Time, was third.

In Toronto Saturday, Sir Dalrae, leading North American pacer this season, set Greenwod track record of 1:57 3-3 for the mile in winning the $58,000 Canadian Pacing Derby.

It was the stallion's 11th consecutive win and boosted his season's earnings to $240,650 for owner Willard Smith of Inglewood, Calif.

In the $150,000 International Trot at Roosevelt Raceway in New York Saturday, Delmonica Hanover and Spartan Hanover, the two U.S. entries finished one-two.

Delmonica Hanover came from fourth place in the stretch to win by a nose in the field of 10 trotters from eight countries.

Rick O'Dell Answers Call of Opportunity

Rick O'Dell took advantage of an opportunity to grab the lead on the 11th lap and then went on to win the 35-lap feature super-stock race Saturday night at Western Speedway.

O'Dell went to the front of the pack when leader Jerry Ferrie and Ross Surgenor rubbed fenders and Gary Kershaw spun out while trying to avoid the mishap.

Kershaw, who had been looking for a third straight main event victory, had to be content with a win in the fast heat and a third-place finish in the trophy dash after eclipsing his own two-week-old track record during time trials.

Larry Pollard, who won the dash and placed third in the fast heat, finished third in the main, which started with 13 cars.

Haslam used the points gained from his second in the main and fourth-place finish in the fast heat to gain ground on points leader Terry Forsyth, who had to sit out the competition when the water pump in his car failed.

Vampires, Warriors Post Wins

Vampires hammered Invaders 33-7 and North Island Warriors downed Saanich Hornets 31-15 Sunday in season-opening games of the Vancouver Island Bantam Football League at Royal Athletic Park.

Steve Short and Randy Smith each scored two touchdowns to pace Vampires while Kevin Hughes scored a single major and kicked two conversions. Brad Leason booted the other conversion.

Brian Friesen and Dave Lee led Warriors with two touchdowns each while Bruce Woolcock took care of most of the Saanich scoring with two majors and two conversions.

LOU BROCK
. . . breaks Cobb's mark

Ranger Pitcher Relies On 'Gaylord Fastballs'

By The Associated Press

Merritt made it clear that he had taken a page from Perry's new book after he threw a three-hitter and beat the Indians' right-hander in the first game of an American League baseball doubleheader.

"I threw about 25 Gaylord fastballs," said Merritt using a euphemism for a pitch frustrated hitters contend is the outlawed spitball.

The Rangers, who had won only one of their last 14 games, also took the second game of the doubleheader, 5-3.

In Sunday's other American League games, Oakland A's blanked New York Yankees 1-0, Chicago White Sox swept Detroit Tigers 4-1 and 3-1, Milwaukee Brewers shaded Minnesota Twins 3-2, Baltimore Orioles crushed Kansas City Royals 10-1 and California Angels edged Boston Red Sox 1-0.

"We've been losing quite a lot of ball games lately," said the 29-year-old Merritt," and I decided to try something new."

But was that something new a spitball?

Merritt smiled and answered: "You take it from there."

Mel Stottlemyre pitched no-hit ball for the Yankees against Oakland until the eighth, when Joe Rudi singled, was sacrificed to second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Vic Davalillo's single. Ken Holtzman was the winner.

Two of baseball's best baserunners got their names into the game's record books Sunday—one with his legs and the other with his bat.

Lou Brock became the first player to steal 50 or more bases in nine consecutive seasons but his theft didn't save St. Louis Cardinals from a 4-1 loss to Cincinnati Reds.

One of the reasons the Reds won was Joe Morgan's 20th homer. That homer made him one of three players ever to hit 20 homers and steal 50 bases in the same season.

In Sunday's other National League games, Los Angeles Dodgers beat Philadelphia Phillies 7-3, San Francisco Giants edged New York Mets 5-4, San Diego Padres downed Montreal Expos 4-2, Atlanta Braves turned back Pittsburgh Pirates 8-6 and Chicago Cubs trimmed Houston Astros 4-2.

Brock eclipsed a record that former Detroit Tiger Ty Cobb, generally regarded as the greatest base-stealer of all time, had held for more than half a century.

Brock, who has 615 lifetime steals, began his streak with 63 in 1965 and followed, in order, with 74, 52, 62, 53, 51, 64 and 63 before this season.

Morgan shares his record, an indicator of a rare combination of base-running ability and batting power, with Brock and Cesar Cedeno of Houston. He has stolen 55 bases this year.

Nine Athletes Inducted

TORONTO (CP) — Nine outstanding athletes were inducted into Canada's Sports Hall of Fame Saturday at the Canadian National Exhibition. Three were posthumous awards.

Karen Magnussen flew in from New York and was taken in an out of the CNE grounds by helicopter to make a brief appearance for her award. She was inducted on the strength of the 1973 figure skating championship she won in March at Bratislava, Czechoslovakia.

Matt Baldwin, also of Edmonton, was inducted on the basis of his contribution on the basis of his contribution to curling. He won two Canadian championships and competed in five Briars.

Father David Bauer, former national team coach was honored for sparking the national team concept and moulding the 1964 Canadian Olympic entry.

Also inducted were: Ray Mitchell of Peace River, Alta., world tenpin bowling champion in 1963; Keith Warples of Durham, Ont., first Canadian harness driver to race a sub-two-minute mile; Levi (Shotty) Rogers of St. John's, Nfld., who died in 1963, for his service of 58 years to rowing; shot-putter George Gray, who died in 1933, for his record of 17 years as recognized champion of the sport; and weight-lifter Victoria Delmarre, who died in 1955, who was renowned for his outstanding feats of strength.

Rob Jackson Keeps Title

He stroked a final-round three-over par 72 to finish at 293, a high 13 strokes over par for 72 holes.

Second was Rod Spittle, 18, of Niagara Falls, Ont., at 296. He had been one of the early leaders.

In third spot, and winner of the juvenile title, was Bill Parker, a 16-year-old from St. Vital, Man., he came in with a four-day total of 297.

Steve Fellinger, 17, of Niagara Falls, was fourth at 299 followed by Mike Mealia, 18, of Thornhill, Int., at 300.

Mealia and Jackson, both going to Indiana University this fall on golf scholarships, were tied at 220 going into the final round. Mealia blew to 80 after getting off to a bad start on the last 18.

Runner-up for the juvenile crown, for golfers 16 and under was Howard Budovitch, 16, of Fredericton. He carded a one-over-par 71 Saturday and finished with 300, only three strokes behind Parker.

Laurie Peet of Cowichan notched a 77 Saturday to wind up at 307, one shot ahead of Nanaimo's Sandy Harper, who also closed with a 77.

Victoria's Lee Haskell, leading performer on the B.C. team that finished second to Quebec in interprovincial competition last Monday and Tuesday, fired a last-round 81 for 311.

SIDELINED for season is Dick Allen, Chicago White Sox slugger who suffered bone fractured in left leg in June. Highest paid player in baseball with annual salary of $225,000, Allen has watched his club, leading American League west division in early June, skid to fifth place, 16 games behind Oakland Athletics.

Adanacs Rebound

COQUITLAM (CP) — Coquitlam Adanacs rebounded into the Western Lacrosse Association final Saturday with a 16-12 victory over Vancouver Burrards before 1800 fans.

Vancouver leads the best-of-seven series 2-1 with the fourth game set for Monday in Coquitlam.

Coquitlam led 5-4 at the end of the first period and 11-7 after 40 minutes.

Vancouver did not get the same good goaltending as in the first two games, which the Burrards won. Coquitlam goaltender Dave Wedlock stopped 53 shots and was the reason Coquitlam won, said playing-coach Bill Bradley.

For Vancouver Gord Frederickson had two goals and four assists. Dave Tasker, Dave Litzenberger, Bob Salt and Doug Hayes had two goals each with singles going to Al Tasker and Pat Differ.

Common Ivy Can Be Transformed to Bush

As a hardy, evergreen shrub, a bush ivy fills a need for something solidly green in a shady place. It will grow with ferns, or in a bed of Lily of the Valley, to maintain interest during winter after the Valley leaves wither away. It is easity pruned into shape for maintaining control.

But where do we get bush ivy? There are a few bush varieties of fancy leaved kinds, but it is not well known that the common English ivy can be grown as a bush.

This makes an interesting story, as told me many years ago by one of the pioneer nurserymen of this area.

When the ordinary climbing English ivy finally reaches the top of whatever it strives to surmount, the growth changes in appearance and general characteristics.

No longer do the stems form rootlets for clinging. They become short and stocky, the leaves are no longer lobed or pointed but are "simple", mostly sort of heart-shaped.

In time, at the ends of these stems, sprays of scented greenish white flowers appear towards the end of August. Nowhere else on the plant do we see these flowers, only on stems which no longer climb, and have grown the new characteristics.

The second strange point in this story is that a short side shoot of the new growth, a piece not flowering, will grow into an upright bushy ivy, with heart shaped leaves and no stem rootlets.

These cuttings can be taken in late August. Pull off a half dozen non-flowering side shoots, each with a small heel of the stem attached. Remove the leaves on the bottom inch or so; cut off the ragged end of the heel, and set the cuttings firmly into a pot of sandy compost.

Keep the pot either in a cool shaded sunporch, or in the shaded corner of a coldframe which can be protected from frost in winter.

Roots will form this fall, but apart from potting each rooted cutting into a three inch container, it will be better to keep them until spring before planting out.

Most of these plants from the non climbing ivy stems show no sign of reverting to climbing unless they are grown near a wall suitable for this activity. The odd new shoot exhibiting the climbing habit can be removed to preserve the attractive new shrub form.

I have not seen flowers produced on the shrubs. This may be a matter of time, or of some biological factor.

Ivy climbing on tree trunks does no harm to mature trees. It is not a parasite. The ground roots are the feeders, not the aerial, or stem, roots.

SOLUTIONS TUESDAY

The Bridge Expert

By FRED KARPIN

One of the slogans which held sway in the feudal days of bridge was "always cover an honor with an honor." With the passage of time and the impact of experience, it was demonstrated that the automatic application of this slogan was incorrect. A simple example of this incorrectness can be observed in today's deal.

♣ A Q 5

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	1 ♠	2 ♡	2 ♠
4 ♡	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♠.

Had declarer covered West's queen of spades opening lead with dummy's king, he almost surely would have gone down, losing a spade, a diamond, and two clubs. But as declarer correctly viewed the set-up (and having heard the defenders' bidding), East was certain to be the possessor of the spade ace: West just couldn't be leading the spade queen from a spade holding headed by the A-Q. So declarer played the spade deuce from dummy.

With the queen winning, West shifted to a low diamond at trick two, East's king being captured by South's ace.The king of trumps was then cashed, after which the queen of trumps was overtaken by the board's ace. A second spade lead was now made, South ruffing with the jack.

Dummy was then re-entered via the trump nine, and a third spade lead was made. East perforce put up the ace, which South ruffed. With dummy's king of spades having been promoted into a winner, declarer was later able to get rid of his five of clubs on the spade king. His only losers were a spade, a diamond, and a club.

It is appreciated that his deal is a rather simple one to play correctly. However, I have frequently used the deal in my teaching, and it has always been a source of amazement to me how many pupils put up the spade king on the opening lead — and in so doing seal their doom.

On one occasion, I happened to be passing by when I saw a South declarer play dummy's spade king at trick one. I stopped the play to inquire: "Did you think that West or East had the spade ace?" The answer came promptly: "East." "Then why did you put up dummy's king?" I asked.

The answer was unexpected: "Because I'm stupid."

DEATH FORECAST: 550-650

CHICAGO (UPI) — The U.S. National Safety Council estimate that 550 to 650 persons will die in traffic accidents during the three-day Labor Day weekend.

The council also estimated 22,000 persons will receive disabling injuries during the period extending from 6 p.m. Friday, Aug. 31, to midnight Monday, Sept. 3.

The council urged all motorists to use safety belts. It also said motorists on holiday weekend trips or returning home from longer vacations could expect extra traffic.

The Lord is my shepherd: I shall not want.

He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

8 CARD OF THANKS

My sincere thanks are extended to all our kind friends, relatives and neighbors who sent good wishes, cards, flowers, etc. during my recent stay in Royal Jubilee Hospital. Thanks also the wonderful staff in the Coronary Care Unit and the Doctors and Staff in the Open-Heart Surgery Unit—also to Dr. Carl Whiteside and the Central Saanich Volunteer Ambulance Service. I am most grateful to you all for the wonderful and kind attention I have received. — Mrs. E. V. (Molly) Bennett.

Bernhard Schulze, parents and family wish to thank their friends for the many kindnesses shown to them following Jutta's sudden death. They have been greatly helped by the concern shown by everyone they know.

9 IN MEMORIAM

ADDEMS — In loving memory of a dear sister, Grace, who passed away August 27, 1972.

Beyond the sunset,
Peace for evermore.
—Ever remembered by her sisters.

CLARKE — In loving memory of my dear husband Reg; and dear Dad, who passed away August 26, 1968.

Nothing but memories as we journey on,
None knows the depths of our deep regret,
But we remember when others forget.

Movies

Malaya (xx), on 12 at 7. A good old-fashioned adventure tale about a pair of daring men (Spencer Tracy and James Stewart) who combine their skills to smuggle raw rubber out of Japanese-occupied Malaya during the Second World War — filmed in 1950.

The Forty-Eight Hour Mile (xx), on 13 at 8. Darren McGavin, William Windom and Carrie Snodgrass star in this 1969 mystery about a private eye involved in the case of a millionaire with too many women.

The Bliss of Mrs. Blossom (xxx), on 4 at 9. A delightful 1968 English-made comedy highlighted by excellent performances of the cast which include Shirley MacLaine and Richard Attenborough. It's an off-beat marital farce about a London housewife who keeps a lover in the attic — for nearly four years.

Unconquered (xx), on 11 at 11. Cecil B. DeMille directed this 1947 western saga that pits the whiteman against the Indian in 1863 Virginia and stars Gary Cooper and Paulette Goddard.

War and Peace (xxxx), on 4 at 11:30. (Part 1) The 1967 Russian classic, to be shown in four parts, continuing for the next three nights. Five years and $100 million in the making, this film is a visual masterpiece focusing on four aristocratic familiies during the turbulent years of the Napoleonic Wars (1800-1812). English dubbed.

The Old Man and the Sea (xxxx), on 7 and 12 at 11:30. Spencer Tracy turns in a brilliant performance in this 1958 film adaptation of the Ernest Hemingway story of an old Cuban fisherman battling the elements in his quest to land a giant marlin.

The Palm Beach Story (xxxx), on 2 at 11:50. A delightfully sophisticated 1942 comedy about a poor engineer's wife who runs away to Florida and is romanced by a stuffy multi-millionaire. Excellent cast with Claudette Colbert, Joel McCrea and Rudy Vallee.

Voyage to a Prehistoric Planet (xx), on 6 at midnight. Routine 1965 sci-fi adventure about a landing on the planet Venus starring Basil Rathbone.

The Wild Ones (xxx), on 8 at midnight. Marlon Brando gives a powerful performance as the leader of a motorcycle gang that invades a small town and raises havoc in this 1954 drama co-starring Lee Marvin and Mary Murphy.

Zita (xx), on 13 at midnight. A French-made 1967 drama about a young girl who blossoms into womanhood following the death of her aunt and an affair with a musician. Joanna Shimkus stars.

Specials

Tigers, on 9 at 8. A one-act allegorical play exploring the problem of communications between a lion tamer and his wife. Written by playwright Kendrew Lascalles, the drama focuses on the husband's attempts to stop his wife from leaving him after the death of their son. It was his negligence that caused the child to be mauled by a tiger. (60 mins.)

Conservation with Sol Hurok, on 9 at 9. Host Bill Moyers talks with master showman Sol Hurok, now 85 years old, who discusses his career and recalls performers he has known, including Isadora Duncan and Anna Pavolva. (30 mins.)

Walt Harper at Fallingwater, on 9 at 9:30. The Walt Harper Sextet performs at Fallingwater, the house built by Frank Lloyd Wright over a waterfall at Bear Run, Pa. (60 mins.)

CBC Radio Highlights

August 27

8:00 (FM) CBC Monday Evening — Part 1: The Oceans: Tears on an Azure Floor — A prize-winning documentary produced by James Anderson of the CBC in Toronto. Part 2: A Festical Concert — Motets (Bcuckner); Canzoni (Gabrieli) (A CBC Vancouver Festival Chorus and Brass Choir, conducted by Hans-Hubert Schonzeler). Part 3: The Savage God — The poet A. Alvarez talks with Stephen Banker about his recent book. Part 4: Recital — William Reimer, Bass-baritone; Hugh McLean, piano: Songs (Schubert); Dichterliebe (Schumann).

8:03 (AM) Mosiac — A summer radio series from Winnipeg sampling the music of some of the nationalities making up the Canadian mosaic with songs and dances arranged for chorus and orchestra. Hosted by Mary Nowell Birt.

8:30 (AM) Identities — Kosher Meat and All That: Some say that to eat 'trafe' (non-kosher meat) is a serious sin. Others look back at the original reasons for the killing of animals in a humane way, the exclusion of pork, the ban on shellfish, the separation of milk and meat as historically valid, but no longer reasonable. What is one man's kosher meat is another's 'trafe'. A look at the debate in 1973 by freelancer Michael Ryval. Shevchenko Dance Ensemble: the high art of the Ukraine brought to Canada and adapted, through repertoire and style, to the life of the descendant s of the pioneers. And finally, Ethnic Diseases: The Hidden Penalty for Ethnic Purity. Experts talk about the nature, treatment and prevention of the disease, G6PD. Last in a four-part series by Judy Stoffman.

10:03 (FM) Ideas — Land Use — Canada — Part II: A look at Canada's existing and non-existing land policies, with views of all levels of interest in the struggle to agree upon priorities and criteria and to solve the many problems involved in this controversial issue.

10:30 (AM) CBC Playhouse — "The Bandy Papers", by Donald Jack, fourth of five episodes from Jack's novels Three Cheers For Me and That's Me in the Middle. Donald Harron stars.

11:03 (AM) Ideas — River Through Time: An original radio poem by Timothy Findley. The poem translates into human experience the feel of being a river — the rising, groping, confinement, textures of movement, and ultimate release.

Early Tuesday Movies

All the Brothers Were Valiant (xx), on 4 at 9:30. A 1953 adventure-drama about the clash between two strong-willed New England whaling brothers when one decides to go after treasure instead of blubber. Robert Taylor, Stewart Granger and Ann Blyth star.

Dreams of Glass (x), on 13 at 10:30. A European-made 1970 drama about the morality of the youth of the '60s and how it affects the love between a young couple.

The Story of Seabiscuit (xx), on 13 at noon. A 1949 biography of the famous race horse starring Shirley Temple and Barry Fitzgerald.

The Mouse That Roared (xxx), on 6 and 8 at 12:45. A delightful British-made 1959 satiric comedy about a tiny European kingdom that declares war on the U.S.—and wins! Peter Sellers is excellent playing three separate roles.

The Pleasure Seekers (xx), on 5 at 3:30. A 1965 re-make of Three Coins in the Fountain, about the romantic escapades of threee American girls on a European holiday starring Ann-Margret, Carol Lynley, Pamela Tiffin, Tony Franciosa. Brian Keith and Gene Tierney.

The Thrill of It All (xxx), on 7 at 3:30. Doris Day, James Garner and Arlene Francis star in this well-made 1963 comedy about an obstetrician's wife who becomes a star of television commercials. Script by TV's Carl Reiner—nice entertainment.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
Tree Planting Project 92H13-18
Situated: on Scuzzy and Uztlius Creeks.

Contractors are advised that the British Columbia Forest Service intends to let a planting contract in the Fall of 1973 for the planting of 120,000 trees on 170 acres, more or less, situated on Scuzzy and Uztlius Creeks, West and East respectively of Boston Bar.

In order that prospective bidders may have an opportunity to view the planting site and acquaint themselves with conditions on the ground, the Forest Ranger at Hope will supply directions to interested parties to the area. Interested parties are advised to examine the contract area for themselves before submitting bids.

Sealed tenders for this contract will be received by the Chief Forester up to 4 p.m., Friday, September 14, 1973, except that for specific reasons the Chief Forester may extend such time.

Tenders will not be considered unless made out on the tender form supplied, properly signed and witnessed, and accompanied by a deposit in the form of a certified cheque or money order in the sum of $50, payable to the Minister of Finance.

Tenders must be submitted in the envelope marked "Tender for Tree Planting."

The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted, and the Forest Service reserves the right to limit the number of contracts held by any party at any one time.

Prospective bidders are advised that this contract will be awarded only on proof that the successful bidder has arranged with the Workmen's Compensation Board for the necessary coverage of all employees and/or partners who will be working on the contract.

Note that prior to commencement of planting the successful bidder will be required to submit a deposit in the total amount of five per cent of the bid price.

Planting stock required for the contract will be supplied free of charge by the Forest Service f.o.b. at a place designated by the Forest Service.

Particulars may be obtained from the Chief Forester, Parliament Buildings, Victoria; the District Forester, Vancouver; or the Forest Ranger at Hope.

Addict Sent To Jail

A Victoria man, unable to kick his heroin habit, was sentenced to 18 months in jail by Judge William Ostler in Victoria provincial court today.

John B. Garraway, 21, of no fixed address, pleaded guilty to charges of attempted fraud, false pretences and uttering involving more than $400 between Aug. 6 and 8. He also pleaded guilty to possession of heroin.

Garraway was arrested near Fort and Langley Aug. 20 and taken to Victoria police station where two caps of heroin were found on him.

During the interview with police he admitted having used heroin for about four years.

Defence counsel Rodney Beavan quoted Garraway as saying, 'If it wasn't for drugs, I wouldn't be here today.'

Beavan told court the accused had attempted to rehabilitate himself through a methadone program, but was unsuccessful. He asked the judge to consider a sentence which would include outdoor activities as it was "the only hope for rehabilitation."

Ostler said Garraway's heroin addiction was a simple explanation for his crimes, "but it has a profound background."

"No person with any feelings or human sympathy could be otherwise than extremely sorry," said Ostler. "I can only hope that a period in an institution will help you reach the stage when you'll finally be able to stay away from heroin."

"I can only wish you luck," Ostler said.

CITY STUDENT CHESS WINNER

LIB MOVEMENT PASSES MILESTONE

Associated Press

Feminist groups took to the parks and streets across the U.S. Sunday to celebrate "Equality Day," the 53rd anniversary of women's suffrage.

The day marked the signing Aug. 26, 1920, of the 19th amendment to the U.S. constitution, which gave women the right to vote.

Singer Helen Reddy, who created something of a feminist anthem with her rendition of I Am Woman, chose to entertain women prisoners in a prison on Terminal Island in Los Angeles.

The equal rights amendment, designed to wipe out all discrimination against women, was not forgotten. Its progress has been stalled after 30 of the required 38 states ratified it.

In Cincinnati, Fountain Square was the scene for a "ride for rights," where bicyclists and roller skaters advertised the amendment as they wheeled around the plaza.

Decrying "tokenism" by organizations choosing women for promotions, Karen McDonald, head of the Berkeley National Organization for Women declared: "Unless women organize and work together, we will be the victims of this tokenism.

"Man is power without humanity. Woman is humanity without power. We need a woman's revolution."

In Buffalo, the N.O.W. chapter presented three local officials with "Honorary Women of the Year" awards for their efforts on behalf of women.

Six-Year-Old Lad Wins $1,000

EDMONTON — A six-year-old boy who had never been to the races before won $1,000 in the Canadian Derby sweepstake Saturday.

His mother said he was "just numb" with excitement, although he wasn't really too sure what was going on.

Michael Lewchuk got the consolation prize when the horse on which his ticket was drawn, Monkey Pod, finished seventh in a field of 10.

F. Delanarte of Vancouver held the ticket drawn on derby winner Wing Span and won top prize of $100,000.

C. R. Serafin of Edmonton received $25,000 for his ticket on second-place Grandin Park.

Third was Louella Waymen of Vancouver, whose ticket on Merging Fire was worth $12,500.

DELARIARTE

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy —Pope Paul VI said Sunday that Danish plans to shoot an erotic film on the life of Christ are an "ignoble and blasphemous outrage."

The Pope, speaking during his weekly blessing at the papal summer palace in this town near Rome, said the planned film will offend all Christians.

"Where has the community's conscience gone?" he asked.

The film, provisionally entitled The Love Affairs of Jesus Christ, is to be filmed in southern France by Danish director Jens Joergen Thorsen.

WAYNESBORO, Va. (AP) — The Guinness Book of World Records lists Roy Sullivan as the only living man to be struck by lightning four times. Now Guinness can make it five.

Sullivan said the bolt hit him on the head, setting his hair on fire and knocking him 10 feet from where he was struck. He poured some water on his head, extinguishing the fire, and drove to a ranger station where he got first aid. He was then taken to the Waynesboro Hospital.

MELBOURNE, Australia — Glen Peters' mail included a note from the man who stole his car. It told him where to find it, adding "by the way, your gearbox is not too good."

TEL AVIV — Mohammed Touni, the Libyan who hijacked a Lebanese airliner to Israel on Aug. 13, was ordered by an Israeli court Sunday to undergo a psychiatric examination.

The hijacker had been described by witnesses to the incident as "drunk" and "crazy."

'NEW BREED' POLICE USE BIKES TO SNEAK UP ON BURGLARS

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — "We're a new breed," said Ernest Stevenson, a new police recruit standing beside the sleek 10-speed he uses as a volunteer on the bicycle patrol.

Police Chief John Inman initiated the idea when he said he wanted six to 10 young officers to try using bikes to sneak up on burglars in residential areas. He had 28 volunteers — five with their own bikes.

"They're going to snicker until it's their house that's getting burglarized," said Stevenson, referring to skeptics.

"A bicycle is something that you can't hear if it's well-oiled, and it's easy to transfer from bike to foot," Stevenson said.

But another recruit approved for a different reason: "I've got a small gut to work off," said Patrick James Moynihan.

MP Recall Within Hours, Rail Strikers Defiant

FLIGHT TO FREEDOM HIS FIRST LESSON

LUEBECK, West Germany (Reuter) — A 23-year-old East German aircraft mechanic, who never had a flying lesson, flew himself and his family to West Germany in a single-engined aircraft, police reported Sunday.

The refugee bundled his wife and four-year-old son into the crop-spraying aircraft he used to service and took off Saturday from an East German airfield some 20 miles east of Luebeck, police said.

The plane was reported slightly damaged in what they described as "a bit of a rough touchdown."

OTTAWA — Prime Minister Trudeau promised early this afternoon Parliament would be recalled within hours if last-minute attempts to settle the national rail strike don't work.

His announcement came amid indications that striking union members won't obey if Parliament orders them back to work.

"The days of legislating us back to work are over," Marshall Hill, co-chairman of the joint committee of CP Rail and Canadian National Railway workers in Vancouver said.

"That's not the answer anymore."

Nick Zapantis, the other chairman, said the Associated Non-Operating Railway Unions is planning a mass meeting of members at the University of B.C. to discuss any settlement order from Parliament if the cabinet decides on this course of action.

"It is up to the members but I don't think they will go back if they believe the settlement is inferior," Zapantis said. "The only way there can be a settlement is for the government to be generous."

Trudeau's announcement followed a two-hour cabinet meeting.

"The parties still have something on the table," he told reporters, "but I have authority, in consultation with the minister of labor, to call Parliament if it doesn't work out in the next several hours."

Asked whether Parliament would be recalled before the end of the day, he said he had "a bit of flexibility on that but I've a deadine in my own mind and so has (Labor Minister John) Munro."

Trudeau said the question of federal subsidies to enable the 11 railway companies to meet the demands of the 56,000 striking non-operating railway workers was not even considered by the cabinet.

"The question of subsidies is not being discussed by us. It is a matter for the parties to arrive at an arrangement."

He said the government was still hopeful an agreement could be reached but "if this doesn't work, then I will call Parliament."

Trudeau indefinitely postponed his trip to the Arctic, which had been scheduled to begin today.

The government was faced with the last resort of recalling Parliament after the railways failed to reach agreement during the weekend on a basis of reopening negotiations with the strikeing 56,000-member Associated Unions of Non-Operating Railway Employees.

Munro had said earlier he would recommend recall of Parliament if no progress towards talks was made by the end of the weekend.

This morning Munro also asked union leaders to stand by for him to call them.

About 60 leaders of the non-operating railway workers from across the country were to hold a meeting at mid-morning, but after Munro's call they changed their plans. They now are expected to meet by mid-afternoon.

A union spokesman said there was no progress to report in the stalled contract talks.

The unions rejected company offers Sunday to find a settlement based on conciliation board recommendations.

In a letter to the unions, executives of CN and CP Rail invited union representatives to meet with them to find "a full and final settlement" based on recommendations from Mr. Justice F. Craig Munroe, chairman of the conciliation board.

Mr. Justice Munroe's proposals include pay increases of 17.8 per cent in three stages of a two-year contract.

Richard Smith, the unions' chief negotiator, while rejecting the companies' offers, said the unions were still willing to hold direct negotiations to solve the dispute.

APARTHEID KILLS BOY

Times News Services

JOHANNESBURG — Apartheid claimed a human sacrifice Sunday when a white youth bled to death because the wrong ambulance—labelled for blacks only—arrived at the scene of a traffic accident.

Businessman Mannie Kaufman said a traffic officer refused to allow his son to be taken to hospital in the ambulance. By the time a second ambulance, labelled for whites only, arrived at the scene, it was too late, and the boy died on the way to hospital. Kaufman said doctors told him the boy had bled to death, and had he reached the hospital sooner, he would have had a chance.

"This was tantamount to offering my son as a sacrifice to apartheid."

In Cape Town, apartheid is now embracing dogs and cats.

The government has ruled that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals may offer boarding facilities to the pets of whites only while the owners are on holiday.

Long-distance cyclists Tony, Cameron and Richard

By KIT COLLINS
Times Staff

Armed with 30 extra spokes, a couple of extra pedals and 65 pounds of camping gear, every 14-year-old can do it.

Time is a necessity, too — for it took two months, two weeks and two days for Cameron Jackson and Tony Stipkala, both 14, to cycle 3,600 miles from Cornwallis, N.S., to Victoria.

They arrived Saturday.

"We had a mechanical advantage — 10 gears," said Cameron's older brother Richard, 18, who made up the third of the Victoria-bound trio.

There wasn't one complaint of a sore leg muscle.

It wasn't the fastest way to travel 'cross-country, but according to the youths, it's by far the best.

Planning for the trip began last February when the trio learned their fathers, Cpt. W. A. Jackson and Cpt. A. P. Stipkala, both stationed at CFB Cornwallis, had been transferred to Victoria.

If there was a move they wanted to do it their way.

After two weekend practice trips when the list of necessities was chopped to about 65 pounds of gear, the youths set off June 23 astride two wheels each and pedalled all day, most days until they arrived.

Their parents, who travelled by car, beat them to Victoria, but not by much, the boys hastened to point out.

"The only thing we really needed a lot of along the way was spokes — you'd be surprised, every time you hit a rock you break one," said Richard.

The best part of the trip was the scenery; the worst — rain in Northern Ontario; the hardest — the stretch from Cache Creek to Hope, "where the road goes slowly up and slowly down for miles and miles.

"We even didn't mind the Rockies as much as that straight down."

The Prairies were cause for comment, too: "They were boring, we cycled through them at night."

High points were meeting other cycle enthusiasts along the way. "We met Wally Watts, the unicyclist who's going to Halifax from Vancouver.

They met a pedestrian also — Bob McGuiness who's making the cross-country trip.

Asked if she was worried about her son's trip, Mrs. Jackson said not at all. "There wasn't one parental finger in one of the plans.

"I'm sure the best thing about the trip was making it without parents in their hair."

The boys nodded in guarded agreement.

2nd Ship Seized

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Greenpeace Foundation spokesman in Vancouver said today the anti-nuclear protest vessel Spirit of Peace has been arrested near Mururoa Atoll by French military personnel.

Greenpeace spokesman Rod Marining said foundation director Kurt Hown was on board the vessel.

He said the foundation has received word from New Zealand that the Spirit of Peace has been illegally seized in international waters in the Mururoa nuclear test zone. He said the boat was out of radio contact at the time and the fate of the crew is not known.

Marining said that "in view of the way the Greenpeace III crew was treated, we are extremely concerned about the safety of the Spirit of Peace's crew."

He also said that an officer of the Canadian external affairs department arrived in Papeete, Tahiti, Sunday and shortly thereafter, David McTaggart of Vancouver, the skipper of the Greenpeace III, was released from French military hospital. The Canadian skipper had been held under armed guard in Papeete for over a week.

A report from Vancouver eye specialist Dr. Robin McCreery indicated that the condition of McTaggart's right eye is serious and surgery may be required, Marining said. The skipper was injured in a scuffle with French sailors boarding the Greenpeace.

He said that every effort is being made to return the skipper to Vancouver as soon as possible.

Marining said Greenpeace III navigator Nigel Ingrham of England will be undergoing extensive medical examination in Vancouver today. He said that an initial examination Saturday revealed that Ingram has sustained some injury to his spine, specifically to the cervical vertabrae.

Ingram said here Friday the vessel was in international waters off Mururoa atoll where the French were preparing a nuclear blast when the sailors seized the ship, McTaggart, Ingram and two women crew members from New Zealand.

Ingram said he was beaten, one of the women said they were both beaten and McTaggart has said sailors beat him with truncheoons.

French embassy officials in ottawa, however, have said McTaggart was not beaten, but injured himself as he tried to throw two French sailors overboard.

U.S. PRIME LOAN RATE RISES AGAIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Three of the United States' bigger banks announced today that they were increasing their prime lending rate to 9 ¾per prime lending rate to 9¾ per

New York's Chase Manhattan Bank, the country's third largest, initiated the move, and then Chicago's Continental Illinois Bank and Trust, the ninth largest, and Franklin National Bank of New York, 20th in size, followed shortly thereafter.

In San Francisco, the Bank of America, the world's biggest commercial bank, said it was delaying a decision whether to increase its prime rate from 9½.

If the rise becomes industry-wide, as most observers expect, it would mark the 15th time this year that American banks have lifted the minimum lending rate they charge their most creditworthy corporate customers.

Supply Roads Cut

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Communist insurgents severed the last supply road into Phnom Penh Sunday in the biggest outbreak of fighting since the end of U.S. bombing 11 days ago.

Government troops claimed 200 of the enemy killed in fighting 17 miles south of the capital.

Even as the insurgents exerted heavy pressure on the capital today a top Cambodian official appealed to Prince Norodom Sihanouk to be a "good prince" and end his fight to regain power.

Field reports said the rebels captured the town of Sethbo, 10 miles south of the capital, severed Highwayt 4 and surrounded a nearby 122-man government garrison at Phum Sala Krours on the outskirts of the capital.

The highway is Phnom Penh's only overland link with the deepwater port of Kompong Som on Cambodia's southern coast. Since it was cut further south during the weekend, rebels now control it at two points.

Highway 5, the road to the country's rice capital at Battambang, also is under rebel control, and so Phnom Penh's only existing supply line is the Mekong River running southeast into South Vietnam.

The increase of Communist activity followed the claim 24 hours ago by the Cambodian high command of its largest post-bombing victory. In that victory the command said government soldiers artillery and a single T-28 fighter-bomber killed 200 rebel troops in an area 17½ miles south of Phnom Penh on Saturday.

U.K. Embassy Mail Bombed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A letter bomb exploded in the British embassy today, maiming a 51-year-old woman employee who was opening the mail.

Nora Murray, a personal assistant to a senior embassy officer, was taken to George Washington University Hospital where a spokesman said she lost her left hand and her right hand was severely injured. She was described as "in serious condition but satisfactory."

The explosion occurred shortly after 9 a.m. and came on the heels of an intensified terror bomb campaign in Britain by the Irish Republican Army.

Officials said the mail had arrived during the weekend and early today.

The U.S. postal service joined Washington police in investigating the embassy blast, which slightly damaged the sixth floor where it occurred.

Meanwhile, Britain enforced tight security measures today at seaports, rail terminals and public buildings in an effort to halt the IRA bomb campaign.

Police even appealed to holiday picnickers to clean up litter left by their annual three-day August bank holiday weekend for fear it could be used to hide more bombs. They also asked the public to report immediately any parcels or shopping bags left unattended in suspicious circumstances.

Prime Minister Edward Heath, who begins a two-day visit to Northern Ireland Tuesday, said Sunday night, "If the IRA think they are going to pressurize or blackmail the British into surrendering Northern Ireland by this sort of tactic they could not be more wrong."

COLOMBIA AIR CRASH KILLS 40

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — A Colombian turboprop airliner crashed three minutes after takeoff from El Dorado international airport today and exploded, killing all 40 persons aboard.

The plane crashed into a hillside on the city's outskirts in dense fog. The four-motored craft, a Lockheed Electra, was operated by the Colombian Aerocondor Airline. It was on a flight to the neighboring Dutch island of Curacao.

NOBODY HELPED

TORONTO (CP) — An 18-year-old was raped early Sunday and police said people sat on their front porches as she was dragged 300 yards down a street to a parking lot.

Inspector Gordon Mugford said several cars detoured around the struggling couple and said the police department is shocked that no one offered to help.

The girl was walking home from a bus stop after midnight when she was attacked by a youth who held a knife to her throat. He dragged her into the parking lot behind some apartment buildings, where she was raped.

U.S. 'Hosed' on Air Routes

Times News Services

WASHINGTON — Canada apparently has won its long and bitter battle with the United States for new cross-border air routes and in return has agreed not to end customs pre-clearance.

One authority has been quoted as saying "the U.S. has taken a real hosing."

There has been no official word of a settlement. In fact, talks have been so secret that no Canadian source would even admit they were going on.

However, it is known that officials of the Canadian embassy met here for four days last week with officials of the U.S. state, commerce and transportation departments, preparing the way for the 12th round of formal negotiations scheduled to begin here Sept. 4.

Unofficial reports out of the meetings state that the problem of pre-clearance of passengers may be solved and "indications are we will have a satisfactory route agreement."

The Canadian government had threatened to end pre-clearance — moving U.S.-bound passengers through customs at the point of embarkation — by Sept. 10 unless the two countries reached agreement on new air routes.

At present, pre-clearance is conducted only at Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto and Montreal in Canada, with no such facilities in the U.S.

U.S. officials have been bitter over the Canadian stand on pre-clearance, termination of which, they say, could cost U.S. airlines up to $6 million a year in lost revenue.

So highly is preclearance valued in the U.S., that—reports state—U.S. negotiators have been reluctantly willing to trade off air routes to Canadian airlines for an agreement which would expand preclearance to other Canadian cities and set up a similar system in the U.S. for the first time.

Calgary, served primarily by U.S. airlines, may be in line for new all-Canadian service to West Coast U.S. cities, plus routes to the Midwest and New York.

Winnipeg has U.S. service to Minnesota and Chicago, and unofficial reports state she may receive Canadian routes to both areas plus routes to North Dakota.

Still under discussion, U.S. spokesmen state, are routes Toronto-San Francisco, Toronto-Houston-Dallas, Calgary-Dallas-Houston, Toronto-Denver-Las Vegas, Toronto-St. Louis and Montreal-San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Bendix Corp. Buys Divested Ford Firm

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co., under federal court order to divest itself of its Autolite sparkplug subsidiary, has arranged its sale to Bendix Corp.

Bendix will pay about $29 million to obtain the Autolite spark plug plant at Fostoria, Ohio, and the Autolite trademark, Ford and Bendix said in a joint statement.

The sale will be completed Oct. 24, one day before the deadline set by a U.S. District Court.

Ford and Bendix said that under terms of the purchase agreement, Bendix will supply all of Ford's spark plug needs for 10 years and the spark plugs must keep the Autolite trademark for half of that period.

CALGARY LIVESTOCK

CALGARY (CP) — Receipts from the Calgary public stockyard to 11 a.m. show sales of 150 head, mostly slaughter calves and bulls.

Trade was slow with a narrow demand for all classes. There were no slaughter steers or heifers on offer.

Cows D1 and 2 34-35.10, D3 32-34. Good bulls 42-46.29.

Replacement cattle were all steer calves weighting between 300 and 350 pounds and selling steady. Good stock steer calves more than 400 pounds 59-62, 300 to 400 pounds 65-71.

Hogs sold F.I.B. Calgary to 11 a.m. average base price 61.05.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Prices were generally easier in light trade at the open, then dropped as volume picked up today on the Winnipeg Commodity Exchange.

Flax was more than 30 cents lower in all months while rapeseed declined its 20-cent limit at the close.

Rye was 7 to 10 cents lower.

CHICAGO (AP) — Agricultural commodity futures slumped on the Board of Trade Monday after shooting upward for steep gains in early trading.

Analysts said the initial rise was caused in part by a carryover of unfilled orders from Friday's brisk, bullish session.

Crash Claims 12

WARSAW (AP) — At least 12 persons were killed and 12 injured when a passenger train crashed full speed into several detached freight cars near Kielce, central Poland, Sunday night, well-informed sources reported.

TIME CLOCKS COMPUTERIZED

TORONTO (CP) — With numerous companies changing to flexible working hours for employees these days, the one draw-back of the scheme—keeping track of work hours—has been solved.

The answer lies in an automatic time recording system; a small computer which records and keeps track of the week's work-hour count.

The computer works much the same way as a punch-in time clock and employees familiar with that system have little difficulty adapting to the Flextime device.

Rider said in an interview people are "scared skinny of time clocks." The new computer is not, however, a "control device," he said, rather a "personal accounting device."

It can also be adapted to the assembly line.

Once the employees are able to adapt working hours, "they become more conscientious," Rider said.

Flextime is a subsidiary of the German company J. Hengstler K. G. which installed the first system in a German automotive plant in 1969. Today the system is being used by more than 1,000 European companies employing about one million workers.

It also alleviates rush-hour travel and unburdens public-transit systems.

"In 10 years," he said, "half the labor force in Canada will be on flexible hours."

GM Plants Expanding

OSHAWA, Ont. (CP) — General Motors of Canada Ltd. said today it plans to increase substantially employment and production at its plant in Ste. Therese, Que., to meet demand for Chevrolet Vega and Pontiac Astre models.

The company said about 180 additional workers will be needed at the automotive assembly plant by the end of October.

The increase in October will be the second this year. Production also was stepped up in mid-May.

Indifferent Toronto Market

Declines outnumbered advances 192 to 133 and 258 issues were unchanged.

Construction and materials and chemicals sectors of the industrial index's 17 subgroups led the 13 declining sectors.

WCI Canada dropped 1¾ to 15¼, Dupont 1 to $29, Keeprite B ¾ to $9, Inglis ⅝ to $15⅛ and Canada Cement ⅜ to $13⅞.

Computel gained ¾ to $10, Canadian Interurban 65 cents to $3.90, Provincial Bank ½ to $15½, Reichhold ½ to $17¼ and Fairview ½ to $18½.

Pine Point Mines was off ½ to $34, Teck B 15 cents to $3.80 and Mindamar 15 cents to $4.75. United Siscoe rose 45 cents to $6.50 and Granduc 25 cents to $3.90.

Canadian Superior Oil was up 1 to $55 and Scurry Rainbow ⅜ to $21. Ranger dropped ¾ to $33 and Pan Ocean ¼ to $16.

New York

Brokers said the latest rise in the prime rate to 9¾ per cent Monday was having little effect on market gains.

Montreal

Prices were mixed in light trading on the Montreal stock market.

Combined volume on the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges at 1 p.m. was 495,600 shares, compared with 469,400 shares at the same time Friday.

On the Montreal Stock Exchange, General Motors Corp. rose 1¼ to $64½, Fairview Corp. ½ to $18½, Pan Ocean Oil ½ to $16⅛ and Denison Mines ¼ to $33¼, while Abitibi Paper declined ¼ to $11¾ and Chrysler ¼ to $24¾.

Home Sales Wind Down

TORONTO (CP) — Higher mortgage rates and tighter money supply are contributing to a slowdown in housing market activities, says Canadian Real Estate Research Corp. Ltd.

It predicts in its latest housing market letter that mortgage rates will rise as high as 10½ or 10¾ per cent by the end of this year.

It says Canada's housing market is near its peak and a levelling off is anticipated with a subsequent decline that will continue into the second quarter of 1974.

TWO VICTORIANS ON NATIONALS

GEORGE BRICE
. . . winning pitcher

(Times News Services)

EDMUNDSTON, N.B. — Two Victorians, George Brice and Mike Finlayson, a pair of righthanders, have been named to the 20-member Canadian baseball team which will compete in the Intercontinental Cup tournament in Rome Sept. 1-10.

Six players were named from the B.C. squad which Sunday defeated Manitoba 10-7 to retain the Canadian senior men's baseball championship.

Brice was the winning pitcher as B.C. scored six runs in the first inning, two in the second and two in the seventh. It was Brice's second win of the tournament.

In semi-final play, B.C. defeated Nova Scotia 4-3 and Manitoba edged Saskatchewan 4-2.

Finlayson and Mitchell were the pitchers who combined in the final game to pitch B.C. to the recent Canada Games championship. Finlayson has been playing in Vancouver this year.

The club will practice in Montreal this week before leaving for Rome.

A Losing Habit

By The Associated Press

Chicago Bears handed the Bills their fourth straight loss Sunday, a 13-10 defeat in a controversy-filled National Football League exhibition game that ended with two players slugging it out while time ran out.

In Sunday's other exhibition games, New York Giants beat Pittsburgh Steelers 29-24, San Francisco Giants punished Denver Broncos 43-7 and Green Bay Packers tripped Kansas City Chiefs 21-16.

On Saturday, St. Louis Cardinals edged New York Jets 13-10, New England Patriots pounded New Orleans Saints 31-6, Minnesota Vikings trounced Oakland Raiders 34-10, San Diego Chargers defeated Philadelphia Eagles 24-17, Washington Redskins stopped Baltimore Colts 20-3 and Cleveland Browns trimmed Atlanta Falcons 20-17.

CLOCK BREAKS DOWN

The field officials had to keep time with stopwatches in the second half after the stadium clock at Buffalo's Rich Stadium stopped working.

Buffalo was driving toward the Chicago goal line when J. D. Hill caught a long pass, then began mixing it up with his tackler, Allan Ellis, as the officials allowed time to run out.

Buffalo fans, who have suffered through six seasons in which the Bills have won only 17 games, took out some of their frustrations on the Bears, pelting them with paper cups, beer and sandwiches.

TWO-WAY THREAT

San Francisco scored two touchdowns before Denver completed an offensive play and led 40-0 at one point. MacArthur Lant ran for one touchdown and passed for another for the Packers.

Jim Bakken kicked a 54-yard field goal with one second to play to give the Cardinals their win. Jim Plunkett threw two touchdown passes for the Patriots.

Charley Taylor caught two touchdown passes for the Redskins, while rookie Chuck Foreman scored two touchdowns on the ground for the Vikings.

San Diego blew a 17-0 lead, then won on John Sykes' three-yard touchdown plunge with 32 seconds to play. Quarterbacks Mike Phipps and Brian Sipe accounted for Cleveland touchdowns, Phipps on the ground and Sipe passing.

LIANELLI CLUB ROMPS OVER ALBERTA REPS

Regarded as possibly the strongest club team in the world, Llanelli crushed Alberta Reps 58-9 in an exhibition game.

Scrum-half Dave Slater, formerly of Victoria and now living in Calgary, scored the only try against Llanelli and fullback Jim Hamilton got the other points with a conversion and a drop goal.

Llanelli meets the Victoria Rugby Union President's XV at 6:30 Tuesday night at Royal Athletic Park and plays the Victoria Crimson Tide Reps at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at Centennial Stadium.

Donohue Extends Victory Streak

ELKHART LAKE, Wis. (AP) — Mark Donohue shrugged off 95-degree heat Sunday at Road America for a convincing victory and his third consecutive Canadian-American Challenge Cup sports car series triumph.

Donohue, who set a track record of 122.053 miles an hour on the winding, four-mile course in Saturday's qualifying, set the pace for the day by winning Sunday's 100-mile qualifying heat by 23 seconds.

Then he made his series domination even more evident in a 100-mile championship heat, lapping all but the second- and third-place cars in his turbocharged Porsche to finish a comfortable 29 seconds ahead of Jody Scheckter's turbo-Porsche.

George Follmer, the defending champion in the series, was third, also in a turbo-Porsche.

Donohue averaged 114.021 m.p.h. in the championship race, leading all the way. He won $5,000 in the qualifying heat, then added $10,000 in the championship.

With three races remaining in the series, Donohue has 79 points to 47 for Follmer. Scheckter moved past Charlie Kempt into third place with 39 points. Kemp has 30.

Donohue has qualified fastest in all five Can-Am series races this season, and won at Watkins Glen and Mid-Ohio before Road America.

Marg Boosts Tour Take

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Defending-champion Margaret Court of Australia defeated sixth-seeded Julie Heldman of London 6-3, 6-2 in the finals of the $30,000 women's pro tennis grasscourt championship.

For Mrs. Court, the victory meant $7,000, increasing her tour earnings for the year to $96,675.

Francoise Durr of France and Betty Stove of the Netherlands played superior tactical tennis to defeat Janet Newberry of La Jolla, Calif., and Pam Teegarden of Los Angeles 6-4, 6-3 for the $2,000 doubles title.

Late Birdies Rescue Title for Panasiuk

BILL WAKEHAM

By IAN MacLAINE

BURLINGTON, Ont. (CP) — Bob Panasiuk and Phil Giroux played the script the same Sunday as they did a year ago, but they're hoping that when they team up again in November for the World Cup golf championships in Spain things will be different.

Panasiuk, the defending champion, won the Canadian Golfers' Association championship Sunday with a two-stroke victory over Giroux.

Panasiuk, a 32-year-old from Windsor, Ont., toured Burlington Golf and Country Club's 6,375-yard layout Sunday in 69— two under par—and finished with a 72-hole score of 272.

The victory in the $25,000 tournament was worth $5,000 and the Labatt's Cup while Giroux, from Montreal's Municipal Golf Club, had to settle for second prize money of $3,500 for the second year in a row.

The 37-year-old Montrealer actually held the lead in the final round and shared it after 15 holes. Then Panasiuk fired birdies on 16 and 17 while Giroux parred the rest of the way.

Both players, in a post-tournament interview, said they don't want the same experience in World Cup competition they did in Australia after finishing one-two in the championship last year.

Panasiuk said other players who attended the World Cup matches had matching outfits while he and Giroux "had nothing."

"We felt kind of scrubbish coming from Canada, one of the world's top countries, and not having outfits to match. I felt we should look like a team from an important country, which we are."

Veteran Moe Norman of Gilford, Ont., shared third place Sunday with Toronto's Gary Pitchford. Both players earned $2,000.

Grouped at 280, worth $1,000 apiece, were Bob Rose of Copetown, Ont., Lew Taylor of Ile Bizard, Que., and Bill Wakeham from Cowichan Station, B.C.

Wakeham, firing his second successive two-under-par 69 round after opening with a 70 and 72, had a chance to finish higher but took a bogey four on the closing hole after sinking birdie putts on the previous two holes.

Al Kennedy of Richmond tied for 14th with a 284 total and won $425 but other B.C. golfers didn't fare as well.

Victoria's John Morgan fired 68-75-74 and then withdrew while Bob Cox of Vancouver scored 71-73-74-73—291 and Ron Willey of Vancouver carded 72-73-75-75—295.

Yanks Survive British Charge

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The United States weathered a fabulous comeback by Britain to regain the Walker Cup Saturday in the 24th international matches for one of amateur golf's most prized trophies.

With Vinny Giles, Dan Edwards, Martin West, Mark Pfeil and Gary Koch coming back in strong fashion, the U.S. won the two-day event 14-10.

After winning three foursome matches and taking the other alternate shot encounter for a 10-6 lead in the morning, the Americans had to do everything but call out the Marines in the head-to-head singles wrapup.

The British, who managed only one of a possible eight points in the foursomes in two days, won five singles matches Friday and needed to do even better to retain the cup, which they won for only the second time in the biennial competition at St. Andrews two years ago.

However, the British, who enjoyed a holiday bash after winning 13-11 in 1971, accepted the challenge.

In six of the eight matches, they led after nine holes. They were tied in the other two, and even the most ardent U.S. team followers were concerned.

Injury Hits Calgary Ace

CALGARY — Calgary Stampeders are sweating out an injury to John Helton which may or may not keep him out of action.

The big tackle, kingpin of the Calgary defence, suffered strained knee ligaments in Wednesday's Western Football Conference game against Edmonton Stampeders. Coach Jim Duncan says it's a hopeful sign that no fluid has built up but Helton is a doubtful starter in next Tuesday's game against B.C. Lions.

Men in Delivery Rooms —It's Not for Cowards

Jonathan Franklin, our peerless news editor, is the third friend of mine who has had a baby in the last month and, of course, I rejoice with him that it is one of the better kind, a girl who's been given the lovely name of Thia. Otherwise the whole performance leaves me cold.

By "having a baby" I mean that Jonathan and my other two friends actually went into the delivery rooms with their wives, watched the whole event and even, I gather, participated to some extent, though how I'd rather not know.

This is, of course, A Thing To Do these days. In an Esquire article called "Men Don't Know Nuthin' 'Bout Birthin' Babies" which I'll be quoting, I fancy, rather a lot, Barbara Grizzuti Harrison observes, "Having a baby now has become a family affair, like going to Yosemite. The man who once paced the corridors is likely to be inside the delivery room taking home movies. Men now want to be part of the mysterious inner-sanctum action. They want to 'share the experience' . . . They want to be able to say — and they do say — 'We gave birth.' "

But not this man, I hasten to say. This man wants to be bellied up to a bar in some dark saloon, drinking doubles waiting for the phone to ring, while his wife is going through that business.

The odds, I grant you, are long — you might even say ridiculous—that I will be playing that role again, but if I ever do I want to have a baby the way I've had three of them, the way my father did and the way his father did, well removed from the action, well fortified with grain spirits. I have been altogether happy meeting my daughters for the first time when they were in nice little cribs, behind glass, decorated with pink ribbons (I never got a blue) and that's as close as I want to be until they come home.

If this is selfish or cowardly, then so be it, but I don't happen to think that it's either. Mrs. Harrison, herself, admits that the presence of her husband at the birth of her first child, from the moment her contractions began at five minute intervals, made no difference, either way. "To be honest," she writes, "his endearments and reassurances had become exquisitely irrelevant."

That is my first rationale. I do not want to be in the way or to inhibit her in any fashion and if I just happened to be one of those men who faint dead away, a common occurrence, I'd be simply compounding her difficulties.

My second rationale is that I just don't believe this was meant to be a function of marital togetherness or that, by merely being an observer, a man is really sharing the miracle.

Again, Mrs. Harrison puts it as no man could.

"But—and may God, if she is a feminist, forgive me—I think that bred in the bone and marrow of a woman is a still, deep knowledge that giving birth is, like dying, an experience that one does not ever truly 'share'," she writes. "A man may be there — a woman who loves a man may be happy to have him there — but his consciousness is a separate consciousness. Birth does not take place in the mind. The arena for the act of birth is a woman's body, and no man can fully comprehend or share it."

This is not to say, mind you, that that coward hiding in the bar is unaware of the agony and the ecstasy of the experience or that he believes that the birth of a baby is managed with the ease of a flower bursting in bloom.

He knows full well that his wife is enduring pain. His thoughts, his heart go out to her as he keeps his traditional, ineffectual vigil. If he believed for a moment that he could ease her hurting by being there he would be there. It is a respect for her privacy, for that close relationship between doctor and patient, and, most of all, the knowledge that there's not a dam'd thing he can do to make it any easier, that determines his role.

If it has worked for Jonathan and Haleen and those other couples I'm happy for them, but for me, well, I'd rather be some place, any place, else. Phone me when it's over.

Piling Up Wharf Interest

Piling up for some later action are these boys who attracted passersby on an Inner Harbor wharf. They are grabbing pile worms which, dangling on the end of a hook, may net the youngster and his family a cod or bass supper.

Camosun Costs May Shoot Up By One-Third

A 32 per cent jump in operating costs is predicted in 1974-75 budget estimates, to be put before Camosun College council tonight.

An operating budget of $5.5 million will be presented to the council by finance committee chairman Walter Donald.

The college's operating budget for 1973-74 was $4.1 million.

The estimates attribute the increased cost to normal inflation and growth (12 per cent), new programs and planning (8 per cent), and improved services (12 per cent).

Camosun bursar P. D. Winram said the estimated rise in the operating budget is roughly the same as this year.

Sixty per cent of the budget is provided by the provincial government, with the remaining 40 per cent by tuition fees and money from the Greater Victoria School District through local taxes.

The proposed operating budget would send the Greater Victoria school mill rate up .09 mills, compared with a .12 mill increase this year.

A $884,340 capital budget for 1974-5 will also be presented to the college council.

Biggest single item in the budget is $153,300 for equipment for the college's nautical training school, which it hopes to expand considerably.

A sum of $98,000 is allocated for buying and installing portable buildings on the Lansdowne campus to house health core, visual arts and other programs.

The college hopes to buy surplus portable buildings from the school board, said Winram.

Part of the capital budget is allocated to expanding and equipping the college library and making it a media centre as well, complete with audio-visual equipment.

LIFE SKILL COACHES

A proposed four-month course to train Indians to work on social problems in Indian communities will be presented to Camosun College Council tonight for approval.

The course, if approved, will be the first of its kind in British Columbia and will become part of the college's native Indian program.

It is one of new program proposals for 1973-74 to be submitted to the council.

The new program would train Indian "life skills coaches" who will work on reserves and in urban areas to help their own people make the transition into urban life more effectively.

It is an offshoot of a life skills course for Indian students at Camosun, teaching problem solving and communication skills, which started in 1972-73.

A survey of those taking the course showed 85 per cent found it helpful in solving personal and family problems and in adjusting to the non-Indian urban community.

Well over half the students said they wished there were life skills programs for Indians living on reserves, according to the survey.

Terry McNamara, life skills coach at Camosun, will be attending a five-week training session for life skills coach trainers this fall in Prince Albert, Sask.

Another program proposal for the college is to establish a new curriculum core in social services, with a one-year social worker assistant program to begin in 1974-75 as the first part of the core.

A two-year teacher assistant program is proposed.

Also proposed are:

—A public administration course to train people for the civil service.

—An insurance management course to train insurance technologists.

—A tourism and travel course to train tourist counsellors or travel agents for private industry or government agencies.

—The second year of the hotel-motel administration course (first year is already offered).

—A two-year biomedical electronics course to train people to aid professionals in medical and related fields in design, maintenance and operation of electronic devices used in diagnosis and therapy.

—A two-year respiratory technology course to train people to aid professionals in diagnosis, treatment and care of patients with respiratory ailments, and to maintain the needed equipment.

—A one-year visual arts course.

—A short (about two months) program to train ward aides for extended care and private hospitals.

HALL-MARK OF GRATITUDE DURING FERRYLESS TIME

Provincial secretary Ernie Hall has sent thank-you letters to the mayors of Victoria, Sidney and Nanaimo for the efforts of those municipalities during the ferry strike last week which left thousands of tourists on Vancouver Island longer than planned.

Hall said provision of refreshments, toilet facilities, sleeping accommodations and dances was appreciated by the government.

Also singled out for praise were service clubs and organizations such as the Victoria YM-YWCA, the RCMP and provincial civil defence.

"The friendly, helpful attitude of the residents of the areas affected, acting both officially and privately, will, I am sure, result in many of the visitors returning to vacation here in future years."

INDUSTRIAL EYESORE at Victoria's Inner Harbor, the Ocean Cement plant on Wharf Street is fast disappearing as demolition continues to prepare the site for public waterfront use. The $58,720 demolition job by Oliver Equipment Ltd. is scheduled for completion by the end of September. Trash Fire Razes Acres In Langford

Langford firemen spent a total of six hours battling two bush fires Sunday which razed about two acres of land.

Sparks from a pile of burning garbage at a lot of the 800-block Walfred ignited a stump pile and set numerous spot fires. The fires burned four hours before 18 firemen were able to gain control.

Later the same day 22 men worked two hours extinguishing a number of burning trees on an uncleared lot at 523 Trenor in the Phelps subdivision.

A bulldozer was used to push some felled logs from a hilltop into a gulley where they were sprayed with water and bordered by a ditch.

MOTHER, SON HURT IN BIKE-CAR CRASH

A Saanich woman and her four-year-old son were taken to Victoria General Hospital in critical condition Sunday with injuries suffered in a bike-truck accident near Maddock Avenue West and Tillicum.

Police said Cheryl Jean Sullivan, 23, of 388 Davida, was riding a bicycle with her son, Sean Edward, on the bar when they collided at 11:45 a.m. with a pickup truck driven by Ian Paul Gallipo, 384 Gorge Road West.

Police said the pair were taken off the critical list today with the mother in poor condition and the son fair.

Gallipo was unharmed, said police.

Pollen Scolds Tourist Bureau Quitters

By PAUL MOSS
Times Staff

The decision to kill the Greater Victoria Visitors and Convention Bureau at the end of the current tourist season was a "completely irrational action" designed to "embarrass" Victoria city council, says Mayor Peter Pollen.

Pollen rebukes the bureau's directors — in a statement circulated to aldermen — for taking that decision last spring in spite of the city's "most generous support and continued leadership" with regard to the bureau and its activities.

The directors, he says, "in what would appear to be moment of impulse and pique, vigorously solicited proxy votes throughout the membership of the visitors' bureau with a view to forcing the bureau into liquidation.

"It would appear the purpose of this completely irrational action by the directors of the bureau was to embarrass the council of the city of Victoria in spite of the fact they had never appeared before council for an in-depth discussion with regard to the situation as they saw it."

Elsewhere in his two-page statement, the mayor reminds the tourists industry that city taxpayers have already paid for and are continuing to support major beautification and improvement projects that benefit the industry itself as well as the citizens generally.

Closure Done 'To Embarrass'

And he invites the help of the industry's "more enlightened and responsible elements" in ensuring the continuation of thhe visitors' bureau.

Pollen's memorandum recalls that council decided last year to place the city's financial contribution to the bureau on a "more formal and disciplined basis."

The decision was that in 1973 the city would provide $2 for every $1 collected by the bureau from its membership of tourist-oriented businesses; and that in subsequent years the city's support would be on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

Then, after producing his "impulse and pique" comment, the mayor goes on to point out (as he did at last week's meeting of council-in-committee) that the bureau has been operating this year "almost entirely supported by the taxpayer of the city of Victoria, with literally no financial contribution whatsoever from its membership."

He stresses it is important to recognize the city is already paying "an inordinate amount of its tax revenue into the betterment or enhancement of the environmental aspects of the city, for not only its citizens but its very important tourist industry."

Among examples of city financial involvement in such projects he mentions $60,000 as Victoria's share of the lower Causeway now under construction; $300,000 for acquisition of the Ocean Cement site at the Inner Harbor; and "in excess of $200,000" for current negotiations to purchase the Imperial Oil gas station adjacent to the visitors' bureau.

Revive Bureau, Industry Asked

"Perhaps the small group of most short-sighted industry spokesmen would also appreciate the fact the city of Victoria in the last two years has added more parks to its parks system than have been added since the turn of the century—yes, the turn of the centruy."

Inviting industry help in keeping the bureau alive, Pollen's statement concludes:

"The council of the city of Victoria will continue to match the contributions of the membership of the Victoria visitors' bureau dollar for dollar.

"We fell this is most fair and equitable, particularly for a bureau that is primarily—and this should be strongly emphasized and recognized—for the dissemination of specific tourist information for hotel accommodation, commercial recreation facilities and, in a more general area, the dissemination of information of interest to the tourist.

"The bureau must surely be recognized primarily as a cooperative advertising vehicle for the tourist industry in the area."

Wingspan Flies In With Track Record

Times News Services

Wingspan, a grandson of the mighty Ribot, survived a tremendous challenge in the stretch run and a foul claim in the stewards' room to chalk up a record-setting triumph in the 44th running of the Canadian Derby Saturday at Calgary.

Wingspan shaved four-fifths of a second off the track record for one and three-eighths miles as he covered the distance in 2:20 2-5 to edge Alberta-bred Grandin Park by a neck.

Five lengths back in third place was Merging Fire.

Frank Inda, who was aboard Grandin Park, lodged an unsuccessful claim of foul against the winner, claiming he was bumped twice coming into the stretch.

In Vancouver Saturday, Petite Prize and Euclidean staged front-running gallops to win the two divisions of the B.C. Futurity.

Ridden by Basil Frazier, Petite Prize made her first start an impressive one as she went the six and one-half furlongs in 1:18 3-5 and beat Avec Plaisir by four lengths in the first division.

Euclidean needed little urging from jockey Jesus Munoz as he breezed to a seven-length triumph in 1:19. Second in the field of 11 two-year-olds in the second division was Solar Breeze.

Silver Mallet equalled the track record in Seattle Sunday as he won the Longacres Mile by a neck in a stretch duel with Cataha Prince.

Earning $30,250 for his owner, Washington lumberman Maurice Hitchcock, the five-year-old gelding responded to the urging of jockey Larry Pierce to run the mile in 1:34, matching the mark set in the same race last year by Red Wind.

Reluctant Lord was third before 14,547 fans, who wagered a track-record $1.2 million.

On other United States tracks Saturday, Gusty O'Shay, who was running in $5,000 claiming races in May, won the 69th running of the $75,000 Hopeful at Saratoga track in New York.

It was the first stakes victory for the chestnut gelding, which finished a half-length in front of Take By Storm.

Pacing Mark Equalled

Times News Services

Armbro Nadir paced the mile in 1:56 1-5, equalling the world record on a 5-8-mile track set in 1966 by Romeo Hanover.

Rob Ron Ritzar finished second, a length behind the winner while the favorite, Ricci Reenie Time, was third.

In Toronto Saturday, Sir Dalrae, leading North American pacer this season, set Greenwod track record of 1:57 3-3 for the mile in winning the $58,000 Canadian Pacing Derby.

It was the stallion's 11th consecutive win and boosted his season's earnings to $240,650 for owner Willard Smith of Inglewood, Calif.

In the $150,000 International Trot at Roosevelt Raceway in New York Saturday, Delmonica Hanover and Spartan Hanover, the two U.S. entries finished one-two.

Delmonica Hanover came from fourth place in the stretch to win by a nose in the field of 10 trotters from eight countries.

Rick O'Dell Answers Call of Opportunity

Rick O'Dell took advantage of an opportunity to grab the lead on the 11th lap and then went on to win the 35-lap feature super-stock race Saturday night at Western Speedway.

O'Dell went to the front of the pack when leader Jerry Ferrie and Ross Surgenor rubbed fenders and Gary Kershaw spun out while trying to avoid the mishap.

Kershaw, who had been looking for a third straight main event victory, had to be content with a win in the fast heat and a third-place finish in the trophy dash after eclipsing his own two-week-old track record during time trials.

Larry Pollard, who won the dash and placed third in the fast heat, finished third in the main, which started with 13 cars.

Haslam used the points gained from his second in the main and fourth-place finish in the fast heat to gain ground on points leader Terry Forsyth, who had to sit out the competition when the water pump in his car failed.

Vampires, Warriors Post Wins

Vampires hammered Invaders 33-7 and North Island Warriors downed Saanich Hornets 31-15 Sunday in season-opening games of the Vancouver Island Bantam Football League at Royal Athletic Park.

Steve Short and Randy Smith each scored two touchdowns to pace Vampires while Kevin Hughes scored a single major and kicked two conversions. Brad Leason booted the other conversion.

Brian Friesen and Dave Lee led Warriors with two touchdowns each while Bruce Woolcock took care of most of the Saanich scoring with two majors and two conversions.

Ranger Pitcher Relies On 'Gaylord Fastballs'

By The Associated Press

Merritt made it clear that he had taken a page from Perry's new book after he threw a three-hitter and beat the Indians' right-hander in the first game of an American League baseball doubleheader.

"I threw about 25 Gaylord fastballs," said Merritt using a euphemism for a pitch frustrated hitters contend is the outlawed spitball.

In Sunday's other American League games, Oakland A's blanked New York Yankees 1-0, Chicago White Sox swept Detroit Tigers 4-1 and 3-1, Milwaukee Brewers shaded Minnesota Twins 3-2, Baltimore Orioles crushed Kansas City Royals 10-1 and California Angels edged Boston Red Sox 1-0.

"We've been losing quite a lot of ball games lately," said the 29-year-old Merritt," and I decided to try something new."

But was that something new a spitball?

Merritt smiled and answered: "You take it from there."

Mel Stottlemyre pitched no-hit ball for the Yankees against Cleveland until the eighth, when Joe Rudi singled, was sacrificed to second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Vic Davalillo's single. Ken Holtzman was the winner.

Two of baseball's best base-runners got their names into the game's record books Sunday—one with his legs and the other with his bat.

Lou Brock became the first player to steal 50 or more bases in nine consecutive seasons but his theft didn't save St. Louis Cardinals from a 4-1 loss to Cincinnati Reds.

One of the reasons the Reds won was Joe Morgan's 20th homer. That homer made him one of three players ever to hit 20 homers and steal 50 bases in the same season.

In Sunday's other National League games, Los Angeles Dodgers beat Philadelphia Phillies 7-3, San Francisco Giants edged New York Mets 5-4, San Diego Padres downed Montreal Expos 4-2, Atlanta Braves turned back Pittsburgh Pirates 8-6 and Chicago Cubs trimmed Houston Astros 4-2.

Brock eclipsed a record that former Detroit Tiger Ty Cobb, generally regarded as the greatest base-stealer of all time, had held for more than half a century.

Brock, who has 615 lifetime steals, began his streak with 63 in 1965 and followed, in order, with 74, 52, 62, 53, 51, 64 and 63 before this season.

Morgan shares his record, an indicator of a rare combination of base-running ability and batting power, with Brock and Cesar Cedeno of Houston. He has stolen 55 bases this year.

Nine Athletes Inducted

TORONTO (CP) — Nine outstanding athletes were inducted into Canada's Sports Hall of Fame Saturday at the Canadian National Exhibition. Three were posthumous awards.

Karen Magnussen flew in from New York and was taken in an out of the CNE grounds by helicopter to make a brief appearance for her award. She was inducted on the strength of the 1973 figure skating championship she won in March at Bratislava, Czechoslovakia.

Matt Baldwin, also of Edmonton, was inducted on the basis of his contribution on the basis of his contribution to curling. He won two Canadian championships and competed in five Briars.

Father David Bauer, former national team coach was honored for sparking the national team concept and moulding the 1964 Canadian Olympic entry.

Also inducted were: Ray Mitchell of Peace River, Alta., world tenpin bowling champion in 1963; Keith Warples of Durham, Ont., first Canadian harness driver to race a sub-two-minute mile; Levi (Shotty) Rogers of St. John's, Nfld., who died in 1963, for his service of 58 years to rowing; shot-putter George Gray, who died in 1933, for his record of 17 years as recognized champion of the sport; and weight-lifter Victoria Delmarre, who died in 1955, who was renowned for his outstanding feats of strength.

FLIGHT TO FREEDOM HIS FIRST LESSON

LUEBECK, West Germany (Reuter) — A 23-year-old East German aircraft mechanic, who never had a flying lesson, flew himself and his family to West Germany in a single-engined aircraft, police reported Sunday.

The refugee bundled his wife and four-year-old son into the crop-spraying aircraft he used to service and took off Saturday from an East German airfield some 20 miles east of Luebeck, police said.

The plane was reported slightly damaged in what they described as "a bit of a rough touchdown."

MP Recall Within Hours, Rail Strikers Defiant

Times News Services

OTTAWA — Prime Minister Trudeau promised early this afternoon Parliament would be recalled within hours if last-minute attempts to settle the national rail strike don't work.

His announcement came amid indications that striking union members won't obey if Parliament orders them back to work.

"The days of legislating us back to work are over," Marshall Hill, co-chairman of the joint committee of CP Rail and Canadian National Railway workers in Vancouver said.

"That's not the answer anymore."

Nick Zapantis, the other chairman, said the Associated Non-Operating Railway Unions is planning a mass meeting of members at the University of B.C. to discuss any settlement order from Parliament if the cabinet decides on this course of action.

"It is up to the members but I don't think they will go back if they believe the settlement is inferior," Zapantis said. "The only way there can be a settlement is for the government to be generous."

Trudeau's announcement followed a two-hour cabinet meeting.

"The parties still have something on the table," he told reporters, "but I have authority, in consultation with the minister of labor, to call Parliament if it doesn't work out in the next several hours."

Asked whether Parliament would be recalled before the end of the day, he said he had "a bit of flexibility on that but I've a deadine in my own mind and so has (Labor Minister John) Munro."

Trudeau said the question of federal subsidies to enable the 11 railway companies to meet the demands of the 56,000 striking non-operating railway workers was not even considered by the cabinet.

"The question of subsidies is not being discussed by us. It is a matter for the parties to arrive at an arrangement."

He said the government was still hopeful an agreement could be reached but "if this doesn't work, then I will call Parliament."

Trudeau indefinitely postponed his trip to the Arctic, which had been scheduled to begin today.

The government was faced with the last resort of recalling Parliament after the railways failed to reach agreement during the weekend on a basis of reopening negotiations with the strikeing 56,000-member Associated Unions of Non-Operating Railway Employees.

Munro had said earlier he would recommend recall of Parliament if no progress towards talks was made by the end of the week.

This morning Munro also asked union leaders to stand by for him to call them.

About 60 leaders of the non-operating railway workers from across the country were to hold a meeting at mid-morning, but after Munro's call they changed their plans. They now are expected to meet by mid-afternoon.

A union spokesman said there was no progress to report in the stalled contract talks.

The unions rejected company offers Sunday to find a settlement based on conciliation board recommendations.

In a letter to the unions, executives of CN and CP Rail invited union representatives to meet with them to find "a full and final settlement" based on recommendations from Mr. Justice F. Craig Munroe, chairman of the conciliation board.

Mr. Justice Munroe's proposals include pay increases of 17.8 per cent in three stages of a two-year contract.

Richard Smith, the unions' chief negotiator, while rejecting the companies' offers, said the unions were still willing to hold direct negotiations to solve the dispute.

APARTHEID KILLS BOY

Times News Services

JOHANNESBURG — Apartheid claimed a human sacrifice Sunday when a white youth bled to death because the wrong ambulance—labelled for blacks only—arrived at the scene of a traffic accident.

Businessman Mannie Kaufman said a traffic officer refused to allow his son to be taken to hospital in the ambulance. By the time a second ambulance, labelled for whites only, arrived at the scene, it was too late, and the boy died on the way to hospital. Kaufman said doctors told him the boy had bled to death, and had he reached the hospital sooner, he would have had a chance.

"This was tantamount to offering my son as a sacrifice to apartheid."

In Cape Town, apartheid is now embracing dogs and cats.

The government has ruled that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals may offer boarding facilities to the pets of whites only while the owners are on holiday.

Long-distance cyclists Tony, Cameron and Richard

By KIT COLLINS
Times Staff

Armed with 30 extra spokes, a couple of extra pedals and 65 pounds of camping gear, every 14-year-old can do it.

Time is a necessity, too — for it took two months, two weeks and two days for Cameron Jackson and Tony Stipkala, both 14, to cycle 3,600 miles from Cornwallis, N.S., to Victoria.

They arrived Saturday.

"We had a mechanical advantage — 10 gears," said Cameron's older brother Richard, 18, who made up the third of the Victoria-bound trio.

There wasn't one complaint of a sore leg muscle.

It wasn't the fastest way to travel 'cross-country, but according to the youths, it's by far the best.

Planning for the trip began last February when the trio learned their fathers, Cpt. W. A. Jackson and Cpt. A. P. Stipkala, both stationed at CFB Cornwallis, had been transferred to Victoria.

If there was a move they wanted to do it their way.

After two weekend practice trips when the list of necessities was chopped to about 65 pounds of gear, the youths set off June 23 astride two wheels each and pedalled all day, most days until they arrived.

Their parents, who travelled by car, beat them to Victoria, but not by much, the boys hastened to point out.

"The only thing we really needed a lot of along the way was spokes — you'd be surprised, every time you hit a rock you break one," said Richard.

The best part of the trip was the scenery; the worst — rain in Northern Ontario; the hardest — the stretch from Cache Creek to Hope, "where the road goes slowly up and slowly down for miles and miles.

"We even didn't mind the Rockies as much as that."

The Prairies were cause for comment, too: "They were boring, we cycled through them at night."

High points were meeting other cycle enthusiasts along the way. "We met Wally Watts, the unicyclist who's going to Halifax from Vancouver.

They met a pedestrian also — Bob McGuiness who's making the cross-country trip.

Asked if she was worried about her son's trip, Mrs. Jackson said not at all. "There wasn't one parental finger in one of the plans.

"I'm sure the best thing about the trip was making it without parents in their hair."

2nd Ship Seized

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Greenpeace Foundation spokesman in Vancouver said today the anti-nuclear protest vessel Spirit of Peace has been arrested near Mururoa Atoll by French military personnel.

Greenpeace spokesman Rod Marining said foundation director Kurt Hown was on board the vessel.

He said the foundation has received word from New Zealand that the Spirit of Peace has been illegally seized in international waters in the Mururoa nuclear test zone. He said the boat was out of radio contact at the time and the fate of the crew is not known.

Marining said that "in view of the way the Greenpeace III crew was treated, we are extremely concerned about the safety of the Spirit of Peace's crew."

He also said that an officer of the Canadian external affairs department arrived in Papeete, Tahiti, Sunday and shortly thereafter, David McTaggart of Vancouver, the skipper of the Greenpeace III, was released from French military hospital. The Canadian skipper had been held under armed guard in Papeete for over a week.

A report from Vancouver eye specialist Dr. Robin McCreery indicated that the condition of McTaggart's right eye is serious and surgery may be required, Marining said. The skipper was injured in a scuffle with French sailors boarding the Greenpeace.

He said that every effort is being made to return the skipper to Vancouver as soon as possible.

Marining said Greenpeace III navigator Nigel Ingram of England will be undergoing extensive medical examination in Vancouver today. He said that an initial examination Saturday revealed that Ingram has sustained some injury to his spine, specifically to the cervical vertabrae.

Ingram said here Friday the vessel was in international waters off Mururoa atoll where the French were preparing a nuclear blast when the sailors seized the ship, McTaggart, Ingram and two women crew members from New Zealand.

Ingram said he was beaten, one of the women said they were both beaten and McTaggart has said sailors beat him with truncheoons.

French embassy officials in Ottawa, however, have said McTaggart was not beaten, but injured himself as he tried to throw two French sailors overboard.

U.S. PRIME LOAN RATE RISES AGAIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Three of the United States' bigger banks announced today that they were increasing their prime lending rate to 9¾ per cent from 9½ per cent.

New York's Chase Manhattan Bank, the country's third largest, initiated the move, and then Chicago's Continental Illinois Bank and Trust, the ninth largest, and Franklin National Bank of New York, 20th in size, followed shortly thereafter.

In San Francisco, the Bank of America, the world's biggest commercial bank, said it was delaying a decision whether to increase its prime rate from 9½.

If the rise becomes industry-wide, as most observers expect, it would mark the 15th time this year that American banks have lifted the minimum lending rate they charge their most creditworthy corporate customers.

NOBODY HELPED

TORONTO (CP) — An 18-year-old was raped early Sunday and police said people sat on their front porches as she was dragged 300 yards down a street to a parking lot.

Inspector Gordon Mugford said several cars detoured around the struggling couple and said the police department is shocked that no one offered to help.

The girl was walking home from a bus stop after midnight when she was attacked by a youth who held a knife to her throat. He dragged her into the parking lot behind some apartment buildings, where she was raped.

Supply Roads Cut

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Communist insurgents severed the last supply road into Phnom Penh Sunday in the biggest outbreak of fighting since the end of U.S. bombing 11 days ago.

Government troops claimed 200 of the enemy killed in fighting 17 miles south of the capital.

Even as the insurgents exerted heavy pressure on the capital today a top Cambodian official appealed to Prince Norodom Sihanouk to be a "good prince" and end his fight to regain power.

Field reports said the rebels captured the town of Sethbo, 10 miles south of the capital, severed Highway 4 and surrounded a nearby 122-man government garrison at Phum Sala Krours on the outskirts of the capital.

The highway is Phnom Penh's only overland link with the deepwater port of Kompong Som on Cambodia's southern coast. Since it was cut further south during the weekend, rebels now control it at two points.

Highway 5, the road to the country's rice capital at Battambang, also is under rebel control, and so Phnom Penh's only existing supply line is the Mekong River running southeast into South Vietnam.

The increase of Communist activity followed the claim 24 hours ago by the Cambodian high command of its largest post-bombing victory. In that victory the command said government soldiers artillery and a single T-28 fighter-bomber killed 200 rebel troops in an area 17½ miles south of Phnom Penh on Saturday.

U.K. Embassy Mail Bombed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A letter bomb exploded in the British embassy today, maiming a 51-year-old woman employee who was opening the mail.

Nora Murray, a personal assistant to a senior embassy officer, was taken to George Washington University Hospital where a spokesman said she lost her left hand and her right hand was severely injured. She was described as "in serious condition but satisfactory."

The explosion occurred shortly after 9 a.m. and came on the heels of an intensified terror bomb campaign in Britain by the Irish Republican Army.

Officials said the mail had arrived during the weekend and early today.

Meanwhile, Britain enforced tight security measures today at seaports, rail terminals and public buildings in an effort to halt the IRA bomb campaign.

Police even appealed to holiday picnickers to clean up litter left by their annual three-day August bank holiday weekend for fear it could be used to hide more bombs. They also asked the public to report immediately any parcels or shopping bags left unattended in suspicious circumstances.

U.S. 'Hosed' on Air Routes

Times News Services

WASHINGTON — Canada apparently has won its long and bitter battle with the United States for new cross-border air routes and in return has agreed not to end customs pre-clearance.

One authority has been quoted as saying "the U.S. has taken a real hosing."

There has been no official word of a settlement. In fact, talks have been so secret that no Canadian source would even admit they were going on.

However, it is known that officials of the Canadian embassy met here for four days last week with officials of the U.S. state, commerce and transportation departments, preparing the way for the 12th round of formal negotiations scheduled to begin here Sept. 4.

Unofficial reports out of the meetings state that the problem of pre-clearance of passengers may be solved and "indications are we will have a satisfactory route agreement."

The Canadian government had threatened to end preclearance — moving U.S.-bound passengers through customs at the point of embarkation — by Sept. 10 unless the two countries reached agreement on new air routes.

At present, pre-clearance is conducted only at Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto and Montreal in Canada, with no such facilities in the U.S.

U.S. officials have been bitter over the Canadian stand on pre-clearance, termination of which, they say, could cost U.S. airlines up to $6 million a year in lost revenue.

So highly is pre-clearance valued in the U.S., that—reports state—U.S. negotiators have been reluctantly willing to trade off air routes to Canadian airlines for an agreement which would expand preclearance to other Canadian cities and set up a similar system in the U.S. for the first time.

Calgary, served primarily by U.S. airlines, may be in line for new all-Canadian service to West Coast U.S. cities, plus routes to the Midwest and New York.

Winnipeg has U.S. service to Minnesota and Chicago, and unofficial reports state she may receive Canadian routes to both areas plus routes to North Dakota.

Still under discussion, U.S. spokesmen state, are routes Toronto-San Francisco, Toronto-Houston-Dallas, Calgary-Dallas-Houston, Toronto-Denver-Las Vegas, Toronto-St. Louis and Montreal-San Juan, Puerto Rico.
